Hegel and the Third World Teshale Tibebu, 2011-02-02 Hegel more than any other modern Western philosopher produced the most systematic case for the superiority of Western white Protestant bourgeois modernity He established a racially structured ladder of gradation of the peoples of the world putting Germanic people at the top of the racial pyramid people of Asia in the middle and Africans and Indigenous people of the Americas and Pacific Islands at the bottom In Hegel and the Third World Tibebu guides the reader through Hegel's presentation on universalism to argue that such a classification flows in part from Hegel's philosophy of the development of human consciousness Hegel classified Africans as people arrested at the lowest and most immediate stage of consciousness that of the senses Asians as people with divided consciousness that of the understanding and Europeans as people of reason Tibebu demonstrates that Hegel's views were not his alone but reflected the fundamental beliefs of other major figures of Western thought at the time With detailed analysis and thorough research Hegel and the Third World challenges the central idea of Hegel's philosophy of history progress In addition Tibebu succeeds in providing a fascinating critique of the Western philosopher's rationalization of the gradual decline suffered by the people of the Third World in the context of modern world history

Studies in Chinese Philosophy and Philosophical Literature Angus Charles Graham, 1990-01-01 Graham addresses several fundamental problems in classical Chinese philosophy and in the nature and structure of the classical Chinese language These inquiries and reflections are both broad based and detailed Two sources of continuity bring these seemingly disparate parts into a coherent and intelligible whole First Graham addresses that set of fundamental philosophical questions that have been the focus of dispute in the tradition and that have defined its character What is the nature of human nature What can we through linguistic and philosophical scrutiny discover about the date and composition of some of the major texts What sense can we make of the Kung sun Lung sophistries A second source of coherence is Graham s identification and articulation of those basic and often unconscious presuppositions that ground our own tradition By so doing he enables readers to break free from the limits of their own conceptual universe and to explore in the Chinese experience a profoundly different world view The Nature of Metaphysical Knowledge George F. McLean,Hugo Anthony Meynell,1988 The Nature of Classical Chinese Medicine (Book 1 of 2) David Nassim,2013-09 The Nature of Classical Chinese Medicine The foundational context to re unite myriad styles Book 1 of 2 Foundation and Constitution Energetic Anatomy and Physiology This book in two parts is an extensive research project into the original essence of Classical Han dynasty Chinese medicine It is an investigation to look at how medicine might have been understood and connected to from the origin of Taoist Non duality as expressed in the Tao Te Ching There are today myriad styles and approaches to energy medicine all over the world and even within Chinese medicine itself This book aims to connect to the unifying principle that is inclusive not exclusive and as such has the potential to unify all medicine This book attempts to clarify theoretical positions but with the key realization that Classical books were only pointers to instinctual health and the nature led healing that occurs when self and hierarchical egotism drop out Buddha Nature Sallie B. King,1991-01-22 This volume presents the first book length study in English of the concept of Buddha nature as discussed in the Buddha Nature Treatise Fo Xing Lun attributed to Vasubandhu and translated into Chinese by Paramartha in the sixth century The author provides a detailed discussion of one of the most important concepts in East Asian Buddhism a topic little addressed in Western studies of Buddhism until now and places the Buddha nature concept in the context of Buddhist intellectual history King then carefully explains the traditional Buddhist language in the text and embeds Buddha nature in a family of concepts and values which as a group are foundational to the development of the major indigenous schools of Chinese Buddhism In addition she refutes the accusations that the idea of Buddha nature introduces a crypto Atman into Buddhist thought and that it represents a form of monism akin to the Brahmanism of the Upanisads In doing this King defends Buddha nature in terms of purely Buddhist philosophical principles Finally the author engages the Buddha nature concept in dialogue with Western philosophy by asking what it teaches us about what a human being or person is Chinese Philosophy of Technology Qian Wang,2020-02-20 This book gathers essays that introduce the ideological advances in the philosophy of engineering and technology in contemporary China It particularly focuses on China s distinctive concepts and methods revealing different views and academic debates to offer readers a comprehensive overview of this important field The contributors present unique perspectives based on practical problems and traditional philosophy examining such issues and concepts as axiology and theories of process the difference between engineering activities and technology activities and the core of the relationship between Dao and Technique Other essays cover the ethics of technology practical wisdom phronesis and practical reasoning as well as creative concepts and methods concerning the philosophical problems in high technology architectural technology and technological innovation The authors also consider more general issues in the field This book compiles the relevant research achievements of Chinese scholars in various time periods Some authors have revised and translated into English papers published in Chinese while others present their research in English specifically for this study An annotated bibliography of the major publications in the field completes this collection

Introduction To Chinese Aesthetics Chunshi Yang, 2025-05-29 The purpose of this book is to systematize traditional Chinese aesthetic thought reveal its internal logic and carry out a dialogue with modern Western aesthetics so as to rebuild the Chinese aesthetic system Chinese aesthetics embodies the concept of inter subjectivity which has modern significance It is based on the idea of unity between heaven and humanity viewing aesthetic as the communication between the self subject and the world subject in contrast to the Western aesthetic epistemology that regards aesthetic as the sensory perception of the subject toward the object Additionally the methodology of intuitive perception is another characteristic of Chinese aesthetics that holds modern significance Chinese aesthetics emphasizes the emotionality of aesthetics from the perspective of value theory distinguishing itself from the epistemological tradition of Western aesthetics It differs from Western consciousness aesthetics as it embodies corporeality representing aesthetics of experience that integrates body and mind It posits that aesthetic is not purely a spiritual activity nor is it a form of contemplation but rather an experience that integrates body and mind and an idealized way of life Therefore aesthetic can nurture temperament and poeticize life Furthermore in Chinese aesthetics it is emphasized that aesthetics serves as a mode of experiencing the Way The Way is discovered through aesthetic intuition and emotional experiences and it is actualized through imagery thereby laying the groundwork for an aesthetic phenomenology The reinterpretation and reconstruction of Chinese aesthetics is a product of the dialogue between Chinese and Western aesthetics Since its publication this book has garnered widespread attention and acclaim from the academic community in China It embodies professor Yang's

Transcendental Aesthetic view with Inter subjectivity bridging ancient and modern perspectives and fostering communication between Chinese and Western Aesthetics
