Serials in the British Library ,2001 America's Newcomers and the Dynamics of Diversity Frank D. Bean, Gillian Stevens, 2003-05-01 The attacks of September 11 2001 facilitated by easy entry and lax immigration controls cast into bold relief the importance and contradictions of U S immigration policy Will we have to restrict immigration for fear of future terrorist attacks On a broader scale can the country's sense of national identity be maintained in the face of the cultural diversity that today's immigrants bring How will the resulting demographic social and economic changes affect U S residents As the debate about immigration policy heats up it has become more critical than ever to examine immigration's role in our society With a comprehensive social scientific assessment of immigration over the past thirty years America's Newcomers and the Dynamics of Diversity provides the clearest picture to date of how immigration has actually affected the United States while refuting common misconceptions and predicting how it might affect us in the future Frank Bean and Gillian Stevens show how on the whole immigration has been beneficial for the United States Although about one million immigrants arrive each year the job market has expanded sufficiently to absorb them without driving down wages significantly or preventing the native born population from finding jobs Immigration has not led to welfare dependency among immigrants nor does evidence indicate that welfare is a magnet for immigrants With the exception of unauthorized Mexican and Central American immigrants studies show that most other immigrant groups have attained sufficient earnings and job mobility to move into the economic mainstream Many Asian and Latino immigrants have established ethnic networks while maintaining their native cultural practices in the pursuit of that goal While this phenomenon has led many people to believe that today's immigrants are slow to enter mainstream society Bean and Stevens show that intermarriage and English language proficiency among these groups are just as high if not higher as among prior waves of European immigrants America's Newcomers and the Dynamics of Diversity concludes by showing that the increased racial and ethnic diversity caused by immigration may be helping to blur the racial divide in the United States transforming the country from a biracial to multi ethnic and multi racial society Replacing myth with fact America's Newcomers and the Dynamics of Diversity contains a wealth of information and belongs on the bookshelves of policymakers pundits scholars students and anyone who is concerned about the changing face of the United States A Volume in the American Sociological Association's Rose Series in Sociology Asian Americans Pyong Gap Min, 2006 Compared to many existing texts on this subject which tend to take a rather historical approach this book focuses on more contemporary Asian experiences Thus Min has provided a new tool for those of use who have looked for adequate material to teach current Asian American trends in advanced undergraduate courses in the sociology of race as well as in ethnic studies Encompassing a variety of perspectives from prominent scholars makes this book a valuable device to examine the less visible aspects of Asian Americans lives Students and educators alike would certainly benefit from diligent study of this text TEACHING SOCIOLOGY reviewed October 2006 by Etsuko Maruoka SUNY Stony Brook Offering a broad overview of the Asian American experience Asian Americans provides an accessible resource for all students interested in the expanding and important Asian American population While historical information is provided for each group the main focus is on the variables and issues that impact Asian American life today The scholars who author the chapters look at topics such as labor force participation and economic status educational achievements intermarriage intergroup relations and settlement patterns Photo essays help to enhance the presentations Key Features Covers the Asian American population as a whole as well as individual ethnic groups i e Korean Americans Indian Americans etc Covers theories as well as providing sociological data to illustrate issues for Asian Americans as a whole and as individual groups Visual essays on the following topics provide powerful illustrations of the text content Filipino Americans Japanese Americans Korean Americans Chinese Americans South Asian Americans Southeast Asian Americans Economic Adaptation Second Generation Experiences Updated to not only include information derived from 2000 Census data but also has a focus on the second generation experience Race and the City Shanti Fernando, 2011-11-01 In Race and the City Shanti Fernando presents an elegant analysis of the mechanisms of political mobilization under systemic racism that draws on case studies interviews and a detailed understanding of the racialized legal and sociocultural histories of both the United States and Canada She argues that while increasing diversity may be a challenge for systemic inclusiveness it is one that must be met if Canada is to uphold its vision of a truly democratic society Being White Karyn D. McKinney, 2013-04-15 Karyn McKinney uses written autobiographies solicited from young white people to empirically analyze the contours of the white experience in U S society This text offers a unique view of whiteness based on the rich data provided by whites themselves writing about what it means to be white Ethnicity, Class, and Nationalism Anton Allahar, 2005-01-01 Celebrants of an ever emerging globalization fly the banner of free trade the mass marketization of once faltering economies and rising economic and social standards for all Many opponents to globalization rightfully point out that borders still exist largely for the purposes of keeping one commodity in its place the labor commodity or the more familiar immigrant Arguments of this type are often steeped in economic and social discourse Race and ethnicity are seen as either being subsumed by this discourse or are entirely ignored as incidental to this type of political thought In Ethnicity Class and Nationalism Caribbean

Unequal Treatment Institute of Medicine, Board on Health Sciences Policy, Committee on Understanding and Eliminating Racial and Ethnic Disparities in Health Care, 2009-02-06. Racial and ethnic disparities in health care are known to reflect access to care and other issues that arise from differing socioeconomic conditions. There is, however, increasing evidence that even after such differences are accounted for, race and ethnicity remain significant predictors of the quality of health care received. In Unequal Treatment, a panel of experts documents this evidence and explores how persons of color experience the health care environment. The book examines how disparities in treatment may arise in health care systems and looks at aspects of the clinical encounter that may contribute to such disparities. Patients' and providers' attitudes, expectations, and behavior are analyzed. How to intervene: Unequal Treatment offers recommendations for improvements in medical care, financing, allocation of care, availability of language translation, community-based care, and other arenas. The committee highlights the potential of cross-cultural education to improve provider-patient communication and offers a detailed look at how to integrate cross-cultural learning within the health professions. The book concludes with recommendations for data collection and research initiatives. Unequal Treatment will be vitally important to health care policymakers, administrators, providers, educators, and students, as well as advocates for people of color.

Globalization and America Angela J. Hattery, David G. Embrick, Earl Smith, 2008-05-21. Hattery, Embrick, and Smith present a collection of essays that explore the ways in which issues of human rights and social inequality are shared globally. The editors focus on the United States' role in contributing to human rights violations both inside and outside its borders. Essays on contemporary issues such as immigration, colonialism, and reparations are used to illustrate how the U.S. and the rest of the world are inextricably linked in their relationships to human rights violations and social inequality.

Unequal Motherhoods and the Adoption of Asian Children Jungyun Gill, 2016-12-13. This book explores a deeply personal aspect of globalization: the adoption of Asian children by white Americans. It is based on dozens of interviews with adoptive mothers and adoption social workers, nearly two hundred letters, and essays written by Korean birth mothers who put their children up for adoption and field work at an adoption agency in South Korea. It also includes analyses and explanations of U.S. and South Korean governments' social characteristics and policies regarding adoptions and how relations between nations have affected international adoption. The book focuses on whether the commonly held notion that adoptions are to serve children's welfare and their best interests has tended to render gendered aspects of international adoptions invisible. Factors such as gender inequality, social control of women's reproductive power, patriarchic family structure, and social beliefs concerning womanhood and motherhood that affect international adoptions are revealed in this book The multiple ways in which adoptive birth and foster mothers experience gender oppression from their different social positions of class race and nationality are explored and the interdependencies and inequalities of the motherhoods of these three groups of women are brought to light Spaces of Hate Colin Flint,2013-10-18 While much has been written about hate groups and extreme right political movements this book will be the first that addresses the crucial role that place and context play in generating and shaping them Ranging across geographical scales the essays start with the home and then move from the local to the regional to the national to finally the global In this collection much of the focus is on the U S as the contributors consider a variety of hate activity and hate groups across the country including rural white supremacist and neo Nazi movements anti black sentiment directed towards cities anti gay activity in cities and rural areas and the resurgent Southern nationalist movement Closing with pieces from those who combat hate activity the intention of Spaces of Hate is to recognize specific geographic settings likely to foster hate activity California's Social Problems Charles F Hohm,James A Glynn,2002

Diversity and Aging Among Immigrant Seniors in Canada Douglas Durst,Michael MacLean,2010-01-01 Historically Canada has been a nation of immigrants with 16 20% of its citizens being foreign born Most immigrant research addresses the issues of integration and adjustment of young and adult immigrants with little work on aging There are numerous books on immigrants and books on aging but there are few that have considered the topics of both diversity and aging Diversity and Aging among Immigrant Seniors in Canada breaks from that tradition and offers an eclectic collection of original research from among Canada's leading researchers on aging and immigrants Some researchers refer to this emerging field as Ethno gerontology There are two interesting groups of immigrant seniors those who entered Canada at over 65 years of age and those who aged in Canada Most Canadians are surprised to learn that the senior population of seniors has a higher percentage of immigrants 19.6% than the general population 13.7% As Canadians age the country's composition of immigrant seniors has also changed from mainly European to greater cultural and ethnic diversity from Africa and Asia This cultural and ethnic diversity has social health economic policy implications and impacts on programs and services delivered to seniors Diversity and Aging among Immigrant Seniors in Canada is divided into two main sections In Part 1 the chapters explore general and universal issues such as national trends and demographics theoretical orientations issues of culture and legal dimensions poverty and income and end of life care In Part 2 the chapters examine issues pertaining to specific ethnic groups For example there are chapters on the social well being of Chinese immigrants determinants of mental health for Iranian seniors family dynamics for aging Haitian elders and emerging issues for Punjabi families Diversity and Aging among Immigrant Seniors in Canada offers both breadth and depth to the topic of aging among immigrants and is a must read for social work and health care professionals students in health and social services policy and program planners and families of aging immigrants It is written in a language that crosses disciplines shedding professional jargon making it an informative and engaging read for professionals researchers and the general public
