Proud Of Me Speaking Out Against Sexual Violence And Hiv:

New Directions in Sexual Violence Scholarship Kate Gleeson, Yvette Russell, 2023-05-30 This edited collection brings together leading and emerging scholars in the important field of sexual violence scholarship The last ten years have witnessed an international reckoning on sexual violence typified in the mainstream imagination by the MeToo movement acknowledgement of the violence of university campus life and the overdue recognition of the enduring harms of child sexual abuse While the state has been forced to respond through law and other political processes at times revealing its agility and at other times its archaic investment in the past much of the real work responding to sexual violence and abuse has taken place within communities and in the personal responses of the individuals writing the scripts of their experiences This volume explores the nuances of these individual experiences and considers how they are shaped and reflected by intersecting axes of power including gender race class age and able bodied status It reflects on law and law reform in the area and suggests new modes and frames through which to explain and understand sexual violence and institutional responses to it Debates within this contested personal and political arena do not map onto longstanding binaries of liberal and radical feminism nor conservative and progressive politics This interdisciplinary volume traces that murky terrain and features some of the leading international scholars writing on sexual violence in English today This book will appeal to scholars and students across the broad disciplines of law and legal studies criminology gender studies political science and sociology

Speaking Out Tanya Serisier, 2018-11-19 This is the first critical study of feminist practices of speaking out in response to rape This book argues that feminist anti rape politics are characterised by a belief in the transformative potential of women s personal narratives of sexual violence The political mobilisation of these narratives has been an incredibly successful strategy but one with unresolved ethical questions and political limitations The book explores both the successes and the unresolved questions through feminist archival materials published narratives of sexual violence and mass media and internet sources It argues that that a rethinking of the role and place of women s stories and the politics of speaking out is vital for a rethinking of feminist politics around sexual violence and key to fresh approaches to combating this violence

Readings in Sexualities from Africa Rachel Spronk, Thomas Hendriks, 2020-02-04 Images and stories about African sexuality abound in today s globalized media Frequently old stereotypes and popular opinion inform these stories and sex in the media is predominately approached as a problem in need of solutions and intervention The authors gathered here refuse an easy characterization of African sexuality and instead seek to understand the various erotic realities sexual practices and gendered changes taking place across the continent They present a nuanced and comprehensive overview of the field of sex and sexuality in Africa to serve as a guide though the quickly expanding literature This collection offers a set of texts that use sexuality as a prism for studying how communities coalesce against the canvas of larger political and economic contexts and how personal lives evolve therein Scholars working in Africa the U S and Europe reflect on issues of representation health and bio politics same sex relationships and identity transactional economies of sex religion and tradition and the importance of pleasure and agency This multidimensional reader provides a comprehensive view of sexuality from an African perspective

South African AIDS Activism and Global Health Politics M. Mbali, 2013-03-29 South Africa has the world's largest number of people living with HIV This book offers a history of AIDS activism in South Africa from its origins in gay and anti-apartheid activism to the formation and consolidation of the Treatment Action Campaign TAC including its central role in the global HIV treatment access movement

A Philosophical Investigation of Rape Louise du Toit, 2009-05-07 Du Toit examines the phenomenon of rape using a feminist philosophical discourse concerning women's subjectivity and selfhood The book provides a critique of the dominant understanding of rape and its associated damage and suggests alternatives

African Women's Unique Vulnerabilities to HIV/AIDS L. Fuller, 2008-10-27 This is an in-depth look at the biomedical socio-cultural economic legal and political and educational vulnerabilities faced by the population that is most vulnerable to the risk of contracting HIV/AIDS African women

Proud of Me Charlene Smith, 2001 On 1 April 1999 multi-award winning journalist Charlene Smith was raped at knifepoint in her Johannesburg home Severely traumatised she was none the less determined to speak out and her first moving article about her rape and possible HIV infection was published just a week after the ordeal So began an unrelenting campaign giving her a platform from which she has challenged traditional thinking on sexual violence women's liberation trauma management and HIV/AIDS Her crusade has seen her endure stalkers death threats and political persecution and has been covered by the world's media from Time magazine CBS's 60 Minutes and the BBC to the media in Uganda Kenya and Brazil amongst others Drawing on the support of those around her Proud of Me is her account of how rape and fear of HIV infection impacted on her own life the lives of her children and those close to her

#MeToo and Literary Studies Mary K. Holland, Heather Hewett, 2021-09-23 Literature has always recorded a history of patriarchy sexual violence and resistance Academics have been using literature to expose and critique this violence and domination for half a century But the continued potency of MeToo after its 2017 explosion adds new urgency and wider awareness about these issues while revealing new ways in which rape culture shapes our everyday lives This intersectional guide helps readers students teachers and scholars face and challenge our culture of sexual violence by confronting it through the study of literature MeToo and Literary Studies gathers essays on literature from Ovid to Carmen Maria Machado by academics working across the United States and around the world who offer clear ways of using our reading teaching and critical practices to address rape culture and sexual violence It also examines the promise and limitations of the MeToo movement itself speaking to the productive use of social media as well as to the voices that the movement has so far muted In uniting diverse voices to enable the MeToo movement to reshape literary studies this book is also committed to the idea that the way we read and write about literature can make real change in the world

Faith and the Fragility of Justice Meredith Whitnah, 2025 Faith and the Fragility of Justice illuminates the role of religion in the intersection of race gender and power by showing how South African Christian organizations responses to apartheid follow a clear path for their attention to gender based violence in the democracy arguing that theologies that promote racial justice can facilitate or constrain the pursuit of gender justice

Men Behaving Differently Graeme Reid,Liz Walker,2005 Recent years have seen a growing world wide concern about men and boys Do boys have appropriate role models at home Are girls outperforming boys at school Is men s health under undue pressure

Human Rights and Narrated Lives K. Schaffer,S. Smith,2004-08-20 Personal narratives have become one of the most potent vehicles for advancing human rights claims across the world These two contemporary domains personal narrative and human rights literature and international politics are commonly understood to operate on separate planes This study however examines the ways these intersecting realms unfold and are enfolded in one another in ways both productive of and problematic for the achievement of social justice Human Rights and Narrated Lives explores what happens when autobiographical narratives are produced received and circulated in the field of human rights It asks how personal narratives emerge in local settings how international rights discourse enables and constrains individual and collective subjectivities in narration how personal narratives circulate and take on new meanings in new contexts and how and under what conditions they feed into affect and are affected by the reorganizations of politics in the post cold war postcolonial globalizing human rights contexts To explore these intersections the authors attend the production circulation reception and affective currents of stories in action across local national transnational and global arenas They do so by looking at five case studies in the context of the Truth and Reconciliation processes in South Africa the National Inquiry into the Forced Removal of Indigenous Children from their Families in Australia activism on behalf of former comfort women from South East Asia U S prison activism and democratic reforms in the aftermath of the Tiananmen Square Massacre in China

(Un)thinking Citizenship Amanda Gouws,2017-03-02 The study of citizenship in the context of South Africa implicitly challenges the rights based democracy in South Africa while literature regarding women and citizenship has greatly contributed to a new understanding of citizenship Locally many global processes are reproduced in the discourse of rights claiming issues of institutional representation bodily integrity in the face of violence and care in the face of a lack of care This volume takes the debate of citizenship in South Africa in a more theoretical and empirical direction while engaging with knowledge produced elsewhere in the world As part of the Gender in a Local Global World series it investigates the making of gendered citizenship institutionalization of gender politics the state of gendered policy making local citizenship rights the women s movement gendered violence as well as citizenship and the body

Living Through Terror Suvendrini Perera,Antonio Traverso,2013-10-31 In the era of war on terror the term terror has tended to be applied to its sudden eruptions in the metropolises of the global north This volume directs its attention to terror s manifestations in other locations and lives The title Living Through Terror refers both to the pervasiveness of terror in societies where extreme violence and war constitute the everyday processes of life as well as to the experience of surviving terror and living into the future The contributions consider terror's effects in those ignored and silenced locations where terror is either naturalised the Philippines South Africa Timor Leste Sri Lanka or made invisible the neo liberal democracies of Australia and Italy The stories of ruined places displaced bodies and identities shattered and remade that emerge from these pages bring into view the socio political systems cultural geographies and regimes of territoriality through which terror is engendered and naturalised and the institutions and imaginaries that continue to underpin them The essays literary writings and images collected here attend in their different ways to subjects living in and with terror as an element incorporated in their everyday and to the processes by which terror exercises itself in their lives whether it is perpetrated by state or non state actors Simultaneously the contributions attest to the tactics subjects deploy to confront and negotiate conditions of terror their attempts to live with and through terror and ultimately their strategies to recover through the everyday and the ordinary the seeds of life and hope

Bearing Witness Andres Gautier, Anna Sabatini Scalmati, 2018-05-08 This book discusses the kind of mental processing that can free victims from their unspeakable trauma a trauma that has no framework in time or words with which to express it It discusses the traumatic scenes that are extreme expressions of historic and political conditions

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers

Selves in Question Judith Lutge Coullie, Stephan

Meyer, Thengani H. Ngwenya, Thomas Olver, 2006-05-31 Wide ranging and engaging Selves in Question considers the various ways in which auto biographical accounts situate and question the self in contemporary southern Africa. The twenty seven interviews presented here consider both the ontological status and the representation of the self. They remind us that the self is constantly under construction in webs of interlocation and that its status and representation are always in question. The contributors therefore look at ways in which auto biographical practices contribute to placing understanding and troubling the self and selves in postcolonies in the current global constellation. They examine topics such as the contexts conducive to production processes, the contents and forms of auto biographical accounts and finally their impact on the producers and the audience. In doing so they map out a multitude of variables including the specific historical juncture, geo political locations, social positions, cultures, languages, generations and genders in their relations to auto biographical practices. Those interviewed include the famous and the hardly known women and men writers and performers who communicate in a variety of languages: Afrikaans, English, Xhosa, isiZulu, Sesotho and Yiddish. An extensive introduction offers a general framework on the contestation of self through auto biography, a historical overview of auto biographical representation in South Africa up to the present time, an outline of theoretical and thematic issues at stake in southern Africa auto biography and extensive primary and secondary biographies. Interviewees: Breyten Breytenbach, Dennis Brutus, Valentine Cascarino, Vanitha Chetty, Wilfred Cibane, Greig Coetzee, J M Coetzee, Paul Faber, David Goldblatt, Stephen Gray, Dorian Haarhoff, Rayda Jacobs, Elsa Joubert, K Limakatso, Kendall Ester Lee, Doris Lessing, Sindiwe Magona, Margaret McCord, N Chabani Manganyi, Zolani Mkiva, Jonathan Morgan, Esia Mphahlele, Rob Nixon, Mpho Nthunya, Robert Scott, Gillian Slovo, Alex J Thembela, Pieter Dirk Uys, Johan van Wyk, Wilhelm Verwoerd, David Wolpe, D L P Yali Manisi. Law and the Politics of Reconciliation Professor Scott Veitch, 2013-01-28 This collection of essays by an international group of authors explores the ways in which law and legal institutions are used in countries coming to terms with traumatic pasts and in some cases traumatic presents. In putting to question what is often taken for granted in uncritical calls for reconciliation, it critically analyses and frequently challenges the political and legal assumptions underlying discourses of reconciliation. Drawing on a broad spectrum of disciplinary and interdisciplinary insights, the authors examine how competing conceptions of law, time and politics are deployed in social transformations and how pressing demands for reconstruction, reconciliation and justice inform and respond to legal categories and their use of time. The book is genuinely interdisciplinary, drawing on work in politics, philosophy, theology, sociology and law. It will appeal to a wide audience of researchers and academics working in these areas. Entanglement Sarah Nuttall, 2009-08-01 This original book is a much needed and far reaching exploration of post apartheid South African life worlds. Entanglement aims to capture the contradictory mixture of innovation and inertia, of loss, violence and xenophobia, as well as experimentation and desegregation which characterises the present. The author explores the concept of entanglement in relation to readings of literature, new media forms and painting. In the process she moves away from a persistent apartheid optic drawing on ideas of sameness and difference and their limits in order to elicit ways of living and imagining that are just starting to take shape and for which we might not yet have a name In the background of her investigations lies a preoccupation with a future oriented politics one that builds on largely unexplored terrains of mutuality while being attentive to a historical experience of confrontation and injury

The Invisible Cure Helen Epstein, 2007-05-15

A New York Times Notable Book of 2007 The Invisible Cure is an account of Africa's AIDS epidemic from the inside a revelatory dispatch from the intersection of village life government intervention and international aid Helen Epstein left her job in the US in 1993 to move to Uganda where she began work on a test vaccine for HIV Once there she met patients doctors politicians and aid workers and began exploring the problem of AIDS in Africa through the lenses of medicine politics economics and sociology Amid the catastrophic failure to reverse the epidemic she discovered a village based solution that could prove more effective than any network of government intervention and international aid an intuitive response that calls into question many of the fundamental assumptions about the AIDS in Africa Written with conviction knowledge and insight The Invisible Cure will change how we think about the worst health crisis of the past century and indeed about every issue of global public health
