Refracting the Canon in Contemporary British Literature and Film , 2016-08-09 Contemporary works of art that remodel the canon not only create complex hybrid and plural products but also alter our perceptions and understanding of their source texts This is the dual process referred to in this volume as refraction that the essays collected here set out to discuss and analyse by focusing on the dialectic rapport between postmodernism and the canon What is sought in many of the essays is a redefinition of postmodernist art and a re examination of the canon in the light of contemporary epistemology Given this dual process this volume will be of value both to everyone interested in contemporary art particularly fiction drama and film and also to readers whose aim it is to promote a better appreciation of canonical British literature

Epistolary Encounters in Neo-Victorian Fiction K. Brindle, 2014-01-24 Neo Victorian writers invoke conflicting viewpoints in diaries letters etc to creatively retrace the past in fragmentary and contradictory ways This book explores the complex desires involved in epistolary discoveries of hidden Victorians offering new insight into the creative synthesising of critical thought within the neo Victorian novel

Byatt Louisa Hadley, 2017-09-16 This Guide examines the key critical responses to Byatt s fiction both her novels and short stories tracing the wider debates about realism postmodernism and feminism with which they engage The Guide also explores the themes which are central to Byatt s work such as her depiction of writer figures and her conception of artistic vision

Contingencies and Masterly Fictions Lauren Watson, 2020-05-22 This book establishes deconstructive dialogues between texts which are generically chronologically and stylistically very different Each chapter aligns one of Dickens s later novels with a work of contemporary literature and a post structuralist theoretical text Working from the premise of Derrida's contre the relationship developed between these texts is not so much intertextual as countertextual each text re-enacts the procedures of its counterparts simultaneously rearticulating and interrogating their status In this triangular mode of reading the contact zone between countertexts becomes the site on which new readings are generated readings that use the ambivalent relationship between writings to mark an analogous self-difference within writing itself This productive self-difference is described as a negotiation of the contradictory drives of signification a strategic management of the masterly and the contingent This book argues that Dickens's texts perform their negotiations in an acutely strenuous manner amplifying instability and exposing the means of literary production This lack of discipline proves contagious as the reader re-enacts the text's spasmodic shifts between mastery and contingency As surrogate Dickensian readers in the countertextual economy the contemporary novel and post-structuralist theory also display this instability an effect which allows this study to develop not only a theory of poetics but a poetics of theory This dramatic self-difference is not simply restricted to writing however In later chapters this study examines how racial and gender identities are also marked by ambivalence and how their instability is exacerbated after contact with a Dickensian contre In conclusion the work is itself submitted to a Dickensian reading The author examines how the study's own manoeuvres have been exposed through contact with many of the texts analysed within it and how this dialogue deconstructs the ideal of academic writing

Stefan Herbrechter, 1999 This book is of interest for any reader wishing to explore the interface between literature and critical and cultural theory It investigates the notions of alterity which underlie the work of Lawrence Durrell and postmodernist theory Grass Irmgard Elsner Hunt Theme Parks, Rainforests and Sprouting Wastelands, 2022-05-16 This lively and fascinating new collection of European essays on contemporary Anglophone fiction has arisen out of the ESSE 3 Conference which was held in Glasgow in September 1995 The contributors live and work in University English Departments in Bulgaria Croatia France Germany Hungary Italy The Netherlands Portugal and Spain as well as in the United Kingdom itself Essays on general theoretical aspects of the subject head and conclude the collection and there are also essays on individual writers or groups of writers such as John Fowles A S Byatt Charles Palliser Peter Ackroyd William Golding Doris Lessing Daphne du Maurier Angela Carter and Christina Stead The performative aspect of the subject matter of these essays is balanced by a locational aspect including utopian and dystopian writing in authors as diverse as Michael Crichton Jenny Diski and Salman Rushdie and the travel literature of Bruce Chatwin These essays show theoretical alertness but no single theoretical position is privileged The aim of the collection is to provide an indication of the range of work being carried out throughout European academe on Anglophone mainly British writing today      Metafiction Mark Currie, 2014-07-15

Metafiction is one of the most distinctive features of postwar fiction appearing in the work of novelists as varied as Eco Borges Martin Amis and Julian Barnes It comprises two elements firstly cause the increasing interpenetration of professional literary criticism and the practice of writing and secondly effect an emphasis on the playing with styles and forms resulting from an enhanced self consciousness and awareness of the elusiveness of meaning and the limitations of the realist form Dr Currie s volume examines first the two components of metafiction with practical illustrations from the work of such writers as Derrida and Foucault A final section then provides the view of metafiction as seen by metafictional writers themselves

Rewriting/Reprising Georges Letissier, 2009-10-02 This volume comprises sixteen essays preceded by an introductory chapter focusing on the diverse modalities of textual and more widely artistic transfer Whereas the first Rewriting Reprising volume coord by C Maisonnat J Paccaud Huguet its subversive potential is perceptible notably through its many attempts at emancipating the genre from the ideological fetters of gender Over the past two decades Victorian literature and culture has become an inescapable field of investigations to any study on intertextuality in the English speaking world In a second part diversity has been preferred to any single specific angle to approach the Victorian neo Victorian tropism The purpose is to provide as complete a spectrum as is reasonably possible in such a volume The practice of rewriting in the Victorian age is thus studied alongside contemporary appropriations of the Victorian canon The question is raised of whether literary fetishism may not result in a form of counterfeit classicism while the more challenging neo Victorian rewritings would make a claim for the need to choose one s literary heritage and ancestors This is where the post colonial agenda comes in Precisely the third part investigates the question of rewriting reprising as a way of writing back The myth of Frankenstein s creature bent on wreaking vengeance on his creator is of course seminal as it offers a myth of transgression which in its turn becomes a foundation myth Not only are post colonial responses to their disclaimed parent texts highly theory informed but they also evinced an awareness of such contemporary issues which are direct consequences of the colonial past. In the last section of this volume the scope of what comes within the range of intertextuality per se is widened to cover artistic dialogism. In the exchanges between theatrical texts, reprise may be construed as a metaphor standing for the pleasure inherent in the process of recreation. The interaction between embedded paintings and the embedding canvas offers yet another variation on the reprise motif as does the meta-aesthetic discourse of the critic on the work of art. What begins as mere repetition is soon colored by the personal inflections of the interpreter. In operatic performances updating a classical text to make it suitable to contemporary audiences and in close harmony with the role assigned to music is liable to spur on the creativity of recreation.
