Williams,2015-10-08 This book traces the South West Africa People s Organization SWAPO across its three decades in exile through rich local histories of the camps where Namibian exiles lived in Tanzania Zambia and Angola Christian A Williams highlights how different Namibians experienced these sites as well as the tensions that developed within SWAPO as Namibians encountered one another and as officials asserted their power and protected their interests within a national community The book then follows Namibians who lived in exile into post colonial Namibia examining the extent to which divisions and hierarchies that emerged in the camps continue to shape how Namibians relate to one another today undermining the more just and humane society that many had imagined In developing these points about SWAPO the book draws attention to Southern African literature more widely suggesting parallels across the region and defining a field of study that examines post colonial Africa through the camp The Cambridge Companion to Nelson Mandela Rita Barnard,2014-01-31 Nelson Mandela is one of the most revered figures of our time The essays in this Companion written by experts in history anthropology jurisprudence cinema literature and visual studies examine how Mandela became the icon he is today and ponder the meanings and uses of his internationally recognizable image The Soviet Union and National Liberation Movements in the Third World Galia Golan,2022-12-28 The Soviet Union and National Liberation Movements in the Third World 1988 is a systematic comparison of Soviet theory about and actual behaviour toward movements for national liberation in the Third World In this definitive study Professor Golan demonstrates that Soviet behaviour toward such movements is consistent with Soviet theory as stated in the writings and speeches of high level influential within the Party military and academic communities In so doing she advances our understanding of the rules of thumb that Soviet leaders appeared to follow in deciding whether and how to assist the varied types of anti imperialist and separatist movements in the developing world The first part of the book provides a detailed analysis of the various schools of thought among Soviet writers concerning different aspects of national liberation movements and the second part analyses actual Soviet behaviour toward numerous movements around the world

Finding the Words Thomas Moriarty,2003-10-30 The author accounts for South Africa s transition from apartheid to democracy from a rhetorical perspective Based on an exhaustive analysis of hundreds of public statements made by South Africa s leaders from 1985 to the present Moriarty shows how key constructions of the political scene paved the way for negotiations elections and national reconciliation These rhetorical changes moved South Africa out of the realm of violent conflict and into one of rhetorical conflict a democratic space in which the country could resolve its problems at the negotiating table and in the ballot box Parliamentary Debates (Hansard).
