Second And Foreign Language Learning Through Classroom Interaction:

Second and Foreign Language Learning Through Classroom Interaction Joan Kelly Hall, Lorrie Stoops Verplaetse, 2000-06 Brings together a set of papers that share the current theoretical interest in re conceptualizing second foreign language learning from a sociocultural perspective with practical concerns about second foreign language pedagogy

Second and Foreign Language Learning Through Classroom Interaction Joan Kelly Hall, Lorrie Stoops Verplaetse, 2000 First Language Use in Second and Foreign Language Learning Miles Turnbull, Jennifer Dailey-O'Cain, 2009-08-24 This volume offers fresh perspectives on a controversial issue in applied linguistics and language teaching by focusing on the use of the first language in communicative or immersion type classrooms It includes new work by both new and established scholars in educational scholarship second language acquisition and sociolinguistics as well as in a variety of languages countries and educational contexts Through its focus at the intersection of theory practice curriculum and policy the book demands a reconceptualization of code switching as something that both proficient and aspiring bilinguals do naturally and as a practice that is inherently linked with bilingual code switching Classroom Interactions as Cross-Cultural Encounters Jasmine C. M. Luk, Angel M. Y. Lin, 2017-09-25 Classroom Interactions as Cross Cultural Encounters is about native English speakers teaching English as a global language in non English speaking countries Through analysis of naturally occurring dialogic encounters the authors examine the multifaceted ways in which teachers and students utilize diverse communicative resources to construct display and negotiate their identities as teachers learners and language users with different pedagogic institutional social and political implications A range of issues in applied linguistics is addressed including linguistic imperialism post colonial theories micropolitics of classroom interaction language and identity and bilingual classroom practices Intended to help TESOL professionals of different cultural backgrounds working in different sociocultural contexts to critically understand how non assimilationist dialogic intercultural communication with students can be achieved and built on for mutual cultural and linguistic enrichment and empowerment this book emphasizes the sociocultural meanings and micropolitics of classroom interactions that reveal the complex realities of power and identity negotiations in cross cultural interactions in ELT English Language Teaching classroom contexts revisits and reconstitutes the notion of native speakerness and repositions the roles of native and non native English teachers in the TESOL profession in the contexts of decolonization and globalization highlights the need to mobilize intercultural communicative resources for global communication addresses two major concerns of EFL English as a Foreign Language classroom researchers and teachers student resistance and learning motivation and examines and analyzes the changing ideologies both explicit and implicit of teachers and students about English learning in the context of a post colonial society and how these ideologies are being enacted reproduced but also sometimes contested in EFL classroom interactions Each chapter includes Questions for Reflection and Discussion to promote critical thinking and understanding of the issues

discussed Tuning In discussion questions are provided in the three chapters on classroom data analysis to activate readers interpretive schemas before they examine the actual classroom episodes The data are from an ethnographic study in post colonial Hong Kong secondary schools involving four native English speaker teachers and two bilingual Cantonese English speaking teachers engaged in intercultural classroom dialogues with their Cantonese Hong Kong students The rich naturally occurring classroom data and in depth analyses provide useful pedagogical materials for courses in EFL teacher education programs on classroom discourse analysis from sociocultural perspectives Language Teaching Research and Language Pedagogy Rod Ellis, 2012-01-17 This book examines current research centered on the second language classroom and the implications of this research for both the teaching and learning of foreign languages It offers illuminating insights into the important relationship between research and teaching and the inherent complexities of the teaching and learning of foreign languages in classroom settings Offers an accessible overview of a range of research on instruction and learning in the L2 classroom Bridges the relationship between research teachers and learners Helps evolve the practice of dedicated current language teachers with research findings that suggest best practices for language teaching Learners in Japanese Language Classrooms Reiko Yoshida, 2009-06-22 The verbal participation of learners in language classrooms offers a rich seam of data to the applied linguist Overt and covert participation when examined can reveal both the structures of a classroom and elicit privileged information on participant s self perceptions It examines the verbal participation of learners in Japanese as a Foreign Language classrooms Verbal interactions with teachers and classmates and private speech acts are examined in relation to the classroom context and also sociocultural factors such as the learner s motivation and the teacher s belief in their own methods The examination of corrective feedback episodes and learners private speech uses recorded speech and stimulated recall interviews recorded over the period of a year The main focus is on Corrective Feedback episodes and explains not only the language used in class but also teacher s and learner s own perceptions It will be of interest to researchers in applied linguistics and second language acquisition especially those involved with Japanese as a second or other language New Technologies and Language Learning Li Li, 2017-04-24 This research led textbook investigates the use of new technologies for language learning linking theory to practice The book synthesises previous technology use including Computer Assisted Language Learning theory and research and describes practical applications for both second and foreign language classrooms including detailed examples of these applications and the procedures for evaluating them The Research Process in Classroom Discourse Analysis Kim Marie Cole, Jane Zuengler, 2017-09-25 This volume gives intellectual space to a range of current perspectives on classroom discourse research and provides a forum for conversations about the research process Classroom discourse researchers from different theoretical perspectives provide five separate analyses of the same instructional unit in a high school biology class using the same set of data Interwoven with the five research reports are several conversations among the editors and researchers regarding specific aspects of the research process These conversations illuminate some of the actual decisions that researchers make when looking at data and crafting their analyses This book is intended for graduate students researchers and teacher educators across the fields of applied linguistics and education who are interested in studying classroom discourse and more generally language in use With its focus on both the research process and the outcomes of research as well as on the theory method relationship this book is relevant for courses in research methodology language in education applied linguistics discourse analysis language development and multiculturalism in the classroom
