Race Masculinity And Schooling:

EBOOK: Race, Masculinity and Schooling Louise Archer, 2003-12-16 a welcome and valuable contribution because of Archer's ability to reveal for her readers the complex and dynamic ways in which young Muslim Asian boys in England construct their identities. Through a careful analysis she demonstrates how stereotypes and inequalities have a real impact on the ways in which these young people negotiate their identities, reminding us of the importance of reading identities within their different contexts. An important and refreshing book. Journal of Education Policy. Muslim boys are currently hot topics of social and educational debate; they have been associated with global terrorism, fundamentalism, urban rioting, and within the context of schooling they appear to be suffering from disproportionately high rates of exclusion and low rates of achievement and post-16 progression. This timely and innovative book examines the issues in detail, foregrounding Muslim boys' own views of their lives and schooling. The book explores the complex interplay between race, ethnicity, religion, masculinity, and social class within Muslim boys' lives. Attention is also given to the role of the teacher-researcher within the boys' production of masculine identities. The book draws on illuminating new research data and reviews a wide range of literature on masculinity and race/ethnicity to enable readers to engage with complex social inequalities within the context of secondary schooling.

The Agony of Masculinity Pierre W. Orelus, 2010 Drawing on critical race theory and empirical data from case studies involving fifty men of African descent, this book presents a new perspective on black masculinity, maleness, sexism, and institutional racism. The book situates black masculinity in a racial, socio-historical, and postcolonial context to provide innovative ways of understanding the profound effects of institutional racism. Although its focus is primarily on people of African descent, the book addresses issues concerning all races and ethnicities, explores the harmful effects of sexism and homophobia on women and queer people, and proposes practical steps that can be taken to fight against socio-economic inequality and injustice that is racially, gender, and sexually based. Given the practical nature and interdisciplinary dimension of this book, readers and educators studying race, racism, sexism, and gender issues will find it germane to their needs and their classes.

Black Masculinities and Schooling Tony Sewell, 1997 This is a book about sex and gender as much as race and racism. That these concepts are interrelated in the experience of African Caribbean boys is demonstrated by this ethnographic study of an inner-city boys' comprehensive school. Masculinities at School Nancy Lesko, 2000 Despite the trend toward gender studies in the social sciences, studies of masculinity have been largely absent from educational research. This volume presents a collection of the current critical scholarship on the creation of masculinities in schools, relations among competing definitions of masculinity and femininity, and linkages between masculinity and school practices. With contributions from the leading scholars in the field, Nancy Lesko studies masculinities in North American, Australian, and British schools. This book covers all levels of schooling from preschool to graduate school and school settings from computer labs to football fields. This fascinating addition to Sage's Research in Men and Masculinities Series provides a thoughtful

Understanding and Teaching Holocaust Education Paula Cowan,Henry Maitles,2016-12-05 The Holocaust is a controversial and difficult teaching topic that needs to be approached sensitively and with an awareness of the complex and emotive issues involved This book offers pragmatic pedagogical and classroom based guidance for teachers and trainee teachers on how to intelligently teach holocaust education in a meaningful and age appropriate way Key coverage includes Practical approaches and useful resources for teaching in schools Holocaust education and citizenship Holocaust remembrance as an educational opportunity How to explore the topic of anti semitism in the classroom Exploring international perspectives on holocaust education Understanding Education Sharon Gewirtz,Alan Cribb,2009-09-28 Who should be educated when by whom and how What purposes should education serve Why does education matter These fundamental questions of value are not always seen as central to the sociology of education. However, this book argues that they are pivotal and provides a sophisticated and engaging introduction to the field that is designed to open up these important debates. It draws attention to the many points of disagreement that exist between major thinkers in the sociology of education and the values on which their ideas are based. By involving readers in crucial questions about the potential contribution of sociology to education policies and practices, it aims to bridge the divide between education as it is talked about by academics and the concerns of policymakers and educators who have to make practical decisions about what is to be done. Chapter by chapter, the book introduces competing approaches in the sociology of education: structural functionalism, symbolic interactionism, Marxism, feminism, critical race theory, and poststructuralism. It shows how these can be applied to major themes such as social reproduction, the politics of knowledge, multicultural education, identity, and teachers' work. Throughout, the authors emphasise the importance of understanding social and educational values and the ways in which these underpin and impact upon the work of both academics and educators.

EBOOK: Girls And Education 3-16: Continuing Concerns, New Agendas Carolyn Jackson, Carrie Paechter, Emma Renold, 2010-01-16. This is a book to own, read, and re-read for its insights and which should then provoke us to act so that all children at school are able to enjoy and benefit from education. Professor Debbie Epstein, Cardiff University, UK. Editor, Gender and Education. This excellent book offers evidence from a rich vein of research covering all aspects of girls and young women's experiences of education in and out of school and is therefore an absolute must for all involved in teaching, learning, researching, and policy making on gender. Professor Gaby Weiner, University of Edinburgh, UK. Countering claims that we live in post-feminist times in which girls have it all and can do and be whatever they like, this book explores some of the current concerns of and about girls today. Issues relating to girls' schooling and femininities have been sidelined and depoliticised in recent education agendas. Yet questions and concerns relating to schoolgirls' lives and experiences deserve immediate attention. Not all girls are academically successful; many girls face exclusion in schools; career aspirations are still gendered; rates of smoking and drinking alcohol are high amongst some groups of girls. With contributions from leading researchers in gender and education, this book draws on cutting-edge research to consider ongoing problems and explore new agendas. Includes contributions relating to the entire 3-16 year age range. Considers both the within and out of school experiences of girls and locates them within wider debates about gender anxieties in contemporary education. This topical collection highlights the main issues faced by girls in Britain today and endeavours to put girls back on the educational agenda. It is essential reading for students, academics, and researchers in education, sociology, and girls' studies, as well as for school teachers and education policy makers.
