Fiction's Family Ellen Widmer, 2020-10-26 At the end of the Qing dynasty works of fiction by male authors placed women in new roles Fiction's Family delves into the writings of one literary family from western Zhejiang whose works were emblematic of shifting attitudes toward women The mother Wang Qingdi and the father Zhan Sizeng published their poems during the second half of the nineteenth century Two of their four sons Zhan Xi and Zhan Kai wrote novels that promoted reforms in women's lives This book explores the intergenerational link as well as relations between the sons to find out how the conflicts faced by the parents may have been refigured in the novels of their sons Its central question is about the brothers' reformist attitudes Were they based on the pronouncements of political leaders Were they the result of trends in Shanghai publishing Or did they derive from Wang Qingdi's disappointment in her companionate marriage as manifested in her poems By placing one family at the center of this study Ellen Widmer illuminates the diachronic bridge between the late Qing and the period just before it the synchronic interplay of genres during the brothers' lifetimes and the interaction of Shanghai publishing with

Divya, Sajja, A Sad Life Story Kemal Sobe, 2024-04-10 Childhood even though it is difficult is actually the best period of a person A person realizes the value of his childhood in later years when he comes under the burden of life However I couldn't stay a child I had to face the pain and difficulties of life As I got older my fear of the future increased and the people around me decreased As I saw the bitter side of life and people's relationships based solely on materiality I began to deeply question why people live and what they aim for in life Did people live to love or to dominate each other When I saw that there was all kinds of material competition between people I began to think that people had put their love for humanity aside Like every child when I was young that is young enough to be considered a child I was not very emotional However as I got older as I took part in life as life took away more and more from me I became more emotional and the human factor began to become more important to me The Short Story Ian Reid, 2017-07-20 First published in 1977 this book examines the short story which is one of the most widely read of all modern genres The study begins by examining some preliminary problems of definition before going on to trace the emergence of what is usually meant by the modern short story and examine the various kinds of narrative from which it derives such as the sketch the yarn Märchen parable and fable The final chapter considers the possibility that there are certain structural properties belonging distinctively to the short story This book will be of interest to those studying literature and creative writing Family Likeness Mary Jean Corbett, 2011-03-15 In nineteenth century England marriage between first cousins was both legally permitted and perfectly acceptable After mid century laws did not explicitly penalize sexual relationships between parents and children between siblings or between grandparents and grandchildren But for a widower to marry his deceased wife's sister was illegal on the grounds that it constituted incest That these laws and the mores they reflect strike us today as wrongheaded indicates how much ideas about kinship marriage and incest have changed In Family Likeness Mary Jean Corbett shows how the domestic fiction of novelists including Jane Austen Charlotte Brontë George Eliot Elizabeth Gaskell and Virginia Woolf reflected the shifting boundaries of family and even helped refine those borders Corbett takes up historically contingent and culturally variable notions of who is and is not a relative and whom one can and cannot marry Her argument is informed by legal and political debates texts in sociology and anthropology and discussions on the biology of heredity breeding and eugenics In Corbett's view marriage within families between cousins in laws or adoptees offered Victorian women both real and fictional an attractive alternative to romance with a stranger not least because it allowed them to maintain and strengthen relations with other women within the family Information Relative to the Appointment and Admission of Cadets to the United States Military Academy, West Point, N.Y. United States. Tolstoy's Family Prototypes in "War and Peace" Brett Cooke,2020-11-24 What were the consequences of Tolstoy's unusual reliance on members of his family as source material for War and Peace Did affection for close relatives influence depictions of these real prototypes in his fictional characters Tolstoy used these models to consider his origins to ponder alternative family histories and to critique himself Comparison of the novel and its fascinating drafts with the writer's family history reveals increasing preferential treatment of those with greater relatedness to him kin altruism i.e. nepotism This pattern helps explain many of Tolstoy's choices amongst plot variants he considered as well as some of the curious devices he utilizes to get readers to share his biases such as coincidences notions of fate and aversion to incest Relative Races

Brigitte Fielder,2020-09-21 In Relative Races Brigitte Fielder presents an alternative theory of how race is ascribed Contrary to notions of genealogies by which race is transmitted from parents to children the examples Fielder discusses from nineteenth century literature history and popular culture show how race can follow other directions Desdemona becomes less than fully white when she is smudged with Othello's blackface a white woman becomes Native American when she is adopted by a Seneca family and a mixed race baby casts doubt on the whiteness of his mother Fielder shows that the genealogies of race are especially visible in the racialization of white women whose whiteness often depends on their ability to reproduce white family and white supremacy Using black feminist and queer theories Fielder presents readings of personal narratives novels plays stories poems and images to illustrate how interracial kinship follows non heteronormative non biological and non patrilineal models of inheritance in nineteenth century literary culture A Southern Weave of Women Linda

Tate,1996 A Southern Weave of Women is one of the first sustained treatments of the generation women writers who came of age in the post World War II South as well as one of the first to situate southern literature fully within a multicultural context

The Ties That Bind Sara E. Cooper, 2004-04-30 The Ties That Bind comprises the first collection of critical essays that explore the family system in Spanish and Latin American culture This thought provoking volume addresses the intersection of language narrative structure social reality and family dynamics through examples from a diverse range of literary works including Cervantes Don Quijote Reinaldo Arenas Celestino antes del alba and the Chicano film My Family Mi Familia Issues of feminism gender and sexuality abuse trauma and communication take the forefront in this ground breaking book which takes psychological literary criticism a step beyond traditional psychoanalytical approaches

Family Constellations in Contemporary Ibero-American and Slavic Literatures Anna Artwińska, Ángela Calderón, Jobst Welge, 2024-10-07 This volume examines Ibero American as well as Slavic literatures of the 21st century and studies how historical imaginaries in family narratives are functionalized for both individual and collective and post national identities The analysis proceeds along three conceptual axes What these narratives have in common is that they construct specific constellations of the historical imagination and of family whereby family is here conceived not so much as an organic micro unity but rather as changing multiple relations between individual members godparents first and second degree relatives non blood related family members present and absent members adopted children etc Furthermore these novels are often grounded in trans generational memories They are written by members of a generation that as a rule did not directly experience these historical events It is also significant that these narratives are no longer conceived as representing national identities but paradigmatically speak for a collective that defines itself in regional ethnic religious or ideological terms It seems therefore that these narratives of family constellations are in need of more flexible typological rubrics and interpretive frameworks Intended as a sustained comparative study of these family narratives this volume is a contribution in understanding how historical caesura experiences and their literary representation work on the self understanding of the present

Queer Kinship in Sarah Schulman's AIDS Novels Jarosław Milewski, 2024-02-29 Queer Kinship in Sarah Schulman's AIDS Novels is the first book to extensively discuss the works of Sarah Schulman a journalist activist and globally recognized novelist This research monograph juxtaposes the works about the AIDS epidemic which were well received by the mainstream America with Schulman's own output as a bard of AIDS burnout in the words of Edmund White In contrast with the prevailing representations of the epidemic her works emphasize the importance of queer kinship chosen families and AIDS activist groups that fall outside of the heteronorm Bearing witness to these voluntary collectivities means also surviving the traumatizing experience of ongoing repeated death and refusing the idea of an easy solution to the crisis. The monograph tracks the tension between the dominant narratives about the epidemic and those articulated from the excluded positions arguing that Schulman reformulates queer kinship as the locus of social change.

The Reception of George Eliot in Europe Elinor Shaffer, Catherine Brown, 2016-02-11

George Eliot (born Mary Ann Evans, 1819–1880) was one of the most important writers of the European nineteenth century as well as a pioneering translator of challenging and controversial Continental thinkers and an influential editor and essayist. Although such novels of provincial life as Adam Bede, The Mill on the Floss, and Middlemarch have seen her characterised as a thoroughly English writer, her reception and immersion in the literary, intellectual, and political life of Europe was remarkable. Written by a team of leading international scholars, The Reception of George Eliot in Europe is the first comprehensive and systematic survey of Eliot's place in European culture. Exploring Eliot's deep knowledge of German literature and thought, her galvanizing influence on women novelists and translators in countries as diverse as Sweden and Spain, her travels in Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, the Czech Lands, Italy, and Spain, and her friendship with leading figures such as Mazzini, Turgenev, and Liszt, this study reveals her full stature as a cosmopolitan writer and thinker. A film of her Italian Renaissance novel Romola was one of the first to circulate in Europe. Including an historical timeline and a comprehensive bibliography of primary and secondary sources and translations, The Reception of George Eliot in Europe is an essential reference resource for anyone working in the field of Victorian Literature or the European nineteenth century.
