Ibss: Political Science: 1994 British Library of Political and Economic Science at the London School of Economics,1995-12-08 The IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences

Consumer Services and Economic Development Colin C. Williams,1997-04-17 Consumer Services have been viewed as parasitic activities dependent on other sectors of the economy for their viability and vitality Yet local economic policy is now looking towards consumer services to solve severe economic problems The rapid expansion of the service sector is now a principal feature of contemporary global economic restructuring

Developing locally Beer, Andrew,Haughton, Graham,2003-11-26 Throughout the developed world governments have invested substantial sums in local and regional economic development Many have spent heavily on local development agencies and strategies to bolster competitiveness within world markets What has been the impact of these actions How effective are the strategies and processes employed by development agencies How well funded are development efforts in one nation compared to another and how are their objectives defined This book addresses these questions It explores the impact and functioning of economic development agencies makes a unique contribution to the emerging literature on economic development agencies by reporting on the results of a cross national survey of economic development practitioners compares the institutional architectures of economic development in Australia England the United States and Northern Ireland analyses how these institutional arrangements affect individual agencies and their regions This book is intended for a wide audience including economic development practitioners local government officers officials within national or state governments and academics It provides the reader with a greater appreciation of how local and regional economic development systems operate in different economies and aids understanding of what makes the economic development system in each nation unique It challenges ideas about the uniformity of economic development efforts and encourages practitioners and policy makers to experiment with and explore strategies used elsewhere Developing Locally , Reinventing a Region Graham Haughton,David Whitney,1994 This text deals with the changing economy of West Yorkshire as its industrial base diminishes It examines the effects of local initiative urban development and environmental planning on the area and looks to the future with the implications of the Single European Market

International Bibliography of Economics 1994 British Library of Political and Economic Science at the London School of Economics,1995 The IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institutions whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences Reclaiming the City Andy Coupland,2005-10-05 Mixed use development is about retaining or creating a mix of different uses in cities or neighbourhoods The trend in UK development has been towards specialisation and areas with single uses Increasing the mix of uses is thought to reduce the need to travel lower the likelihood of crime improve the ambience and attractiveness of areas and contribute to the sustainability of cities      Conceptions of Space and Place in Strategic Spatial Planning Simin Davoudi, Ian Strange, 2008-11-24 Bringing together authors from academia and practice this book examines spatial planning at different places throughout the British Isles Six illustrative case studies of practice examine which conceptions of space and place have been articulated presented and visualized through the production of spatial strategies Ranging from a large conurbation London to regional Yorkshire and Humber and national levels the case studies give a rounded and grounded view of the physical results and the theory behind them While there is widespread support for re orienting planning towards space and place there has been little common understanding about what constitutes spatial planning and what conceptions of space and place underpin it This book addresses these questions and stimulates debate and critical thinking about space and place among academic and professional planners      The Town Planning Review Patrick Abercrombie, 1999      The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1995      Urban Nightscapes Paul Chatterton, Robert Hollands, 2003-09-02 In many western cities urban nightlife is experiencing a McDonaldisation where big branded names are taking over large parts of downtown areas leaving consumers with an increasingly standardised experience This book takes a new look at this rapidly changing aspect of urban life examining the relationships between young adults nightlife and city spaces It focuses on what the authors call urban nightscapes both mainstream and alternative youthful cultural activities in bars pubs night clubs and music venues which occur against a backdrop of increasing corporate influence in the night time economy      Bibliographie Internationale de Science Politique, 1994      Bibliographic Index, 1995      Urban Regeneration in the UK Andrew Tallon, 2009-08-21 Exploring the streets of London Manchester Belfast Edinburgh or Cardiff one cannot help but notice the striking transformations taking place in the urban landscapes This prominent regeneration of urban areas in the UK and around the world has become an increasingly important issue amongst governments and populations The growing concern has been a result of the impacts of the decline of cities since the collapse of manufacturing industries and the heightening of global competition A range of innovative approaches to tackle urban problems have been taken over many decades to attempt to regenerate the fortunes of towns and cities across the UK This text provides an accessible yet critical synthesis of urban regeneration in the UK incorporating key policies approaches issues and debates The central objective of the book is to place the historical and contemporary regeneration agenda into context Section one sets up the conceptual and policy framework for urban regeneration in the UK Section Two traces policies that have been adopted by central government to influence the social economic and physical development of cities including early municipal interventions in the late nineteenth century community focused urban policies of the late 1960s entrepreneurial property led regeneration of the 1980s and competition for urban funds in the 1990s The penultimate section illustrates the key thematic policies and strategies that have been pursued by cities themselves focusing particularly on improving economic competitiveness and tackling social disadvantage These approaches are contextualized by discussions covering for example urban competitiveness policies and the focus on sustainable urban regeneration The final section summarizes key issues and debates facing urban regeneration and speculates upon future directions Urban Regeneration in the UK blends the approaches taken by central government programmes and cities themselves in the regeneration process The latest ideas and examples from across disciplines and across the UK's urban areas are illustrated This book provides a comprehensive and up to date synthesis that will fill a significant gap in the current literature on regeneration and will be a tool for students as well as a seminal read for practitioners and researchers

Planning Beyond 2000 Philip Allmendinger, Michael Chapman, 1999-07-07 Providing a complete and comprehensive overview of planning issues policy and theory in the UK it goes on to assess the state of current planning theory its revival in the 1990s and what questions theorists will need to address over the next 15 years Corporate City? Graham Haughton, Colin C. Williams, 1996 Examines the nature of urban governance in Leeds and its impact in helping shape a new economic success story for the city and the social divisions that remain Sociological Abstracts Leo P. Chall, 2003 CSA Sociological Abstracts abstracts and indexes the international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations to book reviews drawn from over 1 800 serials publications and also provides abstracts of books book chapters dissertations and conference papers Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1997 Greening Post-Industrial Cities Corina McKendry, 2017-09-22 City greening has been heralded for contributing to environmental governance and critiqued for exacerbating displacement and inequality Bringing these two disparate analyses into conversation this book offers a comparative understanding of how tensions between growth environmental protection and social equity are playing out in practice Examining Chicago USA Birmingham UK and Vancouver Canada McKendry argues that city greening efforts were closely connected to processes of post industrial branding in the neoliberal economy While this brought some benefits concerns about the unequal distribution of these benefits and greening's limited environmental impact challenged its legitimacy In response city leaders have moved toward initiatives that strive to better address environmental effectiveness and social equity while still spurring growth Through an analysis that highlights how different varieties of liberal environmentalism are manifested in each case this book illustrates that cities though constrained by inconsistent political will and broader political and economic contexts are making contributions to more effective socially just environmental governance Both critical and hopeful McKendry's work will interest scholars of city greening environmental governance and comparative urban politics Rural Geography Michael Woods, 2005-01-05 An introduction to contemporary rural societies and economies in the developed world Rural Geography examines the social and economic processes at work in the contemporary countryside
