Recent History:

Doing Recent History Claire Bond Potter, Renee C. Romano, 2012-04-25 Recent history the very phrase seems like an oxymoron Yet historians have been writing accounts of the recent past since printed history acquired a modern audience and in the last several years interest in recent topics has grown exponentially With subjects as diverse as Walmart and disco and personalities as disparate as Chavez and Schlafly books about the history of our own time have become arguably the most exciting and talked about part of the discipline Despite this rich tradition and growing popularity historians have engaged in little discussion about the specific methodological political and ethical issues related to writing about the recent past The twelve essays in this collection explore the challenges of writing histories of recent events where visibility is inherently imperfect hindsight and perspective are lacking and historiography is underdeveloped Those who write about events that have taken place since 1970 encounter exciting challenges that are both familiar and foreign to scholars of a more distant past including suspicions that their research is not historical enough negotiation with living witnesses who have a very strong stake in their own representation and the task of working with new electronic sources Contributors to this collection consider a wide range of these challenges They question how sources like television and video games can be better utilized in historical research explore the role and regulation of doing oral histories consider the ethics of writing about living subjects discuss how historians can best navigate questions of privacy and copyright law and imagine the possibilities that new technologies offer for creating transnational and translingual research opportunities Doing Recent History offers guidance and insight to any researcher considering tackling the not so distant past

The Orators and Their Treatment of the Recent Past Aggelos Kapellos, 2022-12-05 This volume focuses on the representation of the recent past in classical Athenian oratory and investigates the ability of the orators to interpret it according to their interests the inability of the Athenians to make an objective assessment of it and the unwillingness of the citizens to hear the truth make self criticism and take responsibility for bad results Twenty eight scholars have written chapters to this end dealing with a wide range of themes in terms both of contents and of chronology from the fifth to the fourth century B C Each contributor has written a chapter that analyzes one or more historical events mentioned or alluded in the corpus of the Attic orators and covers the three species of Attic oratory Chapters that treat other issues collectively are also included The common feature of each contribution is an outline of the recent events that took place and influenced the citizens and or the city of Athens and its juxtaposition with their rhetorical treatment by the orators either by comparing the rhetorical texts with the historical sources and or by examining the rhetorical means through which the speakers model the recent past This book aims at advanced students and professional scholars This volume focuses on the representation of the recent past in classical Athenian oratory and investigates the ability of the orators to interpret it according to their interests the inability of the Athenians to make an objective assessment of persons and events of the recent past and their unwillingness to hear the truth make self criticism and take responsibility for bad results      Applied History and Contemporary Policymaking Robert Crowcroft,2022-10-06 Robert Crowcroft has assembled a world class international cast of outstanding scholars and international figures to produce a stimulating collection of essays on applied history and policy making With contributors such as Philip Bobbitt Margaret MacMillan and Jeremy Black this collection of essays addresses some of the most important geopolitical challenges confronting the world today From reconstructing collapsed political regimes to security competition in the China Seas and the evolution of Salafi Jihadi ideology it explores a range of statecraft policy and strategy The essays span a number of policy areas and historical problems tackling important questions about what historians do and should do and considering the nature and limits of historical judgement With some examining how applied history can be used to rethink contemporary challenges others explore how it has been used and abused in the past Making a splash in intellectual debate by making a definitive case for Applied History this book demonstrates that a knowledge of the past and the insight it provides is imperative to effective statecraft      Discursive Processes of Intergenerational Transmission of Recent History M. Achugar,2016-04-12 Debates about how to remember politically contested or painful pasts exist throughout the world As with the case of the Holocaust in Europe and Apartheid in South Africa South American countries are struggling with the legacy of state terrorism left by the 1970s dictatorships Coming to terms with the past entails understanding the role different social actors played in those events as well as what those event mean for us today Young people in these situations have to learn about painful historical events over which there is no national consensus This book explores discursive processes of intergenerational transmission of recent history through the case of the Uruguayan dictatorship The main themes of the book are the discursive construction of social memory and intergenerational transmission of contested pasts through recontextualization resemiotization and intertextuality      The Cyclopedic Review of Current History ,1903      The Oxford Handbook of the History of Medicine Mark Jackson,2011-08-25 In three sections the Oxford Handbook of the History of Medicine celebrates the richness and variety of medical history around the world It explore medical developments and trends in writing history according to period place and theme      A Guide to the Study and Use of Military History John E. Jessup,Robert W. Coakley,1979 This Guide to the Study and Use of Military History is designed to foster an appreciation of the value of military history and explain its uses and the resources available for its study It is not a work to be read and lightly tossed aside but one the career soldier should read again or use as a reference at those times during his career when necessity or leisure turns him to the contemplation of the military past      Writing North Carolina History Jeffrey J. Crow,Larry E. Tise,2017-10-10 Writing North Carolina History is the first book to assess fully the historical literature of North Carolina It combines the talents and insights of eight noted scholars of state and southern history William S Powell Alan D Watson Robert M Calhoon Harry L Watson Sarah M Lemmon and H G Jones Their essays are arranged in chronological order from the founding of the first English colony in North America in 1585 to the present Traditionally North Carolina has not received the same scholarly attention as Virginia and South Carolina despite the excellent resources available on Tar Heel history This study derived from a symposium sponsored by the North Carolina Division of Archives and History in 1977 asks questions and describes methodologies needed to redress past neglect Besides providing a comprehensive evaluation of what has been written about North Carolina the essayists offer perspectives on how historians have interpreted the state s history and what directions future historians need to take Particularly important the book provides a bibliography and suggests opportunities for future historical investigation by discussing topics themes and source materials that remain untapped or underused North Carolina s unique and colorful culture folklore geography politics and growth demand new and creative historical analysis Collectively the authors and editors of Writing North Carolina History offer a welcome necessary guide to the study of Tar Heel history Originally published in 1979 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value

The New York Times Current History, 1917 Struggling for Leadership: Antwerp-Rotterdam Port Competition between 1870 -2000 Reginald Loyer, Erik Buyst, Greta Devos, 2002-10-07 The present volume contains the proceedings of an international conference on the economic history of the seaports of Antwerp and Rotterdam 1870 2000 This venue was held at Antwerp on 10 11 May 2001 and was hosted by the Antwerp Port Authority This international conference aimed at confronting the development of both ports In the course of the last century and a half economic growth in the ports of Antwerp and Rotterdam has been staggering Maritime economic historians economists and geographers alike have investigated the development of both ports extensively but separately So far only a limited number of attempts have been made to analyse Rotterdam Antwerp port history from a comparative perspective The papers presented at the conference provide a challenging starting point to certain how and why both ports reacted differently to virtually the same economic and political stimuli By bringing together both historians economists and lawyers with different fields of interest we have attempted to put the history of the ports of Antwerp and Rotterdam in a broader international and comparative perspective

Memory and Representation in Contemporary Europe Dr Siobhan Kattago,2013-01-28 Why do certain places and not others symbolically capture the past and freeze time Likewise why does the process of memory as a fluid and changing activity seem to prevent its own solidification Memory and Representation in Contemporary Europe reflects not only on the persistence of the past as a theme linked to modernity media and time but also discusses the politics of memory within a changing Europe Drawing on the theoretical work of Hannah Arendt Isaiah Berlin and Zygmunt Bauman Siobhan Kattago uses examples from both Germany and Estonia in order to address the multiple layers of Europe s totalitarian past Through reflecting on the legacy of totalitarianism and the revolutions of 1989 it becomes clear that the issue is less of whether one should remember but rather how to internalize the various lessons of the past for the future of Europe Memory and Representation in Contemporary Europe thus offers the reader occasions upon which to take stock of different but overlapping contours of past and present in contemporary Europe

The Philosophy of Social Evolution Jonathan Birch, 2017 From mitochondria to meerkats the natural world is full of spectacular examples of social behaviour Jonathan Birch explores how the three key explanatory ideas of social evolution theory Hamilton's rule kin selection and inclusive fitness can illuminate our understanding of the social world

Family Constellations in Contemporary Ibero-American and Slavic Literatures Anna Artwińska, Ángela Calderón, Jobst Welge, 2024-10-07 This volume examines Ibero American as well as Slavic literatures of the 21st century and studies how historical imaginaries in family narratives are functionalized for both individual and collective and post national identities The analysis proceeds along three conceptual axes What these narratives have in common is that they construct specific constellations of the historical imagination and of family whereby family is here conceived not so much as an organic micro unity but rather as changing multiple relations between individual members godparents first and second degree relatives non blood related family members present and absent members adopted children etc Furthermore these novels are often grounded in trans generational memories They are written by members of a generation that as a rule did not directly experience these historical events It is also significant that these narratives are no longer conceived as representing national identities but paradigmatically speak for a collective that defines itself in regional ethnic religious or ideological terms It seems therefore that these narratives of family constellations are in need of more flexible typological rubrics and interpretive frameworks Intended as a sustained comparative study of these family narratives this volume is a contribution in understanding how historical caesura experiences and their literary representation work on the self understanding of the present
