Domains and Divisions of European History Johann P. Arnason, Jóhann Páll Arnason, Natalie Doyle, 2010-01-01 The patterns of unity and division that define Europe as a historical region have been discussed in many seminal works but the complex set of questions behind its domains and divisions merits a more sustained debate The disappearance of the cold war the enlargement of the European Union and core issues of historical sociology all require an exploration of the structures and boundaries of historical formations as well as the question of European unity This volume tackles the topic of the divisions that have shaped European history head on as leading scholars in the field negotiate such issues as regional identity geographical boundaries divisional labeling and post cold war European unity

Berend, Przemysław Urbańczyk, Przemysław Wiszewski, 2013-12-19 This groundbreaking comparative history of the early centuries of Bohemia Hungary and Poland sets the development of each polity in the context of the central European region as a whole Focusing on the origins of the realms and their development in the eleventh and twelfth centuries the book concludes with the thirteenth century when significant changes in social and economic structures occurred The book presents a series of thematic chapters on every aspect of the early history of the region covering political religious economic social and cultural developments including an investigation of origin myths that questions traditional national narratives It also explores the ways in which west European patterns were appropriated and adapted through the local initiatives of rulers nobles and ecclesiastics in central Europe An ideal introduction to the essential themes in medieval central European history the book sheds important new light on regional similarities and differences Declining Democracy in East-Central Europe Attila Ágh, 2019 The dramatic decline of democracy in East Central Europe has attracted great interest world wide Going beyond the narrow spectrum of the extensive literature on this topic this book offers a comprehensive analysis of ECE region Czech Republic Hungary Poland Slovakia and Slovenia from systemic change in 1989 to 2019 to explain the reasons of the collapse of ECE democratic systems in the 2010s History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope, John Neubauer, 2006-09-13 Continuing the work undertaken in Vol 1 of the History of the Literary Cultures of East Central Europe Vol 2 considers various topographic sites multicultural cities border areas cross cultural corridors multiethnic regions that cut across national boundaries rendering them permeable to the flow of hybrid cultural messages By focusing on the literary cultures of specific geographical locations this volume intends to put into practice a new type of comparative study Traditional comparative literary studies establish transnational comparisons and contrasts but thereby reconfirm however inadvertently the very national borders they play down This volume inverts the expansive momentum of comparative studies towards ever broader regional European and world literary histories While the theater of this volume is still the literary culture of East Central Europe the contributors focus on pinpointed local traditions and geographic nodal points Their histories of Riga Plovdiv Timi oara or Budapest of Transylvania or the Danube corridor to take a few examples reveal how each of these sites was during the last two hundred years a home for a variety of foreign or ethnic literary traditions next to the one now dominant within the national borders By foregrounding such non national or hybrid traditions this volume pleads for a diversification and pluralization of local and national histories A genuine comparatist revival of literary history should involve the recognition that treading on native grounds means actually treading on grounds cultivated by diverse people The Routledge History Handbook of Central and Eastern Europe in the Twentieth Century Włodzimierz Borodziej, Ferenc Laczó, Joachim von Puttkamer, 2020-08-02 Intellectual Horizons offers a pioneering transnational and comparative treatment of key thematic areas in the intellectual and cultural history of Central and Eastern Europe in the twentieth century For most of the twentieth century Central and Eastern European ideas and cultures constituted an integral part of wider European trends However the intellectual and cultural history of this diverse region has rarely been incorporated sufficiently into nominally comprehensive histories of Europe This volume redresses this underrepresentation and provides a more balanced perspective on the recent past of the continent through original critical overviews of themes ranging from the social and conceptual history of intellectuals and histories of political thought and historiography to literary visual and religious cultures to perceptions and representations of the region in the twentieth century While structured thematically individual contributions are organized chronologically They emphasize where relevant generational experiences agendas and accomplishments while taking into account the sharp ruptures that characterize the period The third in a four volume set on Central and Eastern Europe in the twentieth century it is the go to resource for understanding the intellectual and cultural history of this dynamic region

A History of Modern Political Thought in East Central Europe Balázs Trencsenyi, Michal Kopeček, Luka Lisjak Gabrijelčić, Maria Falina, Mónika Baár, 2018-11-10

A History of Modern Political Thought in East Central Europe is a synthetic work authored by an international team of researchers covering twenty national cultures and 250 years It goes beyond the conventional nation centered narratives and presents a novel vision especially sensitive to the cross cultural entanglement of political ideas and discourses Its principal aim is to make these cultures available for the global market of ideas and revisit some of the basic assumptions about the history of modern political thought and modernity as such The present volume is the final part of the project following Volume I Negotiating Modernity in the Long Nineteenth Century and Volume II Part I Negotiating Modernity in the Short Twentieth Century 1918-1968 OUP 2018 Its starting point is the defeat of the vision of socialism with a human face in 1968 and the political discourses produced by the various consolidation or normalization regimes It continues with mapping the exile communities and domestic dissidents critical engagement with the local democratic and anti democratic traditions as well as with global trends Rather than achieving the coveted end of history however the liberal democratic order created in East Central Europe after 1989 became increasingly contested from left and right alike Thus instead of a comfortable conclusion pointing to the European integration of most of these countries the book closes with a reflection on the fragility of democracy in this part of the world and beyond
