Norcross, 2018-02-05 This book has been replaced by Insider's Guide to Graduate Programs in Clinical and Counseling Psychology 2020 2021 Edition ISBN 978 1 4625 4143 0 Gender and Media in the Broadcast Age Justine Lloyd, 2019-10-03 This book is open access and available on www bloomsburycollections com It is funded by Knowledge Unlatched The 20th century was a time of rapid expansion in media industries as well as of accelerating demands for equality and recognition for women While women s agency has typically been defined through the domestic sphere the introduction of media into the home destabilised firm boundaries between public and private spheres Gender and Media in the Broadcast Age demonstrates how women as media producers and audiences in three countries with public service broadcasters UK Canada and Australia have contributed to changes in our understandings of public and private Justine Lloyd offers a new way of understanding how tremendous changes in social definitions of gender roles played out in media forms worldwide during this period through the notion of intimate geographies Women's participation in media continues to be a key challenge to notions of the public sphere and the book concludes that profound changes initiated in the broadcast era are unfinished in the age of digital media Lloyd therefore provides rich and valuable evidence of the dynamic relationship between media texts producers and audiences that is relevant to contemporary debates about a growing gender apartheid in a mediated culture The Psychology of Social Networking Vol.1 Giuseppe Riva, Brenda K. Wiederhold, Pietro Cipresso, 2015-01-01 Using a novel approach to consider the available literature and research this book focuses on the psychology of social media based on the assumption that the experience of being in a social media has an impact on both our identity and social relationships In order to be online an individual has to create an online presence they have to share information about themselves online This online self is presented in different ways with diverse goals and aims in order to engage in different social media activities and to achieve desired outcomes Whilst this may not be a real physical presence that physicality is becoming increasingly replicated through photos video and ever evolving ways of defining and describing the self online Moreover individuals are using both PC based and mobile based social media as well as increasingly making use of photo and video editing tools to carefully craft and manipulate their online self This book therefore explores current debates in Cyberpsychology drawing on the most up to date theories and research to explore four main aspects of the social media experience communication identity presence and relationships In doing so it considers the interplay of different areas of psychological research with current technological and security insight into how individuals create manipulate and maintain their online identity and relationships The social media are therefore at the core of every chapter with the common thread throughout being the very unique approach to considering diverse and varied online behaviours that may not have been thus far considered from this perspective It covers a broad range of both positive and negative behaviours that have now become integrated into the daily lives of many westernised country's Internet users giving it an appeal to both scholarly and industry readers alike Pedagogical Cases in Physical Education and Youth Sport Kathleen Armour, 2014-01-21 Pedagogical Cases in Physical Education and Youth Sport is a completely new kind of resource for students and practitioners working in physical education or youth sport The book consists of 20 richly described cases of individual young learners each written by a team of authors with diverse expertise from across the sport exercise and movement sciences. These cases bring together knowledge from single sub disciplines into new interdisciplinary knowledge to inform best practice in physical education teaching and coaching in youth sport settings At the heart of each case is an individual young person of a specified age and gender with a range of physical social and psychological characteristics Drawing on current research theory and empirical data from their own specialist discipline each chapter author identifies the key factors they feel should be taken into account when attempting to teach or coach the young person described These strands are then drawn together at the end of each chapter and linked to current research from the sport pedagogy literature to highlight the implications for planning and evaluating teaching or coaching sessions No other book offers such a rich vivid and thought provoking set of pedagogical tools for understanding and working with children and young people in sport This is an essential resource for any student on a physical education coaching kinesiology or sport science course and for any teacher coach or instructor working in physical education or youth sport Teaching Psychology Douglas A.
