Politics And The Playwright George Ryga:

Politics and the Playwright Christopher Innes,1985 Critical Essays on Canadian Literature K.

Balachandran,2002-12-31 Before the Country Stephanie McKenzie,2007-11-25 In the late 1960s and early 1970s Canada witnessed an explosion in the production of literary works by Aboriginal writers a development that some critics have called the Native Renaissance In Before the Country Stephanie McKenzie explores the extent to which this growing body of literature influenced non Native Canadian writers and has been fundamental in shaping our search for a national mythology In the context of Northrop Frye s theories of myth and in light of the attempts of social critics and early anthologists to define Canada and Canadian literature McKenzie discusses the ways in which our decidedly fractured sense of literary nationalism has set indigenous culture apart from the mainstream She examines anew the aesthetics of Native Literature and in a style that is creative as much as it is scholarly McKenzie incorporates the principles of storytelling into the unfolding of her argument This strategy not only enlivens her narrative but also underscores the need for new theoretical strategies in the criticism of Aboriginal literatures Before the Country invites us to engage in one such endeavour Progressive Heritage

James Doyle,2006-01-01 Most critics and literary historians have ignored Marxist inspired creative literature in Canada or dismissed it as an ephemeral phenomenon of the 1930s Research reveals however that from the 1920s onward Canadian creative writers influenced by Marxist ideas have produced a quantitatively substantial and artistically significant body of poetry drama fiction and non fiction This book traces historically and evaluates critically this tradition with particular emphasis on writers who were associated with or sympathetic to the Communist Party of Canada After two chapters surveying the work of anti capitalist writers of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the book concentrates on the development of Marxist inspired writing from the 1920s to the end of the twentieth century Besides devoting attention to both social and theoretical backgrounds this study provides critical commentary on work by prominent writers who spent part of their literary careers as Communist Party members including Dorothy Livesay Patrick Anderson Milton Acorn and George Ryga as well as less well known but more fervent Communists such as Margaret Fairley Dyson Carter Joe Wallace Stanley Ryerson and Jean Jules Richard Although primarily concerned with the older generation of Marxists who flourished between the 1920s and the 1970s the book also includes a chapter on the post 1970s New Left Made in British Columbia Maria Tippet,2015-09-19 Is there such a thing as British Columbia culture and if so is there anything special about it This is the broad question Dr Maria Tippet answers in this work with an assured yes To prove her point she looks at the careers of eight ground breaking cultural producers in the fields of painting aboriginal art architecture writing theatre and music The eight creative figures profiled in Made in British Columbia are not just distinguished artists who made an enduring mark on Canadian culture during the twentieth century They are unique artists whose work is intimately interwoven with British Columbia s identity Emily Carr portrayed BC s coastal landscape in a manner as unique as her lifestyle Bill Reid's carvings jewellery and sculpture stand as a contemporary interpretation of his reclaimed Haida heritage The name Francis Rattenbury is less known than The Empress Hotel in Victoria one of many prominent BC buildings he designed while Arthur Erickson's modern architectural contributions are recognized worldwide Martin Allerdale Grainger's experience in the BC woods in the early days of hand logging inspired him to write one of the undisputed classics of BC fiction Woodsmen of the West Jean Coulthard struggled for respect as a female composer during the 1920s and 1930s in British Columbia but eventually proved her extraordinary musical talents internationally George Woodcock left Britain in 1949 to forge his career as an influential author editor mentor and tireless promoter of literary scholarship in the province while playwright George Ryga the son of Ukrainian immigrants exposed the anguish and reality of life for Native women in our cities with his 1967 play The Ecstasy of Rita Joe Featuring images of the artists and their works Made in British Columbia presents a history of the treasures found in our galleries concert halls theatres museums libraries and streetscapes and explores the legacy of a cultural tradition as unique as the place that nurtured it Leaving Shadows Lisa

Grekul, 2005-12-16 On our way home we stopped in Vegreville for one last look at the Pysanka and posing in front of it while my dad pulled out his camera I wanted to cry Are we doomed Click Is this all we are Click How do we drag ourselves out from under the shadow of the giant egg Click Conceived in a fervent desire for fresher sexier images of Ukrainian culture in Canada and concluding with a new reading of enduring cultural stereotypes Leaving Shadows is the first Canadian book length monograph on English Ukrainian writing with substantive analysis of the writing of Myrna Kostash Andrew Suknaski George Ryga Janice Kulyk Keefer Vera Lysenko and Maara Haas The Literary History of Alberta Volume Two George Melnyk, 1998 In this the companion to the landmark volume The Literary History of Alberta Volume One From Writing on Stone to World War Two George Melnyk examines Alberta literature in the second half of the twentieth century At last Melnyk argues Alberta writers have found their voice and their accomplishments have been remarkable The contradictory landscape the stereotypes of the Indian the Mountie and the Cowboy and the language of the Other speaking from the margins these elements all left their impressions on the consciousness of early Alberta But writers in the last few decades have turned this inheritance to their advantage to create compelling stories about this place and its people Today Melnyk discovers Alberta writers can appreciate not only this achievement but also its essential source the symbolic communication of Writing on Stone The Literary History of Alberta Volume Two extends the study of Alberta's cultural history to the present day It is a vital text for anyone interested in Alberta's vibrant literary culture World Encyclopedia of Contemporary Theatre Irving Brown (Consulting Bibliographer), Natasha Rappaport (Bibliographer), Don Rubin (General Editor), Rosabel Wang (Consulting Bibliographer), 2013-10-11 An annotated world theatre bibliography documenting significant theatre materials published world wide since 1945 plus an index to key names throughout the six volumes of the series

Playwriting Women Cynthia Zimmerman, 1994-09 The Canadian Dramatist Volume 3 The six playwrights discussed in this volume are Carol Bolt Erica Ritter Sharon Pollack Margaret Hollingsworth Anne Chislett and Judith Thompson War Is Here Robert McGill, 2017-09-01 Canada did not fight in the Vietnam War but the conflict seized the Canadian imagination with an energy that has persisted In War Is Here Robert McGill explains how the war contributed to a golden age for writing in Canada As authors addressed the conflict they helped to construct an enduring myth of Canada as liberal hospitable and humanitarian For many writers the war was one that Canadians could and should fight against if not in person then on the page In this pioneering account of war related Canadian literature McGill observes how celebrated books of the era channel Vietnam sometimes in subtle but pervasive ways He examines authors attempts to educate their readers about American imperialism and Canadian complicity and he discusses how writers repeatedly used language evoking militarism and violence from the figure of the United States as a rapist to the notion of Canada as a peaceable kingdom in order to make Canadians feel more intensely about their country McGill also addresses the recent spate of prize winning Canadian novels about the war that have renewed Vietnam's resonance in the wake of twenty first century conflicts involving America War Is Here vividly revisits a galvanizing time in world history and Canadian life offering vital insights into the Vietnam War's influence on how people think about Canada its place in the world and the power of the written word to make a difference inspiration and sustenance in the area for thousands of years hunting whales on the open ocean using harpoons with mussel shell blades and great lengths of cedar bark rope As well as describing the traditions of the area s First Nations Mason
