Prosthetic Impulse:

The Prosthetic Impulse Marquard Smith, Joanne Morra, 2006 Where does the body end Exploring the material and metaphorical borderline between flesh and its accompanying technologies The Prosthetic Pedagogy of Art Charles R. Garoian, 2013-02-01 Uses autobiographical and cultural narratives related to art research and practice to explore experiment and improvise multiple correspondences between and among learners own lived experiences and understandings and those of others The Prosthetic Arts of Moby-Dick David Haven Blake, 2024-12-13 The Prosthetic Arts of Moby Dick offers the first book length study of how physical disability shapes one of the world s most iconic novels Rather than see Ahab s lost limb as a deficiency however it explores the way that his prosthesis becomes both a means to power and a key figure for understanding the role that Islamic cultures play in the novel s plot and form Prosthetic Body Parts in

Nineteenth-Century Literature and Culture Ryan Sweet, 2021-12-03 This open access book investigates imaginaries of artificial limbs eyes hair and teeth in British and American literary and cultural sources from the nineteenth and early twentieth century Prosthetic Body Parts in Nineteenth Century Literature and Culture shows how depictions of prostheses complicated the contemporary bodily status quo which increasingly demanded an appearance of physical wholeness Revealing how representations of the prostheticized body were inflected significantly by factors such as social class gender and age Prosthetic Body Parts in Nineteenth Century Literature and Culture argues that nineteenth century prosthesis narratives though presented in a predominantly ableist and sometimes disablist manner challenged the dominance of physical completeness as they questioned the logic of prostheticization or presented non normative subjects in threateningly powerful ways Considering texts by authors including Charles Dickens Edgar Allan Poe and Arthur Conan Doyle alongside various cultural medical and commercial materials this book provides an important reappraisal of historical attitudes to not only prostheses but also concepts of physical normalcy and difference Wearable Objects and Curative Things Dawn

Woolley, Fiona Johnstone, Ellen Sampson, Paula Chambers, 2023-11-28 This book explores the intersections between wearable objects and human health with particular emphasis on how artists and designers are creatively responding to and rethinking these relations Addressing a rich range of wearable artefacts from mobility aids and prosthetics to clothing and accessories to digital health tracking devices its themes include care and cure wellness culture and the commoditization of health and the complex interactions between human bodies and non human objects With a theoretical framework inspired by the work of materialist thinkers including Sherry Turkle Bruno Latour and Jane Bennett and bringing the disciplinary fields of fashion studies art and design practice and medical and health humanities into dialogue for the first time this volume draws attention to the complex agencies entangled in the things we wear and situates fashion and art in relation to broader cultural and historical contexts of health illness and disability Envisioning Voice and the Aphasic Ears D Venkat Rao, 2025-04-30 This book explores the possibility of using Sanskrit as a basis for rethinking human thought and reflection challenging the dominance of European intellectual traditions Sanskrit with its vast historical spread across Central South and Southeast Asia as well as Europe offers a unique reflective idiom that contrasts with the European conceptual frameworks that still dominate contemporary thinking in areas such as language art reason justice and politics The book argues that European thinkers despite acknowledging a shared linguistic root with Sanskrit Indo European have followed a very different intellectual path one that has historically been violent and continues to fuel contemporary conflicts In contrast Sanskrit s long history of coexistence with diverse languages cultures and polities offers alternative possibilities for understanding justice and coexistence in today s globalized world By comparing the reflective traditions of Sanskrit with European philosophical and linguistic categories the book seeks to demonstrate how Sanskrit offers a more inclusive less confrontational model for engaging with the world The book engages with Sanskrit texts European philosophers and language theorists to substantiate its claims It argues that such a cross cultural examination which brings together the reflective traditions of both heritages is necessary for a new kind of intellectual inquiry one that moves beyond the entrenched paradigms of European thought and opens up new possibilities for coexistence and understanding

Contemporary Literature and the Body Alice Hall,2023-09-21 Contemporary Literature and the Body a Critical Introduction introduces readers to key theorists and shifting critical trends in the field from 1940 to the present and examines these in relation to close readings of texts from a range of different genres It argues that scholarship on literature and the body is of fundamental importance to discussions about gender race sexuality class age narrative form and processes of reading and writing Contemporary Literature and the Body a Critical Introduction understands literature in a broad sense as fundamentally connected to changes in technology culture and the environment Offering a lively and accessible synthesis it explores how literary writing of present and recent decades is concerned with the challenges of conveying physical experiences experimenting with sensory perception and thinking through the relationship between embodiment identity and knowledge

Experimental Fashion Francesca Granata,2017-02-23 Shortlisted for the Millia Davenport Publication Award Experimental Fashion traces the proliferation of the grotesque and carnivalesque within contemporary fashion and the close relation between fashion and performance art from Lady Gaga s raw meat dress to Leigh Bowery s performance style The book examines the designers and performance artists at the turn of the twenty first century whose work challenges established codes of what represents the fashionable body These innovative people the book argues make their challenges through dynamic strategies of parody humour and inversion It explores the experimental work of modern designers such as Georgina Godley Bernhard Willhelm Rei Kawakubo and fashion designer performance artist and club figure Leigh Bowery It also discusses the increased centrality of experimental fashion through the pop phenomenon Lady Gaga

Architectures of Security Benjamin J. Muller,Can E. Mutlu,2024-11-19 Architectures of Security Design Control Mobility examines the relationship between architecture security and technology focusing on the way these factors mutually constitute a ferocious architecture an architecture aesthetic or design that is violent forcing the performances and practices of sovereign power and neoliberalism The text provides examples from urban spaces in both the global north and south which discipline the mobility and movement of populations as well as reinforce socioeconomic cleavages From borders and borderlands to airports museums and public buildings the authors portray often inhumane examples of sovereign power Posthumanism in Practice Christine Daigle, Matthew Hayler, 2023-01-12 Problematic assumptions which see humans as special and easily defined as standing apart from animals plants and microbiota both consciously and unconsciously underpin scientific investigation arts practice curation education and research across the social sciences and humanities This is the case particularly in those traditions emerging from European and Enlightenment philosophies Posthumanism disrupts these traditional humanist outlooks and interrogates their profound shaping of how we see ourselves our place in the world and our role in its protection In Posthumanism in Practice artists researchers educators and curators set out how they have developed and responded to posthumanist ideas across their work in the arts sciences and humanities and provide examples and insights to support the exploration of posthumanism in how we can think create and live In capturing these ideas Posthumanism in Practice shows how posthumanist thought can move beyond theory inform action and produce new artefacts effects and methods that are more relevant and more useful for the incoming realities for all life in the 21st century

Surgery and Selfhood in Early Modern England Alanna Skuse, 2021-02-18 Offering an innovative perspective on early modern debates concerning embodiment Alanna Skuse examines diverse kinds of surgical alteration from mastectomy to castration and amputation to facial reconstruction Body altering surgeries had profound socio economic and philosophical consequences They reached beyond the physical self and prompted early modern authors to develop searching questions about the nature of body integrity and its relationship to the soul was the body a part of one's identity or a mere prison for the mind How was the body connected to personal morality What happened to the altered body after death Drawing on a wide variety of texts including medical treatises plays poems newspaper reports and travel writings this volume will argue the answers to these questions were flexible divergent and often surprising and helped to shape early modern thoughts on philosophy literature and the natural sciences This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core New pilgrimage Investigations range from the twelfth to the fifteenth centuries and from England to the Holy Land Chr tien de Troyes s Le chevalier de la charrette and Geoffrey Chaucer s Friar s Tale are examined in new ways and with new conclusions for their engagements with technologies of embodiment and the hermeneutics of bodily contact La amon s Brut is shown to bring the expectations of monastic historiography into the vernacular while Reginald Pecock s radical and sophisticated vernacular theology is explicated in all its dangerous heterodoxy Multiple narratives converge and are occluded at the Cave of the Patriarchs in Hebron Albert the Great experiments with animals and reorients humans in the natural world Alain Chartier strives to build a united French state Finally domestic familial and civic bonds of obligation emerge in the shared textual communities of anonymous late medieval confessional forms CONTRIBUTORS ROBYN A BARTLETT KANTIK GHOSH AYLIN MALCOLM ALASTAIR MINNIS LUKE SUNDERLAND JAMIE K TAYLOR HANNAH WEAVER LUCAS WOOD

Medial Bodies between Fiction and Faction Denisa Butnaru,2020-06-03 In the past decades developments in the fields of medicine new media and biotechnologies challenged many representations and practices questioning the understanding of our corporeal limits Using concrete examples from literary fiction media studies philosophy performance arts and social sciences this collection underlines how bodily models and transformations thought until recently to be only fictional products have become a part of our reality The essays provide a spectrum of perspectives on how the body emerges as a transitional environment between fictional and factual elements a process understood as faction Victorian legs Clayton

Tarr,2025-09-02 Victorian legs is about the science sometimes spurious and sexuality often frivolous of legs during the Victorian period The book argues that legs occupy a particularly vexed position in Victorian culture Strong legs formed the foundation or the columns of the civilized subject but the politics of who could show their legs remained gendered For the most part men exhibited and admired while women concealed and demurred This book not only joins and advances the lively critical discourse on the Victorian body but also marks new paths to pursue While legs made us human they could also dehumanize

Making Media Theory Marcel O'Gorman,2020-10-29 Making Media Theory is about the study practice and hands on design of media theory It looks at experimental research methods and engages in media analysis inviting readers to respond to and shape the materiality of media while carefully considering the implications of living in a technoculture The author walks readers through the creation of digital objects to think with where critical design practices serve as tools for exploring social and philosophical issues related to technological being and becoming Human Enhancement Technologies and Our Merger with Machines Woodrow Barfield,Sayoko Blodgett-Ford,2021-06-15 A cross disciplinary approach is offered to consider the challenge of emerging technologies designed to enhance human bodies and minds Perspectives from philosophy ethics law and policy are applied to a wide variety of enhancements including integration of technology within human bodies as well as genetic biological and pharmacological modifications Humans may be permanently or temporarily enhanced with artificial parts by manipulating or reprogramming human DNA and through other enhancement techniques and combinations thereof We are on the cusp of significantly modifying and perhaps improving the human ecosystem This evolution necessitates a continuing effort to re evaluate current laws and if appropriate to modify such laws or develop new laws that address enhancement technology A legal ethical and policy response to current and future human enhancements should strive to protect the rights of all involved and to recognize the responsibilities of humans to other conscious and living beings regardless of what they look like or what abilities they have or lack A potential ethical approach is outlined in which rights and responsibilities should be respected even if enhanced humans are perceived by non enhanced or less enhanced humans as no longer human at all

The Replaceability Paradigm Niall Martin, Ilios Willemars, 2024-06-04 The trope of humans being replaced by AI is one of the most familiar examples of the rhetoric of replaceability. Not only have questions about what is unique and what is replaceable gained momentum in digital culture, but notions of fungibility have emerged in many other contexts as well, such as ecology, management theory, and more sinisterly in racist and conspiracist thinking. This volume argues that there is a replaceability paradigm at work throughout the culture of modernity, from the European Renaissance through Freudian psychoanalysis, Chinese science fiction, and postcolonial theory, all the way to neural network programs such as Google's DeepDream. This collection will be of interest to anybody engaged with the conceptual architecture of contemporary culture, whether through film, literature, or new digital media.

Prosthesis in Medieval and Early Modern Culture Chloe Porter, Katie L. Walter, Margaret Healy, 2018-12-07 Prosthesis denotes a rhetorical addition to a pre-existing beginning, a replacement for that which is defective or absent, a technological mode of correction that reveals a history of corporeal and psychic discontent. Recent scholarship has given weight to these multiple meanings of prosthesis as tools of analysis for literary and cultural criticism. The study of pre-modern prosthesis, however, often registers as an absence in contemporary critical discourse. This collection seeks to redress this omission, reconsidering the history of prosthesis and its implications for contemporary critical responses to and uses of it. The book demonstrates the significance of notions of prosthesis in medieval and early modern theological debate, Reformation controversy, and medical discourse and practice. It also tracks its importance for imaginings of community and of the relationship of self and other as performed on the stage, expressed in poetry, charms, exemplary and devotional literature, and as fought over in the documents of religious and cultural change. Interdisciplinary in nature, the book engages with contemporary critical and cultural theory and philosophy, genre theory, literary history, disability studies, and medical humanities, establishing prosthesis as a richly productive analytical tool in the pre-modern as well as the modern context. This book was originally published as a special issue of the Textual Practice journal.
