Historians have offered a variety of explanations of the origins and cultural practices of hospitality in the antebellum South. Economic historians have at times portrayed southern hospitality as evidence of conspicuous consumption and competition among wealthy planters while cultural historians have treated it peripherally as a symptomatic expression of the southern code of honor. Although historians have offered different theories they generally agree that the mythic dimensions of southern hospitality eventually outstripped its actual practices. Szczesiul examines why we have chosen to remember and valorize this particular aspect of the South and he raises fundamental ethical questions that underlie both the concept of hospitality and the cultural work of American memory particularly in light of the region's historical legacy of slavery and segregation.

Women Who Wrestled with God Irmtraud Fischer, 2017-05-05 Israel's story as a people of God is a tale of women, men and their children. Moving past a patriarchal reading of the Bible, Fischer presents a new interpretation of neglected biblical narratives. From a gender balanced perspective she reveals the political dimension and narrative continuation of ancestral stories in the Book of Ruth. Women Who Wrestled with God demonstrates the significance of women in religious history in a way that will inspire as well as inform. Chapters are: The Fathers and the Beginnings of the People; An Introduction to Israel's Ancestors: Sarah, Hagar and Abraham; Scenes From a Marriage Under the Promise; Rebecca: A Strong Woman With a Colorless Husband; Rachel and Leah: The Founders of the House of Israel; Dark Sides of the Family Chronicle; Subversive Women at the Beginnings of the People in Egypt; Naomi and Ruth: The Unconventional Women; Ancestors of the Royal House of David; and Women Who Wrestled with God. Irmtraud Fischer is professor of Old Testament and women's studies theology at the University of Bonn as well as chair of Old Testament studies at the University of Graz, Austria. President of the European Society for Women's Research in Theology, Fischer was given the 2003 Bad Herrenalber Akademie Preis. Harper's New Monthly Magazine, 1898. Mothering the Self Stephanie Lawler, 2002-01-04 The mother-daughter relationship has preoccupied feminist writers for decades but typically it has been the daughter's story at centre stage. Mothering the Self brings together these maternal and daughterly stories by drawing on in-depth interviews with women who speak both as mothers and as daughters. This study examines the ways in which these mothers and daughters participate in their understanding of class, gender and race, locations both using and resisting them. The result is a fresh start from which to consider the far-reaching implications of this relationship not simply for mothers and daughters but in terms of how we understand the shaping of the self and its place within the social world. Psychologies of Mind J. R. Maze, 2009-05-20 A corpus remarkable for its coherence, intellectual virtuosity and radicalism over 50 years, this collection of John Maze's published work speaks meaningfully to the wide range of psychological theory throughout its history up to the present day.
