Managing Command And Control In The Persian Gulf War:

Managing Command and Control in the Persian Gulf War Thomas C. Hone, Mark D. Mandeles, Sanford S.

Terry, 1996-09-24 During Desert Shield the Air Force built a very complicated organizational architecture to control large numbers of air sorties During the air campaign itself officers at each level of the Central Command Air Forces believed they were managing the chaos of war Yet when the activities of the many significant participants are pieced together it appears that neither the planners nor Lt Gen Charles A Horner the Joint Force Air Component Commander knew the details of what was happening in the air campaign or how well the campaign was going There was little appreciation of the implications of complex organizational architectures for military command and control Against a smarter and more aggressive foe the system may well have failed Times of the Technoculture Kevin Robins, Frank Webster, 2003-09-02 Times of the

Technoculture explores the social and cultural impact of new technologies tracing the origins of the information society from the coming of the machine with the industrial revolution to the development of mass production techniques in the early twentieth century The authors look at how the military has controlled the development of the information society and consider the centrality of education in government attempts to create a knowledge society Engaging in contemporary debates surrounding the internet Robins and Webster question whether it can really offer us a new world of virtual communities and suggest more radical alternatives to the corporate agenda of contemporary technologies Coalition Air

Warfare in the Korean War, 1950-1953 Air Force Historical Foundation. Symposium, 2005 In commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Korean War the official history offices of the U S Army Navy Marine Corps and Air Force and their respective historical associations collaborated to sponsor as comprehensive a symposium as possible including as participants some of the coalition partners who contributed forces and weapons to the war The intent of this symposium titled Coalition Air Warfare during the Korean War 1950 1953 was to focus not only on the contributions made by the armed forces of the United States but also on those of America s allies The diverse group of panelists and speakers included not only scholars with subject matter expertise but also veteran soldiers sailors and airmen who had served in that conflict It was hoped that the melding of these diverse perspectives would provide interesting if sometimes conflicting views about the Korean War The symposium organizers designated an agenda of six specific panels for investigation including Planning and Operations Air Superiority Air Support of Ground Forces Air Interdiction and Bombardment Air Reconnaissance and Intelligence and Logistical Support of Air Operations Each session began with commentary by the panel chairman which was followed by formal papers and in some instances included a lively question and answer session The papers and most of the proceedings found their way into print and are recorded here in an effort to permanently capture the activities challenges contributions and heroics of the coalition air forces and the airmen who fought during the Korean conflict Waging War Patricia A. Weitsman, 2013-12-18 Military alliances provide constraints and opportunities for states seeking to advance their interests around the globe War from the Western perspective is not a solitary endeavor Partnerships of all types serve as a foundation for the projection of power and the employment of force These relationships among states provide the foundation upon which hegemony is built Waging War argues that these institutions of interstate violence not just the technology capability and level of professionalism and training of armed forces serve as ready mechanisms to employ force However these institutions are not always well designed and do not always augment fighting effectiveness as they could They sometimes serve as drags on state capacity At the same time the net benefit of having this web of partnerships agreements and alliances is remarkable It makes rapid response to crisis possible and facilitates countering threats wherever they emerge This book lays out which institutional arrangements lubricate states abilities to advance their agendas and prevail in wartime and which components of institutional arrangements undermine effectiveness and cohesion and increase costs to states Patricia Weitsman outlines what she calls a realist institutionalist agenda one that understands institutions as conduits of capability She demonstrates and tests the argument in five empirical chapters examining the cases of the first Gulf War Kosovo Afghanistan Iraq and Libya Each case has distinct lessons as well as important generalizations for contemporary multilateral warfighting

Strategic Air Power in Desert Storm John Andreas Olsen, 2013-11-05 In response to the Iraqi invasion of Kuwait on the second of August 1990 a small group of air power advocates in the Pentagon proposed a strategic air campaign Operation Desert Storm designed to drive the Iraqi army from Kuwait by a sustained effort against the major sources of Iraqi national power John Andreas Olsen provides a coherent and comprehensive examination of the origins evolution and implementation of this campaign His findings derive from official military and political documentation interviews with United States Air Force officers who were closely involved with the planning of the campaign and Iraqis with detailed knowledge and experience of the inner workings of the Iraqi regime

The War Lawyers Craig Jones, 2020-11-26 Over the last 20 years the world s most advanced militaries have invited a small number of military legal professionals into the heart of their targeting operations spaces which had previously been exclusively for generals and commanders These professionals trained and hired to give legal advice on an array of military operations have become known as war lawyers The War Lawyers examines the laws of war as applied by military lawyers to aerial targeting operations carried out by the US military in Iraq and Afghanistan and the Israel military in Gaza Drawing on interviews with military lawyers and others this book explains why some lawyers became integrated in the chain of command whereby military targets are identified and attacked whether by manned aircraft drones and or ground forces and with what results This book shows just how important law and military lawyers have become in the conduct of contemporary warfare and how it is understood Jones argues that circulations of law and policy between the US and Israel have bolstered targeting practices considered legally questionable contending that the involvement of war lawyers in targeting operations enables legitimises and sometimes even extends military violence

Coalition Management and Escalation Control in a Multinuclear World Jacquelyn Davis, Robert

Pfaltzgraff,2020-10-15 Coalition Management and Escalation Control in a Multinuclear World examines the impact of new technologies on twenty first century crisis management and armed conflict as well as the unprecedented number and types of actors involved in current and potential flash points The book s basic thesis is that new technologies are changing how wars are fought and providing a broadening range of escalation options Cyber weapons and artificial intelligence as well as social media blur traditional escalation thresholds with important consequences for deterrence Nuclear weapons possessors especially nations and powers new to their use may have differing strategies concerning how when why or where such weapons should be used either for purposes of deterrence or as actual warfighting instruments Today s global map differs drastically from all previous eras not only in the types and numbers of actors but also in the level of lethality as well as the range and accuracy of weapons available with which to threaten or actually conduct battle A world of Great Power competition together with non state armed groups contains risks for miscalculation including the possibility of catalytic warfare
