Musical Renderings of the Philippine Nation Christi-Anne Castro, 2011-05-05 A cultural history of the Philippines during the 20th century this title focuses on the relationships between music performance and ideologies of the nation Christi Anne Castro reveals how individuals and groups negotiate with and contest the power of the Philippine state to define the nation as a modern and hybrid entity Pedagogies of the Global Arif Dirlik, 2015-12-03 The essays in this collection address questions raised by a modernity that has become global with the victory of capitalism over its competitors in the late twentieth century Rather than erase difference by converting all to European American norms of modernity capitalist modernity as it has gone global has empowered societies once condemned to imprisonment in premodernity or tradition to make their own claims on modernity on the basis of those very traditions as filtered through experiences of colonialism neocolonialism or simple marginalization by the forces of globalization Global modernity appears presently not as global homogeneity but as a site of conflict between forces of homogenization and heterogenization within and between nations Prominent in this context are conflicts over different ways of knowing and organizing the world The essays here dealing for the most part with education in the United States engage in critiques of hegemonic ways of knowing and critically evaluate counterhegemonic voices for change that are heard from a broad spectrum of social ethnic and indigenous perspectives Crucial to the essays critique of hegemony in contemporary pedagogy is an effort shared by the contributors distinguished scholars in their various fields to overcome area and or disciplinary boundaries and take the wholeness of everyday life as their point of departure

The Filipina-South Floridian International Internet Marriage Practice Pamela S. Haley, 2013-07 This dissertation concerns the structures and individual agency of Filipina brides who met their American husbands through Internet or pen pal advertisements Popular media legal scholars and some feminists have largely described the phenomenon in terms of its oppressiveness toward the women involved thus dismissing any agency on the part of the women Similarly much of the scholarship has located the American Internet grooms as ogres who are out to exploit these women for domestic and sexual services If prominent researchers of this phenomenon are correct in their assessments that Filipina Internet brides operate as effective agents then one also assumes these women continue that agency when they settle into their new lives as Filipina wives married to American men Therefore my central research question is How has this agency manifested itself and has this manifestation been problematic for the American groom who from the typical Internet ads text and images and coupled with prevailing American cultural assumptions assumed he was getting a submissive wife To explore possible answers to these questions I performed a rhetorical analysis of two typical Internet advertisements The focus on the ads is important to my study because the Internet advertisements both shape and reflect the popular view of the so called Filipina mail order bride Next in order to gain the Internet brides and grooms perspectives of the phenomenon I interviewed three Filipina Americano couples currently living in South Florida between November 2005 and October 2007 My findings support the scholars who forefront the brides agency and therefore reject the stereotypes projected on the Internet advertisements My findings also reject the stereotype of the exploitative husband From my interview data the women appeared agentive and the men encouraged their wives agency An unanticipated and paradoxical outcropping of the interviews was the participants descriptions of their courtship and subsequent marriages In this one area both the brides and grooms unanimously deemphasized their own agency and instead highlighted romantic narratives with each insisting that they had fallen in love
