Politics Of Locality Making A Nation Of Communities In Taiwan:

The Politics of Locality Hsin-yi Lu, 2002 First Published in 2002 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informal company

The Politics of Locality Hsin-Yi Lu, 2002-08-30 During the mid 1990s Taiwan witnessed a remarkable proliferation of historical writings and cultural movements pertaining to the local Place difang and community shequ became two ubiquitous terms in the lexicon of being Taiwanese This book is a critical examination of the socio historical condition in which the discourse of local diversity emerged and gradually permeated Taiwan's public culture Interweaving ethnographic sensibility and theoretical insights across disciplines including anthropology cultural studies and cultural geography the study elucidates the complex relationships between localism nationalism and globalism Not only is it a rare type of ethnography in Taiwan studies this book also enriches our understanding of the increasingly significant field of East Asia post modernity

Historical Dictionary of Taiwan (Republic of China) John F. Copper, 2024-10-08 Taiwan is a place of contradictions Its successful economic and political modernization has stimulated the imaginations of most observers Still its nation state status has been constricted and weakened It covets and pursues peace yet it is a vortex actor in global strategic military competition It is small yet its importance far exceeds its size It has long occupied a crucial place in history even though it has not sought this status yet it appears inevitable that it will continue to do so Historical Dictionary of Taiwan Republic of China Fifth Edition contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has more than 600 cross referenced entries on important personalities as well as aspects of the country's politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Taiwan

Women in the New Taiwan Catherine Farris, Lee Anru, Murray A. Rubinstein, An East Gate Book, 2020-08-26 Taiwan's rapid socio economic and political transformation has given rise to a gender conscious middle class that is attempting to redefine the roles of women in society to restructure relationship patterns and to organize in groups outside the family unit This book examines internal psychological processes and external societal processes as the feminist movement in Taiwan expands and new gender roles are explored The contributors represent a cross section of different disciplines history anthropology and sociology and different generations of China Taiwan scholars They place the issues facing Taiwan's women's movement in social political and economic contexts The book examines gender relations the role of women in Chinese society and issues related to women in China throughout history Feminism and gender relations are also viewed from the context of film and literature The authors look at the contemporary roles that women play in Taiwan's work force today how the sexes perceive each other in the workplace and more

Dilemmas in Public Management in Greater China and Australia Andrew Podger, Hon S. Chan, Tsai-tsu Su, John Wanna, 2023-07-12 This book draws on more than a decade of workshops organised by the Greater China Australia Dialogue on Public Administration involving scholars and practitioners from Mainland China Hong Kong Taiwan and Australia Although these workshops recognised the major differences in the institutional frameworks of these jurisdictions until recently they focused largely on the shared challenges and the diffusion of ideas and approaches As rising international tensions inevitably draw attention to areas where interests and philosophies diverge it is the differences that must now be highlighted Yet despite the tensions this book reveals that these jurisdictions continue to address shared challenges in public administration The book's contributors focus in detail on these four areas 1 intergovernmental relations including the shifting balance between centralisation and decentralisation 2 budgeting and financial management including during and after the COVID 19 pandemic 3 the civil service its capability and its relationship with government and the public 4 service delivery particularly in health and aged care This book is aimed at a wide readership not only at those within the jurisdictions it explores It emphasises the importance of continued engagement in understanding different approaches to public administration confirming fundamental philosophical differences where necessary but also looking for common ground and opportunities for shared learning

Building Temples in China Selina Ching Chan, Graeme Lang, 2014-11-27 Much has been written on how temples are constructed or reconstructed for reviving local religious and communal life or for recycling tradition after the market reforms in China The dynamics between the state and society that lie behind the revival of temples and religious practices initiated by the locals have been well analysed However there is a gap in the literature when it comes to understanding religious revivals that were instead led by local governments This book examines the revival of worship of the Chinese Deity Huang Daxian and the building of many new temples to the god in mainland China over the last 20 years It analyses the role of local governments in initiating temple construction projects in China and how development oriented temple building activities in Mainland China reveal the forces of transnational ties capital markets and identities as temples were built with the hope of developing tourism boosting the local economy and enhancing Chinese identities for Hong Kong worshippers and Taiwanese in response to the reunification of Hong Kong to China Including chapters on local religious memory awakening pilgrimage as a form of tourism women temple managers entrepreneurialism and the religious economy and based on extensive fieldwork Chan and Lang have produced a truly interdisciplinary follow up to The Rise of a Refugee God which will appeal to students and scholars of Chinese religion Chinese culture Asian anthropology cultural heritage and Daoism alike

Haunting Ruins Chiara Calzana, Valentina Gamberi, 2025-03-01 Ruins rubble and decaying material can foster a more layered theory of time change and memory The seven ethnographic case studies in Haunting Ruins trace human engagements with the temporal forces of ruins which can trace the past and transform the present Conjuring environmental humanities the anthropology of history memory and archaeology this book delves into the complex influence of the past on the present and the future and urges scholars to consider ruins as things to think with

Global Futures in East Asia Ann Anagnost, Andrea Arai, Hai Ren, 2013-01-09 The East Asian economic miracle of the twentieth century is now a fond memory What does it mean to be living in post miracle times For the youth of China Taiwan Japan and South Korea the opportunities and challenges of the neoliberal age deeply shaped by global forces in labor markets powerfully frame their life prospects in ways that are barely recognizable to their parents Global Futures in East Asia gathers together ethnographic explorations of what its contributors call projects of life making Here we see youth striving to understand themselves their place in society and their career opportunities in the nation region and world While some express optimism it is clear that many others dread their prospects in the competitive global system in which the failure to thrive is isolating humiliating and possibly even fatal Deeply engaged with some of the most significant theoretical debates in the social sciences in recent years and rich with rare cross national comparisons this collection will be of great interest to all scholars and students interested in the formation of subjects and subjectivities under globalization and neoliberalism

In Search of an Identity

Edward Vickers,2004-03-01 This book traces the influences that have shaped the secondary school history curriculum during Hong Kong's prolonged political transition between the 1960s and the early 21st century focusing especially on the relationship between history teaching and identity formation The author's experience as a local history teacher during the mid 1990s made him conscious of the peculiarities of the history curriculum at the time in particular the neglect of Hong Kong's own history in both syllabuses and textbooks and the unique division between History and the entirely separate subject of Chinese History Island Fantasia Wei-Ping Lin,2021-10-07 The Matsu archipelago between China and Taiwan for long an isolated outpost off southeast China was suddenly transformed into a military frontline in 1949 by the Cold War and the Communist Nationalist conflict The army occupied the islands commencing more than 40 long years of military rule With the lifting of martial law in 1992 the people were confronted with the question of how to move forward This in depth ethnography and social history of the islands focuses on how individual citizens redefined themselves and reimagined their society Drawing on long term fieldwork Wei Ping Lin shows how islanders used both traditional and new media to cope with the conflicts and trauma of harsh military rule She discusses the formation of new social imaginaries through the appearance of imagining subjects interrogating their subjectification processes and varied uses of mediating technologies as they seek to answer existential questions This title is Open Access
