Pacific Electric in Color P. Allen Copeland, 1999      Metropolitan Management, Transportation and Planning ,1923
Early Downtown Los Angeles Cory Stargel, Sarah Stargel, 2009 Growing south from the plaza where the city of Los Angeles was founded as a tiny pueblo in 1781 the area now known as downtown L A was first developed in the late 1800s as a residential neighborhood complete with churches and schools As the population surged at the turn of the 20th century the downtown area was transformed into a busy business and entertainment center of shops banks hotels and theaters The explosion of the postcard craze in the early 1900s coincided with this period of downtown s tremendous growth toward a formidable metropolis This collection of vintage postcards offers a glimpse into the changing city through the 1940s      The Signalman's Journal ,1950      Railway Signaling ,1929      Electrical Merchandising ,1914      Railway Signaling and Communications ,1922      Register of Planned Emergency Producers United States. There are few places where mobility has shaped identity as widely as the American West but some locations and populations sit at its major crossroads maintaining control over place and mobility labor and race In Collisions at the Crossroads Genevieve Carpio argues that mobility both permission to move freely and prohibitions on movement helped shape racial formation in the eastern suburbs of Los Angeles and the Inland Empire throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries By examining policies and forces as different as historical societies Indian boarding schools bicycle ordinances immigration policy incarceration traffic checkpoints and Route 66 heritage she shows how local authorities constructed a racial hierarchy by allowing some people to move freely while placing limits on the mobility of others Highlighting the ways people of color have negotiated their place within these systems Carpio reveals a compelling and perceptive analysis of spatial mobility through physical movement and residence      Electrical West ,1912      Journal of Electricity ,1918      Mount Lowe Michael A. Patris, Mount Lowe Preservation Society, 2010 Tucked away in Southern California s San Gabriel Mountains the Mount Lowe Railway was an internationally renowned tourist destination serving nearly four million passengers between 1893 and 1936 Few riders of The Railway to the Clouds are around to relate their experiences now but postcards and photographs remarkably reflect the history of this amazing attraction Virtually nothing of the once famous landmark remains on the mountain today except a few timeworn foundations and part of the original right of way which has become a hiking trail into the Angeles National Forest      Transit Journal ,1904      The Signal Engineer ,1916      Engineering Index ,1929
