Wildlife Review, 1959 Wildlife Abstracts U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 1954 Nature Magazine, 1959 An illustrated monthly with popular articles about nature. The Possessor and the Possessed Peter Kivy, 2008-10-01 The concept of genius intrigues us. Artistic geniuses have something other people don't have. In some cases, that something seems to be a remarkable kind of inspiration that permits the artist to exceed his own abilities. It is as if the artist is suddenly possessed as if some outside force flows through him at the moment of creation. In other cases, genius seems best explained as a natural gift. The artist is the possessor of an extra talent that enables the production of masterpiece after masterpiece. This book explores the concept of artistic genius and how it came to be symbolized by three great composers of the modern era: Handel, Mozart, and Beethoven. Peter Kivy, a leading thinker in musical aesthetics, delineates the two concepts of genius that were already well formed in the ancient world. Kivy then develops the argument that these concepts have alternately held sway in Western thought since the beginning of the eighteenth century. He explores why this pendulum swing from the concept of the possessor to the concept of the possessed has occurred and how the concepts were given philosophical reformulations as views toward Handel, Mozart, and Beethoven as geniuses changed in the eighteenth, nineteenth, and twentieth centuries. Vienna Tales Helen Constantine, 2014-11-13 Situated on the cusp of West and East, between the foothills of the Alps and the mighty Blue Danube, Vienna has long presented authors with a wealth of material for stories that entertain and intrigue. The city's famous quality of life and rich variety of cultural offerings is apparent here at every turn, but so too is its darker side, whether it be the Viennese obsession with death and decay or the dramatic tragic events of its twentieth-century history. In stories from the early to mid-nineteenth century, in particular, the city stands for wine, women, and song, for a laid-back, perhaps somewhat lax outlook on life that is invariably linked to its location as German culture's southernmost centre. In more recent tales, the theme of the good life and of Vienna's beauty continues, but there are very few authors who do not dwell on elements of darkness or melancholy. Indeed, from the mid-twentieth century onward, death itself seems to have become literature's preferred guide to the city. The collection concentrates on stories set at the city's margins.

The tales are arranged geographically rather than chronologically around and through the city from west to east and back again We begin and end with Arthur Schnitzler and Joseph Roth two authors already indelibly associated with Vienna but represented here by little known gems translated for the first time Other authors include stars of Vienna's nineteenth century feuilleton journalism Heinrich Laube Ferdinand Kürnberger Adalbert Stifter but also the most recent generation of Viennese writers Doron Rabinovici Eva Menasse Dimitr Dinev with tales as yet unknown in English Bookseller & Stationer and Office Equipment Journal, 1918 Catalog of Copyright Entries, Third Series, 1949 The record of each copyright registration listed in the Catalog includes a description of the work copyrighted and data relating to the copyright claim the name of the copyright claimant as given in the application for registration the copyright date the copyright registration number etc Columbia Dictionary of Modern European Literature Jean Albert Bédé, William Benbow Edgerton, 1980 With more than 1800 critical entries on the writers and literatures of 33 languages this work presents the entire range of modern European writing from the symbolist and modernist works rooted in the last decades of the nineteenth century through the avant garde and existentialist movement to Barthes Blanchot Breton and continental thought pertinent today The Cleveland Orchestra Story Donald Rosenberg, 2000 How did a late blooming midwestern orchestra rise amid gritty Big Industry to become a titan in the world of Big Art This groundbreaking book tells the complete story of the people and events that shaped the Cleveland Orchestra into a classical music legend It taps the most authoritative sources to show how decisions were made along the often bumpy road to artistic and financial success Told with plenty of anecdotes and intriguing behind the scenes details Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1949 Trees and Woodlands George Peterken, 2023-02-16 Features almost 300 colour photographs and brings together more than 60 years of research by a leading voice in British woodland ecology Trees define woodland They provide a complex multi layered habitat for a great range of wildlife yet they are wildlife themselves reacting to their circumstances and each other Woodlands are important to people supplying timber food and fuel accumulating carbon and offering places of refuge and refreshment But they are also under threat some stand in the way of progress and all are becoming increasingly vulnerable to neglect disease and climate change Trees and Woodlands brings together decades of research to explore the ecology nature conservation and wider cultural value of our native trees and shrubs and the various ways they have combined as woodland Incorporating personal experiences from 60 years as a forest ecologist Peterken describes the long history of use and management how this has influenced woodland wildlife and our art beliefs and social attitudes He concludes that most woods should be managed their timber and small wood being put to good use but recognises that this is all part of a larger question the future of ourselves Containing nearly 300 photographs and interspersed with box texts describing the history and ecology of representative woods across Britain this is a commentary on trees woodlands and our relationship with them from one of our most highly regarded forest ecologists AB Bookman's Weekly, 1992 THE INDIAN LISTENER All
