Voices of the Asian American and Pacific Islander Experience Sang Chi, Emily Moberg Robinson, 2012-02-13 This unique work presents an extraordinary breadth of contemporary and historical views on Asian America and Pacific Islanders conveyed through the voices of the men and women who lived these experiences over more than 150 years In 1848 the First Wave of Asian immigration arrived in the United States By the first decade of the 21st century Asian Americans were the nation s fastest growing racial group Through a far ranging array of primary source documents Voices of the Asian American and Pacific Islander Experience shares what it was like for these diverse peoples to live and work in the United States for better and for worse Organized chronologically by ethnicity the book covers a panoply of ethnic groups including recent Asian immigrants and mixed race mixed heritage Asian Americans There is also a topical section that showcases views on everything from politics to class to gender dynamics underscoring that the Asian American population is not nor has it ever been monolithic In choosing material the editors strove to make the volume as comprehensive as possible Thus readers will discover documents written by transnational adopted and homosexual Asian Americans as well as documents written from particular religious positions

Serials in the British Library ,2008 Ethnicity and the American Short Story Julie Brown, 2013-05-13 How do different ethnic groups approach the short story form Do different groups develop culture related themes Do oral traditions within a particular culture shape the way in which written stories are told Why does the community loom so large in ethnic stories How do such traditional forms as African American slave narratives or the Chinese talk story shape the modern short story Which writers of color should be added to the canon Why have some minority writers been ignored for such a long time How does a person of color write for white publishers editors and readers Each essay in this collection of original studies addresses these questions and other related concerns It is common knowledge that most scholarly work on the short story has been on white writers This collection is the first work to specifically focus on short story practice by ethnic minorities in America ranging from African Americans to Native Americans Chinese Americans to Hispanic Americans The number of women writers discussed will be of particular interest to women studies and genre studies researchers and the collections will be of vital interest to scholars working in American literature narrative theory and multicultural studies

A major new examination of the Indian Ocean revealing how the region has become a hotly contested geopolitical flashpoint Throughout history the Indian Ocean has been an essential space for trade commerce and culture Every European power has sought to dominate it Now after a lull in the postwar period control of major shipping routes has once again become a critical aspect of every rising state s ambition to be a global power Darshana M Baruah shows how governments from Washington DC to Nairobi and Canberra are expanding their interests in the region The Indian Ocean is resource rich strategically placed and home to over two billion people Island nations have become more important than ever with Madagascar forming ties with Russia and the Comoros with Saudi Arabia It is also through the region that China engages with Africa and the Middle East This is a compelling account of the geopolitical significance of the Indian Ocean showing how the region has taken centre stage in a new global contest Resources in Education ,1997 Mission Studies ,1907 The Pacific Rural Press ,1915 Life Lines Jean Leslie Bacon,1996 Bacon s study centers upon the engrossing portraits of five immigrant families each one a complex tapestry woven from the distinctive voices of family members Attended by extensive field work among community organizations and analysis of ethnic media Bacon exposes the interplay between the dense social interactions of family life the primary locus of the experience of Indianness and the stylized rhetoric of Indianness that emanates from the world of voluntary associations and the ethnic press This inventive analysis suggests that the process of assimilation which these families undergo parallels that experienced by anyone who conceives of him or herself as a member of a distinctive community in search of a place in American society Musical Courier and Review of Recorded Music ,1921 Pacific Coast Musical Review ,1916
