A Naturalist of Souls Gamaliel Bradford, 2017-10-12 Excerpt from A Naturalist of Souls Studies in Psychography But it is urged if the object is thus chronological completeness in what respect does psychography differ from biography Simply that biography is bound to present an elaborate sequence of dates events and circumstances of which some are vital to the analysis of the individual subject but many are merely required to make the narrative complete From this vast and necessary material of biography psychography selects only that which is indispensable for its particular purpose and as the accumulation of books becomes yearly greater and greater it seems as if this principle of condensation must become more and more pressing in its appeal About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
