Falvo, 2005 A comprehensive text that provides easy to understand explanations of medical aspects of common chronic illnesses and disabilities. Economic Implications of Chronic Illness and Disability in Eastern Europe and the Former Soviet Union Cem Mete, 2008-01-01 A significant portion of the population in the Eastern Europe and Central Asia region are either in poor health or disabled. This research shows that the linkages between disability and economic and social outcomes of interest tend to be stronger in transition countries when compared with industrialized countries. Reasons for this trend include the prevalence of a large informal sector in many developing countries, relatively weak targeting performance of social assistance programs especially in poor transition countries, and unavailability of broad based insurance mechanisms to protect individuals against loss of income due to unexpected illness. Living with Chronic Illness and Disability Esther Chang, Amanda Reis, Susan Sprecher, 2009-03-15 Library Journal Best Reference 2009 An excellent gateway to further examination of any of the subdisciplines of relationship science or as a research tool in its own right. Library Journal Relationships are fundamental to nearly all domains of human activity from birth to death. When people participate in healthy satisfying relationships they live, work and learn more effectively. When relationships are distressed or dysfunctional people are less happy, less healthy and less productive. Few aspects of human experience have as broad or as deep effects on our lives. The Encyclopedia of Human Relationships offers an interdisciplinary view of all types of human associations: friends, lovers, spouses, roommates, coworkers, teammates, parents and children, cousins, siblings, acquaintances, neighbors, business associates, and so forth. Although each of these connections is unique in some respect, they share a common core of principles and processes. These three volumes provide a state of the art review of the extensive theories, concepts and empirical findings.
