Crusader Art in the Holy Land, From the Third Crusade to the Fall of Acre Jaroslav Folda, 2005-09-05 Publisher Description

Jerusalem, 1000-1400 Barbara Drake Boehm, Melanie Holcomb, 2016-09-14 Medieval Jerusalem was a vibrant international center home to multiple cultures faiths and languages Harmonious and dissonant voices from many lands including Persians Turks Greeks Syrians Armenians Georgians Copts Ethiopians Indians and Europeans passed in the narrow streets of a city not much larger than midtown Manhattan Patrons artists pilgrims poets and scholars from Christian Jewish and Islamic traditions focused their attention on the Holy City endowing and enriching its sacred buildings creating luxury goods for its residents and praising its merits This artistic fertility was particularly in evidence between the eleventh and fourteenth centuries notwithstanding often devastating circumstances from the earthquake of 1033 to the fierce battles of the Crusades So strong a magnet was Jerusalem that it drew out the creative imagination of even those separated from it by great distance from as far north as Scandinavia to as far east as present day China This publication is the first to define these four centuries as a singularly creative moment in a singularly complex city Through absorbing essays and incisive discussions of nearly 200 works of art Jerusalem 1000 1400 Every People Under Heaven explores not only the meaning of the city to its many faiths and its importance as a destination for tourists and pilgrims but also the aesthetic strands that enhanced and enlivened the medieval city that served as the crossroads of the known world

The Crusades and Visual Culture Laura J Whatley, 2017-07-05 The crusades whether realized or merely planned had a profound impact on medieval and early modern societies Numerous scholars in the fields of history and literature have explored the influence of crusading ideas values aspirations and anxieties in both the Latin States and Europe However there have been few studies dedicated to investigating how the crusading movement influenced and was reflected in medieval visual cultures Written by scholars from around the world working in the domains of art history and history the essays in this volume examine the ways in which ideas of crusading were realized in a broad variety of media including manuscripts cartography sculpture mural paintings and metalwork Arguing implicitly for recognition of the conceptual frameworks of crusades that transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries the volume explores the pervasive influence and diverse expression of the crusading movement from the twelfth through the fifteenth centuries

Forms of the Goddess Lajj? Gaur? in Indian Art Carol Radcliffe Bolon, 2010-11-01 Striking images of a certain Indian goddess have been variously referred to as the shameless woman the nude squatting goddess the mother goddess or because her historical name remains unknown more than twenty five names among them Aditi Lajj Gaur Renuk and Nagna

Kabambdha The best known images of this goddess have a female torso and a lotus flower in place of a head while her legs are bent up at the knees and drawn up to each side in a position that has been described as one of giving birth or self display This type of goddess figure is explained as part of a long highly sophisticated tradition of expressing fertility and well being in Indian art The artists creating images of Lajj Gaur drew on various ancient symbols of fortune fertility and life force to communicate her power through their rich heritage of meanings As these historical religious symbols and images were constantly reused and reincorporated they formed a new and enriched religious context In the process of recycling they became empowered cultural metaphors visual morphemes in the language of Indian art Because there are no texts to explain the figure the study proceeds from the basis of the objects to derive their meaning Carol Bolon charts the changes in the goddess s form over a period of more than four centuries including its possible adoption from tribal worship into Hindu temples and brings a new appreciation of Lajj Gaur s rich symbolic meanings and cultural context The Proceedings

Rainbow Like an Emerald: Stained Glass in Lorraine in the Thirteenth and Early Fourteenth Centuries Meredith Parsons Lillich, 1991

Degas and the Business of Art, 1994 While it received a more positive response than other works exhibited, its success was with the conservative audience. After considerable difficulty, Degas finally succeeded in selling the painting in 1878 to the newly founded museum in the city of Pau. The painting was probably regarded as an appropriate homage to the old textile manufacturing family who funded its purchase. It also appealed to progressive provincial and more cosmopolitan audiences in Pau. The picture's scattered form and atomized figures, in which some interpreters today read evidence of the artist's own ambivalence about capitalism, seemingly contributed to its innovative cachet in Pau. But the private and public meanings of the painting had shifted in discontinuous fashion between its production and consumption. Under the circumstances, Degas's unfixed and even mixed messages about business became, among other things, his most successful if unwitting marketing strategy.

Envisioning Others: Race, Color, and the Visual in Iberia and Latin America, 2015-10-05 Envisioning Others offers a multidisciplinary view of the relationship between race and visual culture in the Spanish and Portuguese speaking world from the kingdoms of Spain and Portugal to colonial Peru and Colombia post Independence, Mexico, and the pre Emancipation United States. Contributed by specialists in Latin American and Iberian art history, literature history, and cultural studies, its ten chapters take a transnational view of what race meant and how visual culture supported and shaped this meaning within the Ibero American sphere from the late Middle Ages to the modern era. Case studies and regionally focused essays are balanced by historiographical and theoretical offerings for a fresh perspective that challenges the reader to discern broad intersections of race, color, and the visual throughout the Iberian world. Contributors are Beatriz Balanta, Charlene Villaseor, Black Larissa Brewer, García Ananda, Cohen Suarez, Elisa Foster, Grace Harpster, Ilona Katzew, Matilde Mateo, Mey Yen Moriuchi, and Erin Kathleen Rowe.
