Intersections of Race, Class, Gender, and Nation in Fin-de-siècle Spanish Literature and Culture Jennifer Smith, Lisa

Nalbone, 2016-09-01 This volume focuses on intersections of race class gender and nation in the formation of the fin de si cle Spanish and Spanish colonial subject Despite the wealth of research produced on gender social class race and national identity few studies have focused on how these categories interacted frequently operating simultaneously to reveal contexts in which dominated groups were dominating and vice versa Such revelations call into question metanarratives about the exploitation of one group by another and bring to light interlocking systems of identity formation and consequently oppression that are difficult to disentangle The authors included here study this dynamic in a variety of genres and venues namely the essay the novel the short story theater and zarzuelas These essays cover canonical authors such as Benito P rez Gald s and Emilia Pardo Baz n and understudied female authors such as Rosario de Acuña and Bel n S rraga The authors included here study this dynamic in a variety of genres and venues namely the essay the novel the short story theater and zarzuelas The volume builds on recent scholarship on race class gender and nation by focusing specifically on the intersections of these categories and by studying this dynamic in popular culture visual culture and in the works of both canonical and lesser known authors Nation, Immigration, and Environmental Security J. Urban, 2008-05-12 Using the lens of postcolonial feminism and with particular focus on immigration across the U S across Mexico border this book explores the processes by which security threats are identified and interpreted and thus the relationship between national civilizational and environmental security within mainstream environment security discourse in the United States Another distinctive element of the book is that its focus on the broader discourse of environmental security and immigration examining the articulation of environmental security concerns over immigration across U S institutions such as the media the state NGOs and academia to unpack the ways these threats are identified and interpreted Critical Articulations of Race, Gender, and Sexual Orientation Sheena C. Howard, 2014-09-17 Critical Articulations of Race Gender and Sexual Orientation engages scholarly essays poems and creative writings that examine the meanings of race gender and sexual orientation as interlocking systems of oppression Each chapter in this volume critically yet creatively interrogates the notion of identity as socially constructed yet interconnected and shaped by cultural associations expanding on the idea that we as individuals live in an identity matrix our self concept experiences and interpretations originate or are developed from the culture in which we are embedded The shaping of an individual s identity communication and worldview can be read shaped and understood through life art popular culture mass media and cross cultural interactions among other things The aptness of this work lies in its ability to provide a meaningful and creative space to analyze identity and identity politics highlighting the complexities of identity formation in the twenty first century

The Oxford Handbook of Social Class in Counseling William Ming Liu, 2013-03-28 This book summarizes and synthesizes the available research on social class and classism around counseling practice and research The authors offer interesting and provocative applications of social class and classism to varied practice and research settings and provide suggestions toward education training and practice

South Asians in Kenya Pascale Herzig, 2006 For more than a century a substantial South Asian minority has been living in Kenya Within a few decades a majority of the Kenyan Asians has managed to transform their living conditions from an impoverished rural background in South Asia to a globalised and economically successful middle class in East Africa Therefore this research sets an example of migration as an opportunity for social mobility The study is based on empirical data collected with South Asians in Kenya who were differentiated by gender age migratory generation and other social boundaries The research is divided into three levels of analysis interethnic and intra ethnic relations i e the relations within the South Asian minority as well as the relations within the family To understand the complexity of migrants lives an approach of geographies of intersectionality was developed which takes different intersecting social boundaries into account and additionally considers the significance of place The study shows that migration has an impact on the relations between genders age groups and migratory generations and leads to changing identities and new lifestyles Book jacket
