Party through a detailed examination of its principal thinkers from Harold Macmillan to the present. Traditionally the Conservative Party has been regarded as a vote gathering machine rather than a vehicle for ideas. This book redresses the balance through a series of biographical essays examining the thought of those who have contributed most to the development of ideas within the party. The chapters benefit from archival research and interviews with leading Conservatives. The recent revival of Conservative fortunes makes the book particularly timely. The book begins with an introductory chapter explaining the role of ideology in the Conservative Party. It then traces the political thought of the Conservative Party through its principal theorists since the 1930s. These are Harold Macmillan, R A Butler, Quintin Hogg, Enoch Powell, Angus Maude, Keith Joseph, the traditionalists, Maurice Cowling, T E Peter, Utey, Peregrine Worsthorne, Shirley Letwin and Roger Scruton, Ian Gilmour, John Redwood and David Willetts. The book concludes with an overall assessment of the political thought of the Conservative Party and the relevance of past debates for contemporary Conservatism. The book will be of considerable interest to academics and non academics alike for those who have a special interest in the Conservative Party but also for any student of contemporary British Politics.

The Manhood of the Master Harry Emerson Fosdick, 2002. Now back in print, the bestselling 1913 classic on the character of Jesus Christ, organized for 12 weeks of daily devotional reading.

Understanding the Roots of Voluntary Action Colin Rochester, 2011. Draws on a range of empirical studies of aspects of the history of voluntary action. This title includes chapters that range across two centuries and a variety of fields of activity, geographical areas and organisational forms.
