Tamarin, 2002 This book addresses the problem of surface protection for aircraft engine turbine blades It is based on the author's 30 years of work on the development and application of coatings to protect against oxidation and hot corrosion. It describes and details a methodology for optimizing turbine blade surface protection. The distinctions of this book from other publications on this topic include: The performance of protective coatings is assessed and evaluated by the complex interconnections of their chemical and phase composition, structure and physical mechanical properties. The properties of overlay coatings are given for the wide range of compositions including the possible coatings states after their production and long term service. The principles for calculating the stresses and strains for coated turbine blades are reviewed.

Resolutions and recommendations: World Conservation Congress, Jeju, Republic of Korea, 6-15 September 2012, Making Trade Policy in the European Community J.P. Hayes, 2016-07-27. Commentators often see wide differences between policy as they consider how it should be conducted and how it actually emerges. Those who are involved in making trade policy for their part commonly accuse commentators of not living in the real world. There is often a dialogue of the deaf. Part of Mr Hayes' object has been to try to build bridges between practitioners and commentators with suggestions for ways of improving the policy making process in the future. Hugh Corbet, Consultant Trade Policy Research Centre London. The external trade policies of the European Community are of great importance both for its own people and for trading partners in the remainder of the world. Yet the processes by which the European Community of twelve countries attempts to reach agreement have remained somewhat mysterious. What has been the relative influence of principles of policy and of various political, bureaucratic and private interests at both the Community and the national levels? This volume is based on a number of case studies and also contains chapters on the formation of attitudes to trade policy in three of the largest countries of the Community: Germany, France and the United Kingdom.

Problem Behavior Theory and Adolescent Health Richard Jessor, 2017-03-31. This second volume of Richard Jessor's influential works applies his groundbreaking theory to illuminating the psychosocial determinants of adolescent health. Focusing on a range of both health compromising and health enhancing behaviors including problem drinking, marijuana use, risky driving and early sexual experience as well as regular exercise and healthy diet, these writings advance understanding of the role of health behavior in adolescence and adolescent development. Chapters illustrate the relevance of the theory and of its interdisciplinary approach for research on behavioral health in adolescence and for the design of prevention intervention programs to promote healthy development. In addition, the book's comparative studies of U.S. and Chinese youth reveal the generality of the theory across societal and national differences. Topics featured in this book include Alcohol use and problem drinking in adolescent health and development, Psychosocial research on marijuana use, Understanding early initiation of sexual intercourse in adolescence, Smoking behavior in adolescence and young adulthood, Developmental change in risky driving, Healthy eating and regular exercise in adolescent
