Protocol Additional to the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949, and Relating to the Protection of Victims of International Armed Conflicts (Protocol I). ,2002 Protocol Additional to the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949, and Relating to the Protection of Victims of Non-International Armed Conflicts (Protocol II). ,2002

Protocols Additional to the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949 ,2010 Extradition, Politics, and Human Rights Christopher H. Pyle,2001 Three hundred years ago few people cared about the murky past of new arrivals to the United States and the countries they had left made few efforts to pursue them to their new home Today with the growth of bureaucracy telecommunications and air travel extradition has become a full time business But the public s knowledge of and consequent concern about extradition remains minimal aroused from time to time by newspaper headlines only to fade In this readable and compelling history of extradition in America Christopher Pyle remedies that ignorance Using American constitutional law and drawing on a wealth of historical cases he describes the collision of law and politics that occurs when a foreign country demands the surrender of individuals held to be terrorists by some and freedom fighters by others He shows how U S policymakers have attempted to substitute deportation for extradition and turn the surrender of a foreign national or even an American citizen into a political rather than a judicial process Beginning with the New England Puritans refusal to surrender to the regicides who had signed the death warrant of King Charles I he traces the attitudes and ideologies that have shaped American extradition practice culminating in the efforts by the Reagan and Bush administrations to turn the legal extradition process into an executive tool of state policy Along the way we meet such legal luminaries as James Madison and John Stuart Mill William Rehnquist and Oliver North as well as pirates and fugitive slaves anarchists and refugees drug lords and runaway sailors Woven throughout this story is the author s belief that current developments in extradition law ignore or actually violate the principles of individual liberty due process and humanity on which we claim our country was built As he remarks in the Introduction Extradition involves the surrender of human beings persons under the protection of our Constitution to foreign regimes many of which are unjust This reality was well understood in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries when the United States was a refuge for the victims of European oppression but it has been disregarded frequently in the twentieth century as we have sought to stem the tide of immigration and develop advantageous economic and political relations with autocratic regimes of every stripe Author note Christopher H Pyle is Professor of Politics at Mount Holyoke College He is the author of several books and Congressional reports and has frequently testified before Congress on the subject of extradition and deportation Protocol Additional to the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949 ,1977 Documents on the Law of UN Peace Operations Bruce Oswald,Helen Durham,Adrian Bates,2019-06-20 Since the first edition of this book was published in 2010 United Nations peace operations have evolved significantly In the Democratic Republic of the Congo Central African Republic and South Sudan UN peacekeepers are now engaged in building peace by fighting non State armed actors and must consider issues concerning the application of law and policy governing the use of armed force when protecting civilians In addition the UN and its peacekeepers are increasingly being held to higher standards of accountability to ensure that their engagement with local forces and populations meets normative requirements found in international humanitarian law and international human rights law This extensively revised edition of Documents on the Law of UN Peace Operations addresses the key normative principles rules and standards that have been a part of this evolution The book provides essential documents accompanied with commentary which identify and explain the legal framework or applicable legal norms involved in the planning management and conduct of UN peace operations Topics covered include obligations under international humanitarian law human rights law international criminal law and privileges and immunities Special attention is also paid to matters such as accountability the rule of law and the protection of civilians

The UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Ilias Bantekas, Michael Ashley Stein, Dimitris Anastasiou, 2018-10-25 This treatise is a detailed article by article examination of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities CRPD Each article of the CRPD contains a methodical analysis of the preparatory works followed by an exhaustive examination of the contents of each article based on case law and concluding observations from the CRPD Committee judgments from national and international courts and tribunals pertinent UN and other reports the key literature on the article under review The volume features commentary from a broad range of scholars across a variety of disciplines in order to provide a comprehensive study of the legal psychological education sociological and other aspects of the CPRD This encyclopaedic commentary on the CRPD effectively covers all the issues arising from international disability law and practice and will be an ideal resource for all working in the field

Protocol Additional to the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949 (II) ,2009 New War Technologies and International Law Kobi Leins, 2022-02-03 This book analyses how existing international law limits the use of means of warfare utilising the properties of nanomaterials

Governing food security Irene Hadiprayitno, Otto Hospes, 2023-09-04 With only five years left until the 2015 deadline to achieve the Millennium Development Goals food security still is a dream rather than reality a situation that exists when all people at all times have physical and economic access to sufficient safe and nutritious food to meet their dietary needs and food preferences for an active and healthy life Political commitments at world summits on food security market based agricultural policies science based food safety regulation and voluntary guidelines on the right to food have not ended hunger malnourishment or food safety crises in our world The question arises whether food insecurity is a situation that exists in spite of these commitments and legal measures or rather due to them This book has three purposes Firstly it offers insights in how law politics and the right to food contribute to food security in both positive and negative ways For this purpose different theories concepts and methodologies from legal political anthropological and sociological sciences are used and developed Secondly the book explains that food security and food policies cannot be treated as given at one level or in one domain only This is done in different ways by pointing out the emergence of new paradigms on food security human rights and science that shape food policies by showing how law and policies at one level affect food security at another level and by treating food security and food policies as linked to governance regimes of agriculture food feed water or property Finally the book offers scholarly analysis of paradigms and practices but also presents social science based ways to indirectly contribute to food security varying from improving justiciability to building trust from seeking ways to address non scientific concerns to creating room for plurality of lifestyles and norms from unmasking dominant discourse to understanding or strengthening abilities or arrangements to cope with vulnerability

Protocols Additional to the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949 ,1977 Military Law Review ,1992 The Morality of the Laws of War Marcela Prieto Rudolphy,2023 The Morality of the Laws of War examines the modern landscape of the ethics of war Rudolphy assesses the conflicting theories on the legality of just and unjust combatants While doing this she proposes an alternative morality of war proceeding from the inescapable fact that regulating war is always a significant moral compromise Bugsplat Bruce Cronin,2018-03-07 Why do states who are committed to the principle of civilian immunity and the protection of non combatants end up killing and injuring large numbers of civilians during their military operations Bugsplat explains this paradox through an in depth examination of five conflicts fought by Western powers since 1989 It argues that despite the efforts of Western military organizations to comply with the laws of armed conflict the level of collateral damage produced by Western military operations is the inevitable outcome of the strategies and methods through which their military organizations fight wars Drawing on their superior technology and the strategic advantage of not having to fight on their own territory such states employ highly concentrated and overwhelming military force against a wide variety of political economic and military targets under conditions likely to produce high civilian casualties As a result collateral damage in western fought wars is largely both foreseeable and preventable The book title is derived from the name of a computer program that had been used by the Pentagon to calculate probable civilian casualties prior to launching air attacks

Gender, Conflict and International Humanitarian Law Orly Maya Stern,2018-07-27 This book conducts a gendered critique of the principle of distinction in international humanitarian law IHL with a focus on recent conflicts in Africa The principle of distinction is core to IHL and regulates who can and cannot be targeted in armed conflict It states that civilians may not be targeted in attack while combatants and those civilians directly participating in hostilities can be The law defines what it means to be a combatant and a civilian and sets out what behaviour constitutes direct participation Close examination of the origins of the principle reveals that IHL was based on a gendered view of conflict which envisages men as fighters and women as victims of war Problematically this view often does not accord with the reality in new wars today in which women are playing increasingly active roles often forming the backbone of fighting groups and performing functions on which armed groups are highly reliant Using women s participation in new wars in Africa as a study this volume critically examines the principle through a gendered lens questioning the extent to which the principle serves to protect women in modern conflicts and how it fails them By doing so it questions whether the principle of distinction is suitable to effectively regulate the conduct of hostilities in new wars This book will be of much interest to students of international law gender studies African politics war and conflict studies and international relations International Dimensions of Humanitarian Law

UNESCO,2024-01-09 Commissioned by UNESCO from the Henry Dunant Institute this volume of essays lays the foundation for an international programme for the teaching of international humanitarian law within the framework of UNESCO s plan for the development of the teaching of human rights Parts I and II deal with the development of humanitarian ideas and law within different schools of thought and cultural traditions Part III with the law of armed conflict and Part IV with the application of international humanitarian law It is hoped that the publication of this volume which in its original French edition coincided with the 40th Anniversary of UNESCO and the International Year of Peace proclaimed in 1986 by the UN General Assembly will reinforce the determination of the international community to achieve the aim of the founders of UNESCO namely to construct the defences of peace in the minds of men Human Rights after 75 Years of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights ,2024-07-29

This book aims to contribute to the global observance of the 75th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights UDHR 1948 It considers nature and development of international human rights law It considers how human rights interact with other regimes such as intellectual property foreign direct investment corporate social responsibility international environmental law humanitarian law refugee law economic law and criminal law The book then presents human rights of vulnerable populations and sets out contemporary challenges and issues relating to human rights such as globalisation the effects of COVID 19 religion nationality and the implementation of economic social and cultural rights Extracting Accountability from Non-State Actors in International Law Lee James

McConnell,2016-11-10 The human rights of communities in many resource rich weak governance States are adversely affected not only by the acts of States and their agents but also by powerful non State actors Contemporary phenomena such as globalisation privatisation and the proliferation of internal armed conflict have all contributed to the increasing public influence of these entities and the correlative decline in State power This book responds to the persistent challenges stemming from non State actors linked to extractive industries In light of the intersecting roles of multinational enterprises and non State armed groups in this context these actors are adopted as the primary analytical vehicles The operations of these entities highlight the practical flaws of existing accountability regimes and permit an exploration of the theoretical challenges that preclude their direct legal regulation at the international level Drawing insights from discursive democracy compliance theories and the Pure Theory of Law the book establishes a conceptual foundation for the creation of binding international obligations addressing non State actors Responding to the recent calls for a binding business and human rights treaty at the UN Human Rights Council and the growing influence of armed non State actors the book makes a timely contribution to debates surrounding the direction of future developments in the field of international human rights law

An Introduction to the International Law of Armed Conflicts Robert Kolb, Richard Hyde, 2008-09-17 This book provides a modern and basic introduction to a branch of international law constantly gaining in importance in international life namely international humanitarian law the law of armed conflict It is constructed in a way suitable for self study The subject matters are discussed in self contained chapters allowing each to be studied independently of the others Among the subject matters discussed are inter alia the Relationship between jus ad bellum jus in bello Historical Evolution of IHL Basic Principles and Sources of IHL Martens Clause International and Non International Armed Conflicts Material Spatial Personal and Temporal Scope of Application of IHL Special Agreements under IHL Role of the ICRC Targeting Objects Specifically Protected against Attack Prohibited Weapons Perfidy Reprisals Assistance of the Wounded and Sick Definition of Combatants Protection of Prisoners of War Protection of Civilians Occupied Territories Protective Emblems Sea Warfare Neutrality Implementation of IHL
