Prospects For People With Severe Learning Difficulties:

Prospects for People with Learning Difficulties Stanley Segal, Ved Varma, 2018-09-03 First published in 1991 This work published in honour of Professor Peter Mittler is concerned with the prospects for people with severe learning difficulties and how they have developed since the 1960s The internationally known team of contributors provide not only an overview of the developments in their fields but also speculate on future developments both positive and negative People with Profound & Multiple Learning Disabilities Penny Lacey, Carol Oyvry, 2013-11-26 First Published in 1999 This book is designed to be useful to practitioners working with children and adults with profound and multiple learning disabilities PMLD It was born out of a need for a practically based text book for participants on a course devoted to the study of PMLD but became a project to provide discussion of interest to anyone wishing to reflect on their work in this field It is hoped that the nineteen chapters in this book will provide a broad ranging resource for practitioners who work with children and or adults with PMLD in education health social care and voluntary settings and for those studying on advanced courses Adults With Learning Difficulties Sutcliffe, Jeannie, 1990-11-01 This is a practical handbook for all those who wish to offer high quality learning opportunities to adults with learning difficulties It stresses the quality of provision throughout and is illustrated by many examples of good practice from all areas of curriculum and delivery The importance of the widest possible range of learning opportunities is also emphasized and providers are urged to go beyond the limited menu of basic and social skills For too long education has been a process done to rather than with this group of learners This book advocates a learner centred approach based on choice and decision making by people with learning difficulties Overcoming Exclusion Peter J. Mittler, 2013 Professor Peter Mittler brings together nineteen of his key writings in one place including chapters from his best selling books and articles from leading journals which give a flavour of the impact or controversy they aroused

Problem Behaviour and People with Severe Learning Disabilities JOHN CLEMENTS EWA ZARKOWSKA, 2013-11-27

Problem Behaviour and People with Severe Learning Disabilities Ewa Zarkowska, John Clements, 2018-09-03 First published in 1994 This book is a practical guide for those involved in the daily care education and development of people with learning disabilities and additional behavioural and emotional disturbances It will assist professional helpers in understanding the nature of an individual's difficulties and in developing interventions aimed at alleviating them

Enabling Access Barry Carpenter, Chris Stevens, Keith Bovair, Rob Ashdown, 2014-04-08 First Published in 1997 In special education we are at last in a good position to offer pupils a broad and balanced curriculum which is relevant to their needs and which is based on the same range of provision enjoyed by all pupils Such a curriculum can only be planned as a cohesive whole compartmentalizing aspects of the whole curriculum risks seeing one part as having more merit or worth than another The whole curriculum in all schools will vary depending on local needs and opportunities In special education it is important that we embrace that whole curriculum using its diversity and opportunity to plan for breadth balance and relevance This book makes a significant contribution to the developments in planning for access to the whole curriculum

Educating Children with Fragile X Syndrome Denise Dew-Hughes, 2003-12-16 This book provides invaluable information support and guidance on educating a child with Fragile X background on the origins of this syndrome and what the implications are for such a child's teaching and learning

Creating a Responsive Environment for People with Profound and Multiple Learning Difficulties Jean Ware, 2012-10-12 This revised and updated second edition aims to enable teachers and care staff working with people with PMLD in any context to create a positive interactive environment for the people with whom they work Using information from the latest research and from everyday practice the author discusses the different aspects of a responsive environment and suggests practical strategies that staff can use to create such an atmosphere

Severe Learning Disabilities John Clements, 1987-12-31 Examines the way psychology can be used to understand and remedy the learning and behavioral difficulties experienced by people with severe intellectual impairment and learning disabilities The author draws from a wide range of psychological research both academic and applied and commends the value of research to improvements in practice He stresses the need to integrate diverse areas of psychological research bridging the gap between research and practice

Services for People with Learning Disabilities Nigel Malin, 2002-11-01 Services for People with Learning Disabilities provides a broad review of available services for people with learning disabilities It describes the present network of services and explains the NHS and Community Care Act 1990 in terminology accessible to health care professionals and others engaged in this area It looks in detail at the concepts underpinning new legislation including care management and assessment quality and inspection and inter agency planning and it supplies up to date information on current topics such as advocacy and empowerment and recreation and leisure An invaluable resource for all practitioners in health and community care Services for People with Learning Disabilities will also give professionals and carers a much greater understanding of the changes and improvements that are still needed

Making Leisure Provision for People with Profound Learning and Multiple Disabilities James Hogg, J. Cavet, 2013-11-11

Thinking Globally Acting Locally Peter Mittler, 2010 This unusual book is more than just the memoir of a distinguished career It is a history of the twentieth century reflected in the life and work of one individual It begins in 1938 with a year in the life of an eight year old Viennese Jewish boy as he experiences the worst and best of humanity from Nazi persecution to rescue by strangers through the Kindertransports It tells of his encounters with an English schooling system at its worst and best and of his formative years But this is not a story of one person's liberation

That little refugee boy grew up to contribute to the liberation of hundreds of thousands of people world wide Influenced by his own early experiences Peter Mittler has spent a lifetime committed to the human rights of people with intellectual disabilities From their liberation from the big institutions left over from the nineteenth century to their inclusion in shaping the 2008 United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities it tells the story of a dynamic and powerful human rights movement It is perhaps the last great untold story the story of how persons with intellectual disabilities finally gained the right to respect value and autonomy and of the long struggle for schooling access to work and their own front door key This memoir weaves professional memories and accounts of collaboration across the global village with anecdotes and travellers tales to reflect a global perspective from someone who was there at every twist and turn working with families teachers researchers governments and self advocates for over 60 years to influence legislation and drive lasting reform

EXTRACTS FROM BOOK REVIEWS Dame Phillipa Russell from foreword Socrates is reputed to have said that each generation produces a very small number of hero innovators who change the way in which society values its citizens For me and for many others Peter Mittler is indeed one of those hero innovators radically changing both national and international attitudes towards people with intellectual and other disabilities and their families Duncan Mitchell British Journal of Learning Disabilities Peter Mittler is one of the giants of learning disability in the second half of the twentieth century It is rare to find such a wonderfully understated page turner Ingrid Lunt Journal of Research in Special Educational Needs The book succeeds in going far beyond an autobiography is easy to read and carries the reader through with the strong narrative Paul Williams Community Living What an incredibly full and constructive life The book is very well written and highly readable David Mitchell International Journal of Disability Development and Education Peter Mittler has the happy knack of being able to synthesise disparate material in an interesting manner with an eye to the broader philosophical context This book is a fitting summation of one man s personal journey to address inequalities particularly as they apply to those among us who have disabilities Chris Cullen History of Psychology and Philosophy This is a fascinating book which chronicles the life journey of Peter Mittler a leading exponent of evidence based services and social inclusion for people with intellectual impairments More than this though it is a history of the slow and often halting progress which has been made in the United Kingdom and throughout the

Learning Disability Grant, Gordon, Ramcharan, Paul, Flynn, Margaret, 2010-05-01 Learning Disability uses a life cycle approach to show how those with learning disabilities can be helped most at different stages in their lives

Educational Provision for Children with Autism and Asperger Syndrome Glenys Jones, 2013-04-15 The range of educational options available to a child with Autism and Asperger syndrome is broad but choosing the right path can often be a complex task for all involved This book provides information and advice for professionals and parents making crucial decisions about meeting the needs of children with autistic spectrum disorder It covers the range of intellectual ability from those having severe learning difficulties to those of above average intelligence Practical advice for those working with children from preschool to post 16 is given on choosing the most appropriate educational placement making decisions on which educational interventions to follow creating an effective educational environment working with staff and other children to maximum effect writing effective individual education plans working with parents and families enabling a smooth transition between classes and stages of education and life beyond school Improving Work Opportunities for People with a Learning Disability Great Britain. Working Group on Learning Disabilities,2006 Long-Term Forensic Psychiatric Care Birgit Völlm,Peter Braun,2019-05-16 This book provides an overview of forensic psychiatry focusing on the provision of care in Europe as well as the legal and ethical challenges posed by long term stays in forensic settings Forensic psychiatric services provide care and treatment for mentally disordered offenders MDOs in secure in patient facilities as well as in the community These services are high cost low volume services they pose significant restrictions on patients and hence raise considerable ethical challenges There is no agreed upon standard for length of stay LoS in secure settings and patients detainment periods vary considerably across countries and even within the same jurisdiction Thus far little research has been conducted to identify factors associated with length of stay consequently it remains unclear how services should be configured to meet the needs of this patient group This volume fills some of those gaps Furthermore it presents new research on factors associated with length of stay both patient related and organisational Various approaches to the provision of care for long term patients in different countries are explored including a few best practise examples in this specific area of psychiatry The book also addresses the perspective of those working in forensic care by reviewing quality of life research and interviews with patients The authors of this volume come from a range of professional backgrounds ensuring a certain breadth and depth in the topic discussion and even includes patients themselves as co authors
