Twentieth-century Museums, 1999 Twentieth-century Museums: Ludwig Mies van der Rohe, New National Gallery, Berlin, 1962-8, 1999 Mies Van Der Rohe Dietrich Neumann, 2024-09-24 A landmark survey offering a nuanced and deeply researched account of the career and life of the iconic modern architect Ludwig Mies van der Rohe 1886 1969 was a German born American architect and designer whose work in Europe and North America has had an enduring influence on modern and contemporary architecture worldwide During his sixty year career he fundamentally rethought architectural types that shaped modern life including the office building apartment building and private home True to his alleged dictum less is more Mies van der Rohe's style is characterized by utmost simplicity elegance of materials and radical formal and functional innovation as exemplified by such iconic projects as the Farnsworth House in Plano Illinois and the Seagram Building in New York In this book renowned architectural historian Dietrich Neumann presents a new critical look at Mies and complicates the established narrative about him Diverging from the reverential posture of many existing accounts Neumann insists on the importance of the contemporary context social political and architectural for understanding the architect's life and work The book draws on many overlooked archival and primary sources to demonstrate how and why Mies's designs were shaped and received foregrounding contemporary critics responses and the work of Mies's collaborators and peers It presents several previously unknown buildings projects and furniture designs and challenges long established interpretations of key works Comprehensively illustrated and covering the entirety of Mies's career this ambitious book is the most substantial account to date of the life and work of one of the most important architects of the twentieth century The Mies Van Der Rohe Archive Ludwig Mies van der Rohe, Mies van der Rohe Archive, 1986 The Oxford History of Western Art Martin Kemp, 2000 The Oxford History of Western Art is the new authority on the development of visual culture in the West over the last 2700 years from the classical period to the end of the twentieth century OHWA is an innovative and challenging reappraisal of how the history of art can be presented and understood None of the currently available general histories of art offers the wealth of perspectives and cross media references of this book Through a carefully devised modular structure readers are given insights not only into how and why works of art were created but also how works in different media relate to each other across time Here uniquely is not the simple linear story of art but a rich series of stories told from varying viewpoints The founding principle of the book has been to use carefully selected groupings of pictures to give readers a sense of the visual texture of the various periods and episodes covered The 167 illustration groups supported by explanatory text and picture captions create a sequence of visual tours not merely a procession of individually great works viewed in isolation but juxtapositions of significant images that powerfully convey a sense of the visual environments in which works of art need to be viewed in order to be understood and appreciated The aim throughout has been to make the shape and nature of these visual presentations a stimulating and rewarding experience allowing readers to become active

participants in the process of interpretation and synthesis Another key feature of the narrative is the re definition of traditional period boundaries Rather than relying on conventional labels such as Medieval Renaissance Baroque etc five major phases of significant historical change are established that unlock longer and more meaningful continuities The art of classical antiquity from c 600 BC to the fall of Rome in AD 410 The establishment of visual culture in Europe from 410 to 1527 the sack of papal Rome European visual regimes from 1527 to 1770 The era of revolutions 1770 to 1914 Modernism and after 1914 to 2000 This new framework shows how the major religious and secular functions of art have been forged sustained transformed revived and revolutionized over the ages how the institutions of Church and State have consistently aspired to make art in their own image and how the rise of art history itself has come to provide the dominant conceptual framework within which artists create patrons patronize collectors collect galleries exhibit dealers deal and art historians write The text has been written by a team of 50 specialist authors working under the direction of Professor Martin Kemp one of the UK's most distinguished art historians Whilst bringing their own expertise and vision to their sections each author was also asked to relate their text to a number of unifying themes and issues including written evidence physical contexts patronage viewing and reception techniques gender and racial issues centres and peripheries media and condition the notion of art and current presentations Though the coverage of topics focuses on European notions of art and their transplantation and transformation in North America space is also given to cross fertilizations with other traditions including the art of Latin America the Soviet Union India Africa and Afro Caribbean Australia and Canada Professor Kemp and his team similarly deal generously with the applied arts and reproductive media such as photography and prints The result is a vibrant vigorous and revolutionary account of Western art serving both as an inspirational introduction for the general reader and an authoritative source of reference and guidance for students

Modernism as Memory Kathleen James-Chakraborty,2018-01-15 After World War II West Germans and West Berliners found ways of communicating both their recent sufferings and aspirations for stable communities through buildings that fused the ruins of historicist structures with new constructions rooted in the modernism of the 1910s and 20s As Modernism as Memory illustrates these postwar practices undergird the approaches later taken in influential structures created or renovated in Berlin following the fall of the Wall including the Jewish Museum and the Reichstag the New Museum and the Topography of Terror While others have characterized contemporary Berlin's museums and memorials as postmodern Kathleen James Chakraborty argues that these environments are examples of an architecture of modern memory that is much older more complex and historically contingent She reveals that churches and museums repaired and designed before 1989 in Dren Hanover Munich Neuges Pforzheim Stuttgart and Weil am Rhein contributed to a modernist precedent for the relationship between German identity and the past developed since then in the Ruhr region and in Berlin Modernism as Memory demonstrates that how one remembers can be detached from what one remembers contrasting ruins with recollections of modernism to commemorate German suffering the Holocaust and the industrial revolution as well as new spaces for Islam in
