Index of Conference Proceedings ,1994 Cooperative Security in Northeast Asia R. Mark Bean,1990 Relations among China Japan and South Korea as well as Soviet and American interests in Northeast Asia provide the basic material for this study Traces the historical relations through to the present Points out cultural links between Chinese Japanese and Koreans A reasoned balanced examination of relationships in a region whose future is increasingly important to America's own security Bibliography and index An Alternative Scenario for the Reunification of Korea Steve A. Fondacaro,1997 This paper predicts an alternate scenario to Korean reunification to those currently being discussed in and out of South Korea Much of what has been written discusses the demise of the present North Korean government along a spectrum of turbulence from gradual decay to violent implosion The predicted results also vary from peaceful absorption by the South Korean government to a war of desperation scenario precipitated by the decaying Northern regime in a last ditch effort to retain power This paper explores a scenario where the two Koreas end up as secondary players in the future of the Korean peninsula The primary regional actor to emerge will be China As the ascendant regional power China will shape events on the Korean Peninsula to fit its own future vision of Northeast Asia It is further proposed that this Chinese vision will seek to maintain the peaceful division of North and South Korea in the short term 10 to 20 years following the demise of the present North Korean government China is seen in this scenario as moving unilaterally on the basis of long standing agreements with North Korea into North Korea as the government implodes It is in the Chinese interest to prevent the uncontrolled rise of a new potentially powerful reunified Korean regional competitor Additionally China will seek to minimize United States influence in the region For obvious historical military and economic reasons the Japanese desire to maintain the geopolitical and economic status quo will cause them to play a supporting role in the Chinese effort This move together with its predictable control of the Spratly Islands oil and natural gas reserves an already powerful military and rapidly growing economy will put China in a position to much more effectively influence the future of the region ANZUS in revision : changing defense features... , APAIS, Australian Public Affairs Information Service ,1991 Vol for 1963 includes section Current Australian serials a subject list New Acquisitions for ... United States.
