Regional Integration In Africa Unfinished Agenda:

Regional Integration in Africa Peter Anyang' Nyong'o, 1990 Sovereignty as Responsibility Francis M. Deng, Sadikiel Kimaro, Terrence Lyons, 2010-12-01 The authors assert that sovereignty can no longer be seen as a protection against interference but as a charge of responsibility where the state is accountable to both domestic and external constituencies In internal conflicts in Africa sovereign states have often failed to take responsibility for their own citizens welfare and for the humanitarian consequences of conflict leaving the victims with no assistance This book shows how that responsibility can be exercised by states over their own population and by other states in assistance to their fellow sovereigns Sovereignty as Responsibility presents a framework that should guide both national governments and the international community in discharging their respective responsibilities Broad principles are developed by examining identity as a potential source of conflict governance as a matter of managing conflict and economics as a policy field for deterring conflict Considering conflict management political stability economic development and social welfare as functions of governance the authors develop strategies guidelines and roles for its responsible exercise Some African governments such as South Africa in the 1990s and Ghana since 1980 have demonstrated impressive gains against these standards while others such as Rwanda Somalia Liberia Nigeria and Sudan have failed Opportunities for making sovereignty more responsible and improving the management of conflicts are examined at the regional and international levels The lessons from the mixed successes of regional conflict management actions such as the West African intervention in Liberia the East African mediation in Sudan and international efforts to urge talks to end the conflict in Angola indicate friends and neighbors outside the state in conflict have important roles to play in increasing sovereign responsibility Approaching conflict management from the perspective of the responsibilities of sovereign Africa in World Politics Guy Martin, 2002 This book examines the key aspects of Africa s external relations and reviews the various political security and economic strategies through which independent African states have tried to enhance their power and status in the world The author analyses the ideology of Eurafrica as well as Europe s evolving relationship with Africa while also assessing the prospects for African regional integration in the context of Pan Africanism Development Centre Seminars Regional Integration in Africa OECD, Asian Development Bank, 2002-04-25 Regional integration and co ordination are not a panacea but they could hold the key to African countries long awaited participation in the world economy This was one of the conclusions of the second International Forum on African Perspectives Pan Africanism, Regional Integration and Development in Africa Samuel Ojo Oloruntoba, 2020-03-10 This edited volume addresses the accomplishments prospects and challenges of regional integration processes on the African continent Since regional integration is a process that ebbs and flows according to a wide range of variables such as changing political and economic conditions implications and factors derived from the vagaries of migration and climate change it is crucial to be cognizant with how these variables impact regional integration initiatives The contributors discuss the debates on Pan Africanism and linking it with ongoing discourses and policies on regional integration in Africa Other aspects of the book contain some of the most important topic issues such as migration border management and the sustainable development goals This content offers readers fresh and innovative perspectives on various aspects of sustainable development and regional growth in Africa Globalized Africa: Political, Social and Economic Impact A. Ninsin, 2012-12-27 Is globalization beneficial to Africa Does it open infinite opportunities for economic growth development and social transformation of the continent It is the assertion of contributions to this collection that for Africa globalisation is a counter revolutionary movement that is stalling the drive of the continent's societies to transform themselves into developed and prosperous entities just as slavery and colonialism Included are contributions from eminent scholars such as Samir Amin Horace Campbell Thandika Mkandawire and Cyril Obi Flexible Regional Economic Integration in Africa Timothy Masiko, 2022-04-21 This book examines the relationship between flexible regional economic integration in the East African Community EAC through its application of variable geometry and the establishment of the African Continental Free Trade Area AfCFTA as a continent wide form of integration It uses a historical political legal and economic analysis of the processes that led to the adoption of flexible regional integration in Africa with particular regard to the EAC This takes place in the inescapable context of pan Africanism showing how regional integration efforts in Africa are based on pan Africanist ideals and how an evolution of these ideals has led to an evolution in the goals of integration With growing awareness of the weaknesses and impracticality of consensus based decision making on a global level it makes the case for the pursuit of flexibility in multilateral trade drawing lessons from the experience of the AfCFTA and blocs in other regions This book is a historical evaluation of regional economic integration efforts in Africa and it follows the path of attempts to integrate the economies on the continent from colonial times to the birth of the AfCFTA While it is a study in law it relies heavily on politics economics and history to weave together a more complete theory of economic integration based on the African experience Flexible Regional Economic Integration in Africa was awarded the 2020 SIEL Hart Prize in International Economic Law Region-Building in Africa Daniel H. Levine, Dawn Nagar, 2016-05-19 This landmark book is the first of its kind to assess the challenges of African region building and regional integration across all five African sub regions and more than five decades of experience considering both political and economic aspects Leading scholars and practitioners come together to analyze a range of entwined topics including the theoretical underpinnings that have informed Africa's regional integration trajectory the political economy of integration including the sources of different waves of integration in pan Africanism and the reaction to neo liberal economic pressures the complexities of integration in a context of weak states and the informal regionalization that often occurs in borderlands the increasing salience of Africa's relationships with rising extra regional economic powers including China and India and comparative lessons from non African regional blocs including the EU ASEAN and the Southern Common Market A core argument of this book running through all chapters is that region building must be recognized as a political project as much as if not more than an economic one successful region building in Africa will need to include the complex political tasks of strengthening state capacity including states capacity as developmental states that can actively engage in economic planning resolving long standing conflicts over resources and political dominance improving democratic governance and developing trans national political structures that are legitimate and inclusive

Asante,2016-07-27 A critical appraisal of regionalism as a key strategy in Africa s development explaining the failures thus far of attempts at regional integration on the continent This is the first text to highlight the main features of the new post 1990 regional initiatives such as the all embracing African Economic Community and World Bank IMF African Development Bank EC and French initiatives and the challenges to Africa from trading blocs elsewhere in the post Uruguay Round environment

Prospects for Regional Integration in Africa Andreas Freytag,Abena D. Oduro, African integration has had a long history dating back to the end of colonization in the 1960s It has generated enormous interest in recent years not least because the continent has recently taken some bold steps to integrate further such as the Tripartite Free Trade Area or the creation of the African Continental Free Trade Area AfCFTA With this book we offer an innovative perspective on African integration By inviting mostly young African scholars from different disciplines in the social sciences and humanities we make African voices audible and start a discussion of the African integration efforts from an African perspective using novel criteria to judge different African integration attempts In addition to the younger generation s representatives we also invited scholars from Europe and Latin America to bring other continents perspectives to the fore
