Regions in Question (Routledge Revivals) Charles Gore, 2013-12-19 Originally published in 1984 Regional development planning has grown rapidly in recent years as both an academic specialism and a focus of policy and practice Books and articles on the subject have proliferated and all across the Third World governments have become committed to it setting up large new departments and even ministries Charles Gore argues that this growing popularity of regional planning in developing countries is profoundly paradoxical Regional Development and Settlement Policy David Dewar, Alison Todes, Vanessa Watson, 2017-09-05 Originally published in 1986 This book focusses on a critical analysis of regional development strategy in South Africa and shifts over time in that strategy Regional development theory and thinking about settlement policy have developed largely independently of each other This book clarifies some of the resulting confusion and points towards a greater integration of the two areas of understanding The book provides an overview of shifts which occurred in national and regional development theory and the broader social economic and political factors which influenced these shifts It identifies the major policy implications of the various development approaches with particular emphasis placed on the role of settlement policy The differences between policy approaches and the debates surrounding them are identified and discussed Geography And Development Arthur Morris, 2005-08-15 First published in 1998 Written in a highly accessible style this book examines economic development processes across the world The old certainties of what constitutes development and whether it is the same for all peoples no longer exist Goals once imposed by agencies like the World Bank are increasingly questioned and the spatial development planning characteristics of the 1960s and 70s is increasingly seen as an intrusion into free and competitive markets Indeed a question now being asked is should development be promoted at all This book examines these fundamental issues and presents and evaluates the different theoretical approaches to development Each country has its own tale to tell and by using valuable case study material the author shows how different policies have impacted on the geography of regions Processes of development in the newly industrialised countries NICs of South Korea and Singapore are examined as well as the flexible specialisation model characteristic of many Mediterranean countries and the post industrial service economies based on high technology The book argues convincingly that the fundamental spatial and temporal patterns of development in modern times are no longer the importance of physical resources but the complex human resources and the determination to work Anchored firmly in the needs of students this book will be widely welcomed by undergraduates taking courses in human geography and development studies Earthly Goods Fen Osler Hampson, Judith Reppy, 2018-09-05 Global environmental change raises profound moral issues with which society has only begun to grapple What does fairness mean in dividing responsibilities for problems of global warming between rich and poor nations Does the environment itself have moral standing and if so how should its conflicts with the interests of people who depend on the land for their livelihood be resolved How can the interests of the poor of indigenous peoples and of future generations be properly accommodated in a political discourse about environmental policy which is dominated by industrialized states This book extends the debate both within and across disciplines engaging philosophers geographers political scientists economists sociologists and environmental activists from four continents The essays address the role of science in global change and argue that western science does not provide morally disinterested solutions to environmental problems They discuss the role of state and substate actors in the international politics of the environment and then use accounts of actual negotiations to argue for the centrality of social justice in reaching desirable and equitable agreements They conclude that a framework for social justice under conditions of global environmental change must include community values and provide for participatory structures to arbitrate among competing interests The Political Economy of Uneven Development Shaoguang Wang, Angang Hu, 1999 Exploring one of the most dynamic and contested regions of the world this series includes works on political economic cultural and social changes in modern and contemporary Asia and the Pacific Urbanization in Post-Apartheid South Africa Richard Tomlinson, 2017-10-30 Originally published in 1990 Urbanization in Post Apartheid South Africa examines the democratic future of South Africa in the context of policy options and constraints The book looks at the issue of South Africa s future including access to land and housing marked regional differences in well being large peri urban settlements arising around all major towns and racial inequalities in access to farming land The book will be of interest to students of urbanization geography economics and planning and African studies The Geography of the World Economy 5th Edition Paul Knox, John Agnew, Linda McCarthy, 2014-04-04 The Geography of the World Economy provides an in depth introduction to the globalization of the world economy and discusses local regional national and global economic development over the course of history This new edition is fully revised and in colour Regional Policy in Europe S.S Artobolevskiy, 2012-10-12 Based on the author s extensive research in the field this book analyzes regional policy for the whole of Europe Comparing East and West it offers a new model of regional policy and gives an overview of the direction that it may take in Europe as a whole Topics covered include the evaluation of regional policy its main aims its infrastructure in Western Europe its form in Eastern Europe and the development of regional policy from 1917 to the 1990s The book is intended for professionals and academics working in the areas of regional studies economics and policy studies Regional Policy and Regional Planning in Ghana Sam Ofori, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2002 This work is about the socio economic and spatial impacts of planning policy aimed at improving the living standards and well being of the regional communities of Ghana Implicit the effectiveness assessment of regional planning practice It is set within the context of the new national planning system and offers strategic opportunities and challenges Characteristically the national and regional policies and contacts are probed and the lack of formal regional plan making stressed The author critically analyzes the problem of socio economic and spatial disparities over the mid 60s to the early 1990s explaining the observed changes The latter is differentiatingly done in terms of relevant theories and the empirics undertaken These include the fashion of perception and conceptualization of development Change is based on one off micro projects at the regional level and a meso regional project within a sub regional context Dr Ofori equally stresses the implementations and local management of the planning policies and programmes Inclusive in the dynamics behind the processes is the role of partnership A further distinctive contribution is the identification of opportunities for planning intervention and policy recommendations for a better change in the future towards making things happen

Disabling Globalization Gillian Patricia Hart, 2002 An unequivocally excellent work of scholarship that makes significant theoretical and empirical contributions to the understanding of globalization and the working of contemporary neo liberal capitalism Hart is especially innovative in placing the study of Taiwanese industrialists in South Africa in relation to both the agrarian history of Taiwan and China and the way that Taiwanese overseas firms have operated in places other than South Africa It is a very rare combination of talents and knowledge that makes such a study possible James Ferguson author of Expectations of Modernity

Insurgencies and Revolutions Haripriya Rangan, Mee Kam NG, Libby Porter, Jacquelyn Chase, 2016-10-26 Over the past six or more decades John Friedmann has been an insurgent force in the field of urban and regional planning transforming it from its traditional state centered concern for establishing social and spatial order into a radical domain of collaborative action between state and civil society for creating the good society in the present and future By opening it up to theoretical engagement with a wide range of disciplines Friedmann's contributions have revolutionised planning as a transdisciplinary space of critical thinking social learning and reflective practice Insurgencies and Revolutions brings together former students close research associates and colleagues of John Friedmann to reflect on his contributions to planning theory and practice The volume is organized around five broad themes where Friedmann's contributions have risen to challenge established paradigms and generated the space for revolutionary thinking and action in urban and regional planning Theorising hope Economic development and regionalism World cities and the Good city Social learning empowered communities and citizenship and Chinese cities The essays by the authors reflect their engagement with his ideas and the new directions in which they have taken these in their work in planning theory and practice

Understanding African Real Estate Markets Aly Karam, François Viruly, Catherine Kariuki, Victor Akujuru, 2022-04-28 This book brings together a broad range of research that interrogates how real estate market analysis finance planning and investment for residential and commercial developments across the African continent are undertaken In the past two decades African real estate markets have rapidly matured creating the conditions for new investment opportunities which has increased the demand for a deeper understanding of the commercial and residential markets across the continent The chapters consider issues that pertain to formal real estate markets and the critical relationship between formal and informal property markets on the continent With contributing authors from South Africa Ghana Nigeria Uganda Kenya and Tanzania the book considers the achievements of African real estate markets while also highlighting the complex central themes such as underdeveloped land tenure arrangements the availability of finance in both the commercial and residential sectors rapidly growing urban areas and inadequate professional skills This book is essential reading for students in real estate land management planning finance development and economics programs who need to understand the nuances of markets in the African context Investors and policy makers will learn a lot reading this book too

Endogenous Development Antonio Vázquez Barquero, 2002 The beginning of the twenty first century has been characterized by the expansion of economic politics and institutional relations Using international case studies this book illustrates the local answer to the challenge of increasing competition The book introduces the idea of endogenous development identifying the theoretical roots and defining its main features It then goes on to indicate how this concept can be used to understand economic dynamics and to show how the concept is relevant in economic analysis and policy implementation in times of globalization After an introduction discussing globalization and development the book is organized in three parts Part one defines and discusses the concept of endogenous development Part two analyses the processes involved in the mechanics of capital accumulation and local development examining the role of institutions in development processes and the functions of cities in globalization Part three argues that a new generation of development policies is beginning to take shape based on the fact that greater competition and globalization increases spatial diversity and stimulates strategic behaviour This work will be of essential interest to academics and policy makers in planning and development and development economics
