Writing African American Women

Elizabeth A. Beaulieu, 2006-04-30 Women have had a complex experience in African American culture. The first work of its kind, this encyclopedia approaches African American literature from a Women's Studies perspective. While Yolanda Williams' Pages: Encyclopedia of African American Women Writers provides biographical entries on more than 150 literary figures, this book is much broader in scope. Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries on African American women writers as well as on male writers who have treated women in their works. Entries on genres, periods, themes, characters, historical events, texts, places, and other topics are included as well. Each entry is written by an expert contributor and relates its subject to the overall experience of women in African American literature. Entries cite works for further reading, and the encyclopedia closes with a selected general bibliography. African American culture is enormously diverse, and the experience of women in African American society is especially complex. Women were among the first African American writers, and works by black women writers are popular among students and general readers alike. At the same time, African American women have been oppressed, and texts by black male authors represent women in a variety of ways. The first of its kind, this encyclopedia approaches African American literature from a Women's Studies perspective and thus significantly illuminates the African American cultural experience through literary works. Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries written by numerous expert contributors. In addition to covering male and female African American authors, the encyclopedia also discusses themes, major works, and characters, genres, periods, historical events, places, and other topics. Included are entries on such authors as Maya Angelou, James Baldwin, Frederick Douglass, Nikki Giovanni, June Jordan, Claude McKay, Ishmael Reed, Sojourner Truth, Phillis Wheatley, and many others. In addition, the many works discussed include Beloved, Blanche on the Lam, I know Why the Caged Bird Sings, The Men of Brewster Place, Quicksand, The Street, Waiting to Exhale, and many more. The many topical entries cover Black Feminism, Black Nationalism, Conjuring, Children's and Young Adult Literature, Detective Fiction, Epistolary Novel, Motherhood, Sexuality, Spirituality, Stereotypes, and many others. Entries relate their topics to the experience of African American women and cite works for further reading.

Defiance of the law uses of indirection moral lapses and bad habits are as much a part of the folk transmitted biography of King as they are a part of writers depictions of him in literary texts Harris first demonstrates that during the Black Arts Movement of the 1960s when writers such as Nikki Giovanni Sonia Sanchez and LeRoi Jones Amiri Baraka were rising stars in African American poetry King s philosophy of nonviolence was out of step with prevailing notions of militancy Black Power and their literature reflected that division In the quieter times of the 1970s and 1980s and into the twenty first century however treatments of King and his philosophy in African American literature changed Writers who initially rejected him and nonviolence became ardent admirers and boosters particularly in the years following his assassination By the 1980s many writers skeptical about King had reevaluated him and began to address him as a fallen hero Black Children's Literature Got de Blues Nancy Tolson, 2008 Here is an innovative exploration of the blues aesthetic that reflects the literary work created by Black authors and illustrators for the Black child reader This book examines literature written for Black children using critical and creative writings by artists scholars and critics that define the blues within Black adult literature poetry and the visual arts The book identifies Black children s literature published in the past forty years by authors and illustrators who can be classified as blues artists and whose work reflects social political economical and historical developments of the Black experience throughout the United States Referencing work created by Jacqueline Woodson Walter Dean Myers John Steptoe Tom Feelings Sherley Anne Williams and others this book demonstrates how the blues aesthetic now includes the literature dedicated to Black children
