Family Relationships in Contemporary Crime Fiction Bill Phillips, 2019-04-23 Behind every crime novel there is a family The author's the hero's or the heroine's and that of the villains themselves Some families organise themselves into crime syndicates controlling drugs prostitution and illegal gambling Others are simply dysfunctional tearing themselves apart fathers against sons mothers against daughters sisters against brothers husbands against wives Not everyone escapes alive However families do not exist in a vacuum They are an important part of our society for many one of its most essential building blocks That being said society itself can impinge disastrously on personal relationships War that greatest of crimes leaves children bereft of parents Generations of children are stolen by cynical racist administrators in supposedly civilised countries Religion requires its followers to flourish and multiply while abandoning all including family for their faith All of these issues and more are explored in this collection of essays about crime fiction and the family

Family-Peer Relationships Ross D. Parke, Gary W. Ladd, 2016-03-10 Originally published in 1992 this volume provided an up to date overview of recent research concerning the links between family and peer systems Considerable work in the past had focused on family issues or peer relationships but these systems had typically been considered separately This volume bridges the gap across these two important socialization contexts and provides insights into the processes that account for the links across the systems the ways in which the relationships between these systems shift across development In addition the variations in the links between family and peers are illustrated by cross cultural work studies of abused children and research on the impact of maternal depression In short the volume provides not only a convenient overview of recent progress at the time but lays out an agenda for future research

Dyadic And Group Perspectives On Close Relationships Brett Laursen,2017-10-03 The papers in this special issue apply two recent data analytic techniques to the study of family and close peer relationships The Actor Partner Interdependent Model incorporates the perspectives of both participants in a dyad into analyses that describe shared and unique views of the relationship The Social Relations Model incorporates the perspectives of all members of a group into analyses that ascribe views unique to individuals and relationships and views shared by the entire group Developmental applications of techniques originally designed for concurrent interdependent data are described
