Race for Eldorado William Moss, 1993-01-01 Seeking El Dorado Lawrence B. de Graaf, Kevin Mulroy, Quintard Taylor, 2014-07-01 From the 18th century African Americans like many others have migrated to California to seek fortunes or often the more modest goals of being able to find work own a home and raise a family relatively free of discrimination Not only their search but also its outcome is covered in Seeking El Dorado Whether they settled in major cities or smaller towns African Americans created institutions and organizations churches social clubs literary societies fraternal orders civil rights organizations that embodied the legacy of their past and the values they shared Blacks came in search of the same jobs as other Americans but the search often proved frustrating Throughout the 19th and 20th centuries African American leadership in the state consistently focused on achieving racial justice The essays in this book speak of triumph and hardship success discrimination and disappointment Seeking El Dorado is a major contribution to black history and the history of the American West and will be of interest to both scholars and general readers Race and Radio Bala James

Baptiste, 2019-08-01 In Race and Radio Pioneering Black Broadcasters in New Orleans Bala James Baptiste traces the history of the integration of radio broadcasting in New Orleans and tells the story of how African American on air personalities transformed the medium Analyzing a trove of primary data including archived manuscripts articles and display advertisements in newspapers oral narratives of historical memories and other accounts of African Americans and radio in New Orleans between 1945 and 1965 Baptiste constructs a formidable narrative of broadcast history racism and black experience in this enormously influential radio market The historiography includes the rise and progression of black broadcasters who reshaped the Crescent City The first O C W Taylor hosted an unprecedented talk show the Negro Forum on WNOE beginning in 1946 Three years later in 1949 listeners heard Vernon Dr Daddy O Winslow s smooth and creative voice as a disk jockey on WWEZ The book also tells of Larry McKinley who arrived in New Orleans from Chicago in 1953 and played a critical role in informing black listeners about the civil rights movement in the city The racial integration of radio presented opportunities for African Americans to speak more clearly in their own voices and with a technological tool that opened a broader horizon in which to envision community While limited by corporate pressures and demands from advertisers ranging from local funeral homes to Jax beer these black broadcasters helped unify and organize the communities to which they spoke Race and Radio captures the first overtures of this new voice and preserves a history of black radio s awakening Zambia, England's El Dorado Edward P. traditional entertainment based on popular genres for a wider audience than the youth culture who flocked to more transgressive fare Ken Windrum focuses on four genres of traditionalist movies big budget musicals war spectacles naughty sex comedies and Westerns From El Dorado to Lost Horizons shows how even seemingly innocuous family oriented films still participated in the progressive aspects of the time while also holding a conservative point of view Windrum analyzes representations of issues including gender roles marriage sexuality civil rights and Cold War foreign policy revealing how these films dealt with changing times and reflected both status quo positions and new attitudes He also examines how the movies continued or deviated from classical principles of structure and style Windrum provides a counter history of the Hollywood Renaissance by focusing on a group of important films that have nevertheless been neglected in scholarly accounts This book is detailed and insightful in discussing the traditional classical and maverick but ultimately recuperative qualities of the mainstream films of the period Windrum's discussion of the narrative structure and stylistic elements of the films both classical and innovative is a highlight of the book Glenn Man author of Radical Visions American Film Renaissance 1967-1976 Mojave-Kern River-El Dorado Natural Gas Pipeline Projects, 1987 2000 Census of Population and Housing: United States (2 v.), 2002 Includes 100 percent data for population and housing unit counts and summary statistics on age sex race Hispanic origin household relationship tenure vacancy characteristics land area measurements and population density Ephemeral Territories Erin Manning, 2003 What does it mean to be at home In a critical engagement with notions of territory identity racial difference separatism multiculturalism and homelessness this book delves into the question of what it means to belong in particular what it means to be at home in Canada Ephemeral Territories weaves together many narratives and representations of Canadian identity from political philosophy and cultural theory to art and films such as Srinivas Krishna's Lulu Clement Virgo's Rude and Charles Biname's Eldorado to develop and complicate familiar views of identity and selfhood Canadian identity has historically been linked to a dual notion of culture traceable to the French and English strains of Canada's colonial past Erin Manning subverts this binary through readings that shift our attention from nationalist constructions of identity and territory to a more radical and pluralizing understanding of the political As she brings together issues specific to Canada such as Quebec separatism and Canadian landscape painting and concerns that are more transnational such as globalization and immigration Manning emphasizes the truly cross cultural nature of the problems of racism gender discrimination and homelessness Thus this impassioned reading of Canadian texts also makes an important contribution to philosophical cultural and political discourses across the globe
