Race to the Bottom Azfar Shafi, Ilyas Nagdee, 2022-06-20 Antiracist movements are more mainstream than ever before Liberal democracies boast of their policies designed to stamp out racism in all walks of life Why then is racism still ever present in our society This is not an accident but by design Capitalism is structured by racism and has relentlessly attacked powerful movements Race to the Bottom traces our current crisis back decades to the fragmentation of Britain's Black Power movements and their absorption into NGOs and the Labour Party The authors call for recovering radical histories of antiracist struggle championing modern activism and infusing them with the urgency of our times replacing anxieties over unconscious bias and rival claims for representation with the struggle for a new socialist multi racial organising from below

The Complexion of Race Roxann Wheeler, 2000 In the 1723 Journal of a Voyage up the Gambia an English narrator describes the native translators vital to the expedition's success as being Black as Coal Such a description of dark skin color was not unusual for eighteenth century Britons but neither was the statement that followed here through Custom being Christians they account themselves White Men The Complexion of Race asks how such categories would have been possible when and how such statements came to seem illogical and how our understanding of the eighteenth century has been distorted by the imposition of nineteenth and twentieth century notions of race on an earlier period Wheeler traces the emergence of skin color as a predominant marker of identity in British thought and juxtaposes the Enlightenment's scientific speculation on the biology of race with accounts in travel literature fiction and other documents that remain grounded in different models of human variety As a consequence of a burgeoning empire in the second half of the eighteenth century English writers were increasingly preoccupied with differentiating the British nation from its imperial outposts by naming traits that set off the rulers from the ruled although race was one of these traits it was by no means the distinguishing one In the fiction of the time non European characters could still be redeemed by baptism or conversion and the British nation could embrace its mixed race progeny In Wheeler's eighteenth century we see the coexistence of two systems of racialization and to detect a moment when an older order based on the division between Christian and heathen gives way to a new one based on the assertion of difference between black and white Critical Race Theory in England Namita Chakrabarty, Lorna Roberts, John Preston, 2016-03-16 Critical Race Theory CRT explains and challenges the persistence of racial discrimination throughout the world today addressing issues such as racism post colonialism and systems of apartheid Despite claims we live in a post racial era equality laws are under threat in the UK and evidence of racism persists in life and work This collection is the result of ongoing work in this area by a group of UK based academics the CRT in the UK discussion group convened by Namita Chakrabarty John Preston and Lorna Roberts The aim of this book is to examine the practical application of CRT within a specifically English context Encompassing a range of fields from education to civil defense it considers the tools and techniques of CRT including CRT feminist thought from counter narrative to the role of political positioning but above all it analyzes the workings of on going racism within English institutions and structures Key aspects of post 9 11 culture are also critiqued and explored including an analysis of Islamophobia and antiracism how counter terror measures may reinforce racist beliefs the role of race and the BME academic and the manipulation of race in debates surrounding education and class These new perspectives offer greater insight into the crucial area of race without which any understanding of 21st century England is incomplete This book was originally published as a special issue of Race Ethnicity and Education Race, Racism and the Geography Curriculum John Morgan, David Lambert, 2023-03-23 Changes in the nature of knowledge production plus rapid social and cultural change have meant that the curriculum question what is to be taught and by extension whose knowledge has been hotly contested The question of what to teach has become more and more controversial This book asks what is an appropriate curriculum response to the acute renewed interest in issues of race and racism How does a school subject like geography respond The struggle over the school curriculum has frequently been portrayed as being between educational traditionalists and progressives This book suggests a way out of this impasse Drawing upon and extending insights from social realism it explores what a Future 3 geography curriculum might look like one that recognizes the importance of the academic discipline as a source of curriculum making but at the same time avoids geographical knowledge becoming set in stone The book focuses very sharply on issues of race and racism enabling teachers to engage in curriculum making in geography that is racially literate The Foreword is written by Julian Agyeman a former geography teacher in the UK and now Professor of Urban and Environmental Policy and Planning at Tufts University USA Race in Post-racial Europe Stefanie C. Boulila, 2019-08-06 How can we make sense of race in Europe In public discourse race is understood as an outdated concept and as a reminiscence of a past that has been overcome Drawing on intersectional feminist theory and a rich selection of examples from political and cultural discourse Race in Post Racial Europe provides a unique insight into how gender and racial inequalities are maintained through the claim of being beyond them Roads to Decolonisation Amy Duvenage, 2024-04-16

The Retreat of Scientific Racism Elazar

Barkan,1992 This fascinating study in the sociology of knowledge documents the refutation of scientific foundations for racism in Britain and the United States between the two World Wars when racial differences were no longer attributed to cultural factors Professor Barkan considers the social significance of this transformation particularly its effect on race relations in the modern world Discussing the work of the leading biologists and anthropologists who wrote between the wars he argues that the impetus for the shift in ideologies came from the inclusion of outsiders women Jews and leftists who infused greater egalitarianism into scientific discourse But even though the emerging view of race was constrained by a scientific language he shows that modern theorists were as much influenced by social and political events as were their predecessors
