The Deep-Sky Observer's Year Paul Parsons, 2012-12-06 Deep sky observing that's looking at the stars, nebulae and galaxies is easily the most popular field for amateur astronomers. The big problem faced by non professional observers is what to look at, what's visible at a particular time of year. The Deep sky Observer's Year is a month by month guide to the best objects to view. Objects are given a star rating according to how difficult they are to observe or image i.e. photograph with a particular size of telescope. The book includes many images produced by amateur astronomers as well as photographs from NASA, ESA and ESO. There is also some background information about the objects that can be seen along with lots of useful tips, hints and resources especially about what's available on the Internet for deep sky observers. The Year's Music, 1897

United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Appropriations, 1969 Nineteenth-Century Chamber Music Stephen Hefling, 2004-03-01 Nineteenth Century Chamber Music proceeds chronologically by composer beginning with the majestic works of Beethoven and continuing through Schubert, Spohr and Weber, Mendelssohn, Schumann, Brahms, the French composers Smetana and Dvorak and the end of the century pre modernists. Each chapter is written by a noted authority in the field. The book serves as a general introduction to Romantic chamber music and would be ideal for a seminar course on the subject or as an adjunct text for Introduction to Romantic Music courses. Plus musicologists and students of 19th century music will find this to be an invaluable resource. First of the Year: 2010 Benj DeMott, 2017-07-05 This is the third volume of the First of the Year annual series. Contributors such as Armond White, Philip Levine, Charles O'Brien, Uri Avnery, Donna Gaines, Tom Smucker, Scott Spencer and Amiri Baraka are back and fractious as ever. And First's family of writers keeps growing. This volume includes vital new voices such as A.B. Spellman, Bernard Avishai, Rudolph Wurlitzer and Diane di Prima. First never shies away from hot button issues. Fredric Smoler, for example, offers a definitive consideration of America's recent history with torture. But First's approach to current political firestorms is often marked by a cool sense of the past. History is always in the mix when First writers examine the roots of Glenn Beck and Sarah Palin and contemporary right wing pundits who falsely claim the mantle of Whittaker Chambers. First's refusal to toe correct lines is apparent in Benj DeMott's reconsideration of Chambers' work. The new volume is also marked by its cultivation of radical imaginations. The ideas of the Situationists and Cornelius Castoriadis are revived. A young historian, David Waldstreicher, recovers the radical useable past in the 60s work of Staughton Lynd. Amiri Baraka evokes the felt quality of Jesse Jackson's 1988 campaign and another poet remembers in verse long forgotten extreme political acts of American Renaissance poets. A recent review of First of the Year 2009 used a phrase of Kenneth Burke's perspective by incongruity to make sense of the method that shaped it. First is committed to thought provoking incongruities. Faith that wonder is our best teacher informs this volume. First's music writing provides a high low soundtrack of surprise. Beyond the section on Michael Jackson there are serious responses to John Coltrane and Bach's World Saxophone Quartet and Mariah Carey, Sonny Rollins and Willie Mitchell. First's message is
