Near East Since The First World War:

The Near East since the First World War Malcolm Yapp,2014-10-17 This clear balanced and authoritative survey of the history of the region is now fully up to date again The text contains a general regional introduction followed by a series of country by country analyses and a section which places the Near East in the international context Professor Yapp s new edition covers recent dramatic events including the end of the Cold War the Kuwait Crisis of 1990 91 and the continuing conflict in Israel as well as assessing the huge social and economic changes in the region It will be essential reading for students and scholars concerned with modern middle eastern history and politics of the middle east Imagining the Middle East Matthew F. Jacobs,2011-09-12 As its interests have become deeply tied to the Middle East the United States has long sought to develop a usable understanding of the people politics and cultures of the region In Imagining the Middle East Matthew Jacobs illuminates how Americans ideas and perspectives about the region have shaped justified and sustained U S cultural economic military and political involvement there Jacobs examines the ways in which an informal network of academic business government and media specialists interpreted and shared their perceptions of the Middle East from the end of World War I through the late 1960s During that period Jacobs argues members of this network imagined the Middle East as a region defined by certain common characteristics religion mass politics underdevelopment and an escalating Arab Israeli Palestinian conflict and as a place that might be transformed through U S involvement Thus the ways in which specialists and policymakers imagined the Middle East of the past or present came to justify policies designed to create an imagined Middle East of the future Jacobs demonstrates that an analysis of the intellectual roots of current politics and foreign policy is critical to comprehending the styles of U S engagement with the Middle East in a post 9 11 world

Eisenhower, Macmillan and the Problem of Nasser N. Ashton,1996-11-08 The years 1955 59 were a vital transitional period for the Anglo American relationship in the Middle East British and American leaders sought to protect cold war and oil interests in the region against the background of a renaissance of Arab nationalism personified by the Egyptian leader Nasser With the aid of extensive declassified official documentation this study traces the British and American responses to the Turco Iraqi Pact of 1955 the Suez crisis the Syrian crisis of 1957 the outbreak of civil strife in Lebanon and the Iraqi Revolution of 1958 It shows how the differing priorities of the two powers in the region promoted a patchwork of confrontation and cooperation over Middle Eastern questions For Britain this study reveals that it was the Iraqi Revolution rather than Suez which led to a redefinition of strategy in the region and a concentration on the defence of her oil interests in the Gulf State Power and Politics in the Making of the Modern Middle East Lecturer in the Recent Economic History of the Middle East and Fellow Roger Owen,Roger Owen,2002-04-12 Roger Owen has fully revised and updated his authoritative text to take into account the considerable developments in the Middle East in the 1990s State, Power and Politics in the Making of the Modern Middle East Roger Owen,2013-01-11 Roger Owen has fully revised and updated his

Islam, Orientalism and Intellectual History Mohammad R. Salama,2011-03-30 Debates on the relationship between Islam and the West rage on from talk of clashing civilizations to political pacification from ethical and historical perspectives to distrust xenophobia and fear Here Mohammad Salama argues that the events of 9 11 force us to engage ourselves fully without preconditions in understanding not just the history of Islam as a religion but of Islam as a historical condition that has existed in relationship to the West since the seventh century Salama compares the Arab Islamic and European traditions of historical thought since the early modern period focusing on the watershed moments that informed the two traditions ideas of intellectual history and perceptions of one another He draws attention to European intellectual history s entangled links with the Islamic philosophy of history especially the complexities of orientalism and modernity Recent critical reflections on the work of Ibn Khald n confirm this intertwined and troubled relationship reflecting major disparities and contradictions At the same time recent Arab writings on Europe s intellectual history reveal a struggle against erasure and intellectual superiority Calling for a new understanding of the relationship between Islam and the West Salama argues that Islam has played a major role in enabling and positioning various paths of Western historiography at crucial moments of its development leaving palpable imprints on Islamic historiography in the process He proposes an answer to a fundamental question how to make sense of the mechanics of production in Arab Islamic and Western historiographies or how to identify the ways in which they have both failed to make sense of themselves and of each other in an increasingly disenchanting postnationalist world Spanning an impressive array of recent writings on these themes as well as older foundational texts in both traditions including al Tabar Ibn Khald n Hegel al Jabart Toynbee Foucault Edward Said and Hourani this book is both timely and crucial for all those interested in Islamic and Middle Eastern studies Western and Islamic philosophies of history modernity and the relationship between Islam and the West

Austen Chamberlain and the Commitment to Europe Dr Richard S Grayson, Richard S. Grayson,2014-01-27 This is a study of Austen Chamberlain s term of office as Stanley Baldwin s Foreign Secretary from 1924 29 It is argued that Chamberlain s priority was a two stage policy in Western Europe which aimed at pacifying both France and Germany as well as encouraging the League of Nations
