Painting In Europe 800-1200:

The Pictorial Arts of the West, 800-1200 Charles Reginald Dodwell, 1993-01-01 Between the ninth and thirteenth centuries the Western world witnessed a glorious flowering of the pictorial arts. In this lavishly illustrated book C. R. Dodwell provides a comprehensive guide to all forms of this art from wall and panel paintings to stained glass windows, mosaics and embroidery and sets them against the historical and theological influences of the age. Dodwell describes the rise and development of some of the great styles of the Middle Ages: Carolingian art which ranged from the splendid illuminations appropriate to an emperor's court to drawings of great delicacy; Anglo-Saxon art which had a rare vitality and finesse; Ottonian art with its political and spiritual messages; the colorful Mozarabic art of Spain which had added vigor through its interaction with the barbaric Visigoths; and the art of Italy influenced by the styles of Byzantium and the West. Dodwell concludes with an examination of the universal Romanesque style of the twelfth century that extended from the Scandinavian countries in the north to Jerusalem in the south. His book, which includes the first exhaustive discussion of the painters and craftsmen of the time, incorporates the latest research and is filled with new ideas about the relations among the arts, history and theology of the period. It will be an invaluable resource for both art historians and students of the Middle Ages.

Monasticism in North-Western Europe, 800-1200 Tore Nyberg, 2018-12-20 This title was first published in 2000. This is a full-scale integrated synthesis of the origins, spread and effects of monasticism in Scandinavia and along the shores of the Baltic and the North Sea. Beginning with a review of the geography and communications by land and especially by sea of the region, the author goes on to describe early monasticism among the Frisians, Saxons and the Danes, then in Norway and Sweden, Saxony, Schleswig and Ribe, and finally Pomerania and the southern and eastern Baltic littoral. Throughout the book he stresses the place of abbeys and convents within their local surroundings as centres of conversion, recruitment and redistribution of wealth. He traces the intellectual, literary and liturgical connections between monastic centres and neighbouring cathedral towns and royal strongholds and the means by which orders or congregations maintained discipline from the centre. He also describes the leaders who emerged from convent, abbey or congregation to command local and regional political and cultural life and the ways in which monastic centres influenced popular devotion. Prehistoric Art in Europe Nancy K. Sandars, 1985 Until around 10,000 B.C. art in Europe appears to have been in advance of the rest of the world and throws a valuable, if intermittent, light on the total history of early man. The great masterpieces of cave painting at Lascaux are well known and one tradition of early sculpture is from the first surprisingly classical. With the shelter paintings of the Spanish Levant and the clay modelling and painted pottery of eastern Europe in the fourth and third millennia B.C. fresh artistic problems were tackled. Later still evolved the high technical accomplishment of the metal workers and this masterly study concludes with an account of the original and exciting new departures of Celtic La Tène art of the last four centuries B.C. BOOK COVER Painting in Italy, 1500-1600 Sydney Joseph Freedberg, 1975 Medieval Art Gale R.
