Multiculturalism and Democracy in North Africa Moha Ennaji, 2014-04-16 Investigating the connections between multiculturalism minorities citizenship and democracy in North Africa this book argues that multiculturalism in this region and in the Arab world at large has reached a significant level in terms of scale and importance In the rest of the world there has been a trend albeit a contested one toward a greater recognition of minority rights The Arab world however particularly North Africa seems to be an exception to this trend as Arab states continue to promote highly unitary and homogenizing ideas of nationhood and state unity whilst discouraging or even forbidding minority political mobilization The central theoretical premise of this book is that North Africa is a multicultural region where culture is inherently linked to politics religion gender and society and a place where democracy is gradually taking root despite many political and economic hurdles Addressing the lacuna in literature on this issue this book opens new avenues of thought and research on diversity linking policy based on cultural difference to democratic culture and to social justice Multiculturalism and Democracy in North Africa will be of use to students and researchers with an interest in

Sociology Cultural Studies and Political Science more broadly The Politics of Algeria Yahia H. Zoubir, 2019-11-14 This book brings together Algerian based scholars and Algerians in the diaspora to address the many salient issues facing Algeria the largest country in Africa and the Middle East Until February 22 2019 Algeria looked like the beacon of stability in the region for the authoritarian regime eluded the so called Arab Spring which resulted in chaos in a number of countries in the Middle East and North Africa The authors of the chapters in this book are a mix of sociologists economists political scientists linguists and international relations specialists who have used the theoretical and methodological instruments in their respective fields to decipher the complexities that characterise the Algerian political system In the domestic part some of the chapters deal with issues seldom tackled in Maghreb studies namely the language and identities issues which are at the forefront of the protest movement since February 2019 Other chapters analyse the role of the elites the emergence of the new entrepreneurs the future of energy gender media and human rights the predicament of the rentier state and the resource curse The international relations part examines Algeria's roles in the Mediterranean and in the Sahel the strategic partnership with China the complicated relations with France and the relations with Iran and the Gulf Cooperation Council GCC Exploring Algeria's transformation this collection is an original addition to the books on the Maghreb that will be a key resource to students and scholars interested in the developing world the Middle East and North Africa The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2002 Arab Women's Activism and Socio-Political Transformation Sahar Khamis, Amel Mili, 2017-11-17 This book illustrates how Arab women have been engaging in three ongoing parallel struggles before during and after the Arab Spring on three levels namely the political struggle to pave the road for democracy freedom and reform the social struggle to achieve gender equality and fight all forms of injustice and discrimination against women and the legal struggle to chart new laws which can safeguard both the political and the social gains The contributors argue that while the political upheavals were oftentimes more prevalent and visible they should not overshadow the parallel social and legal revolutions which are equally important due to their long term impacts on the region The chapters shed light on the intersections overlaps and divergences between these simultaneous continuous gendered struggles and unpacks their complexities and multiple implications locally regionally and internationally across different countries and through different phases Gender and Identity in North Africa Abdelkader Cheref, 2010-08-30 Literary fiction has always provided an outlet for social and political critique In the writing of key North African women authors the dissection of Maghrebi society is at the very heart of the narratives Here Abdelkader Cheref charts the rise of postcolonial literature written by women from the Maghreb and provides the first comparative analysis of three of the region's most prominent contemporary authors Assia Djebar Algeria Leila Abouzeid Morocco and Souad Guellouz Tunisia These writers are united in their depictions of a post independence socio political malaise in the Maghreb their explorations of marginalised women's voices and their own quests for their voices to be heard beyond the rigid constraints of patriarchy This book is essential comparative reading for students and researchers wishing to understand the connections between literature history and culture in postcolonial North Africa

Women in the Middle East and North Africa Fatima Sadiqi, Moha Ennaji, 2013-09-05 This book examines the position of women in the contemporary Middle East and North Africa MENA region Although it is culturally diverse this region shares many commonalities with relation to women that are strong deep and pervasive a space based patriarchy a culturally strong sense of religion a smooth co existence of tradition and modernity a transitional stage in development and multilingualism multiculturalism Experts from within the region and from outside provide both theoretical angles and case studies drawing on fieldwork from Egypt Oman Palestine Israel Turkey Iran Tunisia Algeria Morocco and Spain Addressing the historical socio cultural political economic and legal issues in the region the chapters cover five major aspects of women s agency political agency civil society activism legal reform cultural and social agencies religious and symbolic agencies Bringing to light often marginalized topics and issues the book underlines the importance of respecting specificities when judging societies and hints at possible ways of promoting the MENA region As such it is a valuable addition to existing literature in the field of political science sociology and women s studies

Democracy, Culture, and Social Change in North Africa Moha Ennaji, 2023-06-22 This volume serves to make sense of the political cultural and social change that has occurred in North Africa since the Arab Spring It includes a number of contributions which address the issue of democracy and cultural identity The book points to the fact that North Africa needs a workable paradigm for political order which answers to the economic social and cultural challenges and peculiarities of African society in an increasingly globalizing world This will require that we eschew a one size fits all approach The book which targets students academia and civil society argues that North Africa s solutions must be defined and advised by policies which reflect the cultural realities of the society they are intended to serve

The Cinema of North Africa and the Middle East Gönül Dönmez-Colin, 2007 Twenty four essays on individual selected films many by scholars and writers based in the region It explores established film cultures such as those of Turkey and Iran and also nascent cinemas such as those of Israel Palestine and Syria Selected films include Cairo Station Egypt 1958 Umat Turkey 1970 The Runner Iran 1989 Once upon a time Beriut Lebanon 1994 Chronicle of a disappearance Palestine 1996 Circle of dreams Israel 2000 Ten Iran 2002 and Uzak Turkey 2003 Page 4 of cover

Islam and Blackness Jonathan A.C. Brown, 2022-11-03 It is commonly claimed that Islam is antiblack even inherently bent on enslaving Black Africans Western and African critics alike have contended that antiblack racism is in the faith s very scriptural foundations and its traditions of law spirituality and theology But what is the basis for this accusation Bestselling scholar Jonathan A C Brown examines Islamic scripture law Sufism and history to comprehensively interrogate this claim and determine how and why it emerged Locating its origins in conservative politics modern Afrocentrism and the old trope of Barbary enslavement he explains how antiblackness arose in the Islamic world and became entangled with normative tradition From the imagery of blackened faces in the Quran to Shariah assessments of Black women as undesirable and the assertion that Islam and

Muslims are foreign to Africa this work provides an in depth study of the controversial knot that is Islam and Blackness and identifies authoritative voices in Islam s past that are crucial for combatting antiblack racism today

Women and Resistance in the Maghreb Nabil Boudraa, Joseph Ohmann Krause, 2021-07-29 This book studies women s resistance in the three countries of the Maghreb concentrating on two questions First what has been the role of women artists since the 1960s in unlocking traditions and emancipating women on their own terms Second why have Maghrebi women rarely been given the right to be heard since Algeria Morocco and Tunisia gained national independence Honouring the artistic voices of women that have been largely eclipsed from both popular culture and political discourse in the Maghreb the work specifically examines resistance by women since 1960s in the Maghreb through cinema politics and the arts In an ancillary way the volume addresses a wide range of questions that are specific to Maghrebi women related to upbringing sexuality marriage education representation exclusion and historical memory These issues in their broadest dimensions opened the gates to responses in different fields in both the humanities and the social sciences The research presents scholarship by not only leading scholars in Francophone studies cultural history and specialists in women studies but also some of the most important film critics and practicing feminist advocates The variety of periods and disciplines in this collection allow for a coherent and general understanding of Maghrebi societies since decolonization The volume is a key resource to students and scholars interested in women s studies the Maghreb and Middle East studies

Nostalgic Rebels: Politics, Aesthetics, and Selfhood in Postcolonial Morocco Khalid Lyamlahy, 2025-05-23 Mohammed Kha r Eddine 1941 1995 Abdelk bir Khatibi 1938 2009 and Abdellatif La bi 1942 are three of the most important francophone Moroccan writers to have emerged in the 1960s Belonging to the Souffles generation named after the journal of culture and politics founded in 1966 they played a major role in cultural decolonization and the development of Moroccan literature This book examines their works and legacy through the dual lenses of revolt and nostalgia By weaving together comparative close readings of their writings with an analysis of the broader historical and political context in Morocco the book demonstrates that these writers have used revolt and nostalgia to address state sponsored violence grapple with uncertainties about the writing process and advance or revitalize their political and aesthetic projects In doing so this study traces a literary genealogy of political resistance aesthetic subversion and nostalgic reconstruction in postcolonial Morocco while offering a nuanced historical perspective that is closely attuned to the specificities of Moroccan postcoloniality and sensitive to individual trajectories and experiences The book covers a wide range of literary genres including poetry theater prose fiction and autobiography all analyzed through a distinctively Moroccan historical and cultural lens providing new insights into Moroccan literature and the theories of revolt and nostalgia
