Market as Place and Space of Economic Exchange Hans Peter Hahn, Geraldine Schmitz, 2018-04-30 In the context of commodification material culture has particular properties hitherto considered irrelevant or neglected First the market is a spatial structure assigning special properties to the things offered the goods and commodities Secondly the market defines a principle of dealing with things including them in some contexts excluding them from others The contributions to Market as Place and Space address a variety of aspects of markets within the framework of archaeological and anthropological case studies and with a special focus on the indicators of practices attached to the commodities and their valuation

Anthropology and Consultancy Pamela Stewart, Andrew J. Strathern, 2004-08-01 More and more anthropologists are recruited as consultants by government departments companies or as observers of development processes in their field areas generally Although these roles can be very gratifying they can create ambiguous situations for the anthropologists who find that new pressures and responsibilities are placed upon them for which their training did not prepare them This volume explores some of the problems opportunities issues debates and dilemmas surrounding these roles The geographic focus of the studies is Papua New Guinea but the topic and its importance apply widely through the world for example Africa South America Australia and the Pacific in general as well as in relation to indigenous groups in Canada and elsewhere All the authors have first hand experience and they address these new pressures and responsibilities of anthropological research The book's chapters are written in a way that combines scholarship with a style accessible to general readers

Anthropology and Consultancy Pamela J. Stewart, Andrew Strathern, 2005 The papers collected for this book are a special issue of Social Analysis

New Guinea Clive Moore, 2003-07-31 New Guinea the world's largest tropical island is a land of great contrasts ranging from small glaciers on its highest peaks to broad mangrove swamps in its lowlands and hundreds of smaller islands and coral atolls along its coasts Divided between two nations the island and its neighboring archipelagos form Indonesia's Papua Province or Irian Jaya and the independent nation of Papua New Guinea both former European colonies Most books on New Guinea have been guided by these and other divisions separating east from west prehistoric from historic precontact from postcontact colonial from postcolonial This is the first work to consider New Guinea and its 40 000 year history in its entirety The volume opens with a look at the Melanesian region and argues that interlocking exchange systems and associated human interchanges are the invisible government through which New Guinea societies operate Succeeding chapters review the history of encounters between outsiders and New Guinea's populations They consider the history of Malay involvement with New Guinea over the past two thousand years demonstrating the extent to which west New Guinea in particular was incorporated into Malay trading and raiding networks prior to Western contact The impact of colonial rule economic and social change World War II decolonization and independence are discussed in the final chapter

Return to Volcano Town R. Wally Johnson, Neville A. Threlfall, 2023-10-24 Wally Johnson and Neville Threlfall

re examine the explosive volcanic eruptions that in 1937 43 killed more than 500 people in the Rabaul area of East New Britain Papua New Guinea They reassess this disaster in light of the prodigious amount of new scientific and disaster management work that has been undertaken there since about 1971 when strong tectonic earthquakes shook the area Comparisons are made in particular with volcanic eruptions in 1994 2014 when half of Rabaul town was destroyed and then abandoned A striking feature of historical eruptive periods at Rabaul is the near simultaneous activity at Vulcan and Tavurvur volcanoes on either side of Rabaul Harbour Such rare twin eruptions are interpreted to be the result of a common magma reservoir beneath the harbour This interpretation has implications for ongoing hazard and risk assessments and for volcano monitoring in the area

Resurrecting Pompeii Estelle Lazer, 2009-09-10 Resurrecting Pompeii provides an in depth study of a unique site from antiquity with information about a population who all died from the same known cause within a short period of time Pompeii has been continuously excavated and studied since 1748 Early scholars working in Pompeii and other sites associated with the AD 79 eruption of Mount Vesuvius were seduced by the wealth of artefacts and wall paintings yielded by the site This meant that the less visually attractive evidence such as human skeletal remains were largely ignored Recognizing the important contribution of the human skeletal evidence to the archaeology of Pompeii Resurrecting Pompeii remedies that misdemeanour and provides students of archaeology and history with an essential resource in the study of this fascinating historical event

Fire Mountains of the Islands R. Wally Johnson, 2013-12-18 Volcanic eruptions have killed thousands of people and damaged homes villages infrastructure subsistence gardens and hunting and fishing grounds in Papua New Guinea and the Solomon Islands The central business district of a town was destroyed by a volcanic eruption in the case of Rabaul in 1994 Volcanic disasters litter not only the recent written history of both countries particularly Papua New Guinea but are recorded in traditional stories as well Furthermore evidence for disastrous volcanic eruptions many times greater than any witnessed in historical times is to be found in the geological record Volcanic risk is greater today than at any time previously because of larger mainly sedentary populations on or near volcanoes in both countries An attempt is made in this book to review what is known about past volcanic eruptions and disasters with a view to determining how best volcanic risk can be reduced today in this tectonically complex and volcanically threatening region

The Death of the Big Men and the Rise of the Big Shots Keir Martin, 2013-03-01 In 1994 the Pacific island village of Matupit was partially destroyed by a volcanic eruption This study focuses on the subsequent reconstruction and contests over the morality of exchanges that are generative of new forms of social stratification Such new dynamics of stratification are central to contemporary processes of globalization in the Pacific and more widely Through detailed ethnography of the transactions that a displaced people entered into in seeking to rebuild their lives this book analyses how people re make sociality in an era of post colonial neoliberalism without taking either the transformative power of globalization or the resilience of indigenous culture as its starting point It also contributes to the understanding of the problems of post disaster reconstruction and development projects

The Cambridge History of the Pacific Ocean:

Volume 1, The Pacific Ocean to 1800 Ryan Tucker Jones, Matt K. Matsuda, 2023-01-05 Volume I of The Cambridge History of the Pacific Ocean provides a wide ranging survey of Pacific history to 1800 It focuses on varied concepts of the Pacific environment and its impact on human history as well as tracing the early exploration and colonization of the Pacific the evolution of Indigenous maritime cultures after colonization and the disruptive arrival of Europeans Bringing together a diversity of subjects and viewpoints this volume introduces a broad variety of topics engaging fully with emerging environmental and political conflicts over Pacific Ocean spaces These essays emphasize the impact of the deep history of interactions on and across the Pacific to the present day Pacific Places, Pacific Histories Brij V. Lal, 2004-04-30 Places matter We are shaped by them and in turn we shape them physically and imaginatively They connect us to time and locality perhaps even to life and death itself This is a book about places and how our engagement with them complex changing and varied forms and transforms our understanding of them of ourselves of the human condition itself Pacific Places Pacific Histories brings together leading Pacific Islands studies scholars and invites them to talk about the places they have inhabited and to contemplate the meaning of that experience The result is a veritable collage of reflections distinct and different from each other but moving in their collective impact Our engagement with places becomes daily more complicated with the transnational movement of peoples ideas technologies and cultures Global capitalism relentlessly alters established ethnographic assumptions about the meaning and importance of where we are and have been The essays presented here are about letting go learning and un learning transgressing physical emotional and intellectual boundaries They are about personal quests narrated in distinctive voices raising particular concerns Together they contribute significantly to our understanding of how small islands in a vast ocean enable us to see ourselves and the world around us Pompeian Households Penelope M. Allison, 2004-12-31 Studies of Pompeian material culture have traditionally been dominated by art historical approaches but recently there has been a renewed and burgeoning interest in Pompeian houses for studies of Roman domestic behavior This book is concerned with contextualized Pompeian household artifacts and their role in deepening our understanding of household behavior at Pompeii It consists of a study of the contents of thirty so called atrium houses in Pompeii to investigate the spatial distribution of household activities both within each architectural room type and across the house It also uses this material to investigate the state of occupancy of these houses at the time of the eruption of Mt Vesuvius in AD 79 It thus examines artifact assemblages within their spatial and decorative contexts for a more material cultural approach to these remains and for the information which they provide on living conditions in Pompeii during the last decades In this it takes a critical perspective the textual nomenclature which is traditionally applied to Pompeian room types

Tulagi Clive Moore, 2019-09-24 Tulagi was the capital of the British Solomon Islands Protectorate between 1897 and 1942 The British withdrawal from the island during the Pacific War its capture by the Japanese and the American reconquest left the island's facilities damaged beyond repair. After the war, Britain moved the capital to the American military base on Guadalcanal, which became Honiara. The Tulagi settlement was an enclave of several small islands, the permanent population of which was never more than 600. 300 foreigners, one third of European origin and most of the remainder Chinese, and an equivalent number of Solomon Islanders. Thousands of Solomon Islander males also passed through on their way to work on plantations and as boat crews, hospital patients and prisoners. The history of the Tulagi enclave provides an understanding of the origins of modern Solomon Islands. Tulagi was also a significant outpost of the British Empire in the Pacific, which enables a close analysis of race, sex and class and the process of British colonisation and government in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.

Going Forward by Looking Back Felix Riede, Payson Sheets, 2020-09-11. Catastrophes are on the rise due to climate change, as is their toll in terms of lives and livelihoods, as world populations rise and people settle into hazardous places. While disaster response and management are traditionally seen as the domain of the natural and technical sciences, awareness of the importance and role of cultural adaptation is essential. This book catalogues a wide and diverse range of case studies of such disasters and human responses. This serves as inspiration for building culturally sensitive adaptations to present and future calamities to mitigate their impact and facilitate recoveries.

A Companion to Global Environmental History J. R. McNeill, Erin Stewart Mauldin, 2025-02-06. A COMPANION TO GLOBAL ENVIRONMENTAL HISTORY. Equips both specialists and newcomers with the historical, intellectual and political context for engagement with the environment. Providing multiple points of entry into a dynamic, fast-growing field, A Companion to Global Environmental History explores the many contours of the relationship between human societies and the natural world on which they depend. Bringing together essays by an international roster of both established experts and emerging scholars, this volume covers a uniquely broad range of temporal, geographic, thematic and contextual approaches to the practice of global environmental history. Thirty-three detailed chapters describe how the relationship between society and nature has changed over time, examine the various drivers of change and environmental transformations, survey different types of environmental thought and action around the world, and more. Now in its second edition, the Companion is fully revised to reflect major research developments and new trajectories within the field. Updated chapters that present new evidence for longstanding debates and innovative applications of environmental history are accompanied by six entirely new chapters on India, China, Africa, early modern cities, global environmental governance and European environmentalism. Offering fresh insights into environmental thought, culture, policy and politics, A Companion to Global Environmental History, Second Edition, is an ideal textbook for undergraduate and graduate students and an invaluable reference for scholars, researchers and environmental historians.

Religions of Melanesia Garry Trompf, 2006-09-30. Melanesia boasts over one quarter of the world's distinct religions and presents the most complex religious panorama on earth. The region is famous for its unusual new religious movements that have adapted traditional beliefs to modernity in surprising ways. As the first bibliographical survey to comprehensively cover the entire region Religions of Melanesia is an invaluable research aid for anyone interested in this growing field Trompf's work is a complete listing of scholarly publications and provides readable and concise descriptions that will clearly guide the researcher toward the most relevant sources This survey covers 2188 entries organized topically and regionally Trompf covers such subjects as traditional and modern belief systems and the emergent indigenous Christianity that has taken root Regional coverage includes Irian Jaya Papua New Guinea Solomon Islands Vanuatu New Caledonia and Fiji

In their Time of Need: Volume 6, The Official History of Australian Peacekeeping, Humanitarian and Post-Cold War Operations Steven Bullard, 2017-08-04 This volume of The Official History of Australian Peacekeeping Humanitarian and Post Cold War Operations recounts the activities of Australia's military forces in response to overseas natural disasters The military's involvement in overseas emergency management is focused primarily on the period immediately after disaster strikes transporting relief supplies providing medical assistance restoring basic services and communications and other logistical support Beginning with the 1917-18 influenza epidemic that ravaged the Pacific and culminating with the 2005 Pakistan earthquake this book covers Australia's response to some of the most catastrophic natural events of the twentieth century In their Time of Need is richly detailed as Steven Bullard weaves together official government records and archival images with the personal narratives and photographs of those who served This volume is an authoritative and compelling history of Australia's efforts to help their neighbours

Oceania Alfred Reginald Radcliffe-Brown, Raymond Firth, Adolphus Peter Elkin, 1995 Maski Wari Peter Kelly, 2025-03-30 The Patrol Officer was God's shadow on earth every white man was a Masta As colonialism imposed itself on the inhabitants of Papua New Guinea in the first 70 years of last century the experience also transformed the character of the colonialists Maski Wari's 12 pieces of historical fiction span the seven decades of Australian administration of the territories of Papua New Guinea they do not attempt to portray the indigenous viewpoint instead they are an examination of the motives and outlook of some very dissimilar characters kiaps miners teachers missionaries anthropologists nurses They are anecdotes solely from the white colonialist perspective Maki Wari she'll be right

Islandscapes and Tourism Joseph M Cheer, Solène Prince, Philip Hayward, 2023-04-07 The links between islands and tourism as sights of pleasure is embodied in the touristification of sun sand and sea Islandscapes are central to the tourist imaginaries that shape islands as touristified places curated designed and commodified for both mass tourism and more niche inclined versions Yet while islands are parlayed for touristic pleasure seekers islands are also home to longstanding communities that have variously battled with the tyranny of distance from metropolitan centres as well as the everyday challenges of climate change effects and benefitted from their isolation from modern day pressures This anthology of articles previously published in the journal Shima explores emergent themes that describe how island peoples adapt and respond in localised cultural islandscapes as a consequence of tourism expansion It is aimed at researchers in island studies tourism sustainability human geography cultural studies sociology and anthropology

The anthology will also be of interest to those with an abiding interest in the trajectories of islands and their peoples particularly where tourism has come to shape landscapes
