Race Evolution And Behaviour A Life History Perspective:

Race, Evolution, and Behavior J. Philippe Rushton, 1995 This volume is sure to be controversial as Rushton attempts nothing less than a paradigmatic change in the way social scientists approach their work especially those concentrated in the study of racial differences Race Evolution and Behavior must be read by sociologists anthropologists genetic scientists psychologists and black studies specialists

Race, Evolution, and Behavior J. Rushton, 2013-07-28 New edition A masterpiece of modern racial science grounded in irrefutable fact Testing for racial differences in behavior has been much neglected over the past sixty years And when not subject to neglect to strongly negative imputations among professionals and politicians alike According to J Philippe Rushton substantial racial differences do exist and their pattern can only be explained adequately from an evolutionary perspective In this book the author reviews international data and finds a distinct pattern People of East Asian ancestry and people of African ancestry are at opposite ends of a continuum with people of European ancestry intermediate albeit with much variability within each broad grouping Rushton s thesis is that when fully modern humans migrated out of Africa perhaps only 100 000 years ago the colder Eurasian climate selected for larger brains more forward planning greater family stability and increased longevity with concomitant reductions in sex hormone speed of maturation reproductive potency and aggressiveness Rushton s theory emphasizes a trade off between parenting and mating and brings into focus the concept of a coordinated life history of characteristics evolving together to replicate genes more effectively The selection for large brains and parenting skills was taken furthest in east Asia Rushton s theory explains differentiation in intelligence and predicts other seemingly unrelated race effects such as differences in frequency of twinning The capacity to unify disparate phenomena is usually considered a virtue in theories Rushton s gene based evolutionary models explain ethnocentrism and racial group differences and may provide a catalyst for understanding individual differences and human nature This volume is sure to be controversial as Rushton attempts nothing less than a paradigmatic change in the way social scientists approach their work especially those concentrated in the study of racial differences Race Evolution and Behavior must be read by sociologists anthropologists and black studies specialists

Shackelford, Virgil Zeigler-Hill, 2017-08-01 This review of recent evolutionary theories on psychopathology takes on controversies and contradictions both with established psychological thought and within the evolutionary field itself Opening with the ancestral origins of the familiar biopsychosocial model of Intelligence, Race, And Genetics Frank Miele, 2018-03-05 In a series of provocative conversations with Skeptic magazine s senior editor Frank Miele renowned University of California Berkeley psychologist Arthur R Jensen details the evolution of his thoughts on the nature of intelligence tracing an intellectual odyssey that leads from the programs of the Great Society to the Bell Curve Wars and beyond Miele cross examines Jensen s views on general intelligence the g factor racial differences in IQ cultural bias in IQ tests and whether differences in IQ are due primarily to heredity or to remediable factors such as poverty and discrimination With characteristic frankness Jensen also presents his view of the proper role of scientific facts in establishing public policy such as Affirmative Action Jensenism the assertion that heredity plays an undeniably greater role than environmental factors in racial and other IQ differences has entered the dictionary and also made Jensen a bitterly controversial figure Nevertheless Intelligence Race and Genetics carefully underscores the dedicated lifetime of scrupulously scientific research that supports Jensen s conclusions Erectus Walks Amongst Us Richard D.

Fuerle, 2008-03 Origins of Genius Dean Keith Simonton, 1999-07-08 How can we account for the sudden appearance of such dazzling artists and scientists as Mozart Shakespeare Darwin or Einstein How can we define such genius What conditions or personality traits seem to produce exceptionally creative people Is the association between genius and madness really just a myth These and many other questions are brilliantly illuminated in The Origins of Genius Dean Simonton convincingly argues that creativity can best be understood as a Darwinian process of variation and selection The artist or scientist generates a wealth of ideas and then subjects these ideas to aesthetic or scientific judgment selecting only those that have the best chance to survive and reproduce Indeed the true test of genius is the ability to bequeath an impressive and influential body of work to future generations Simonton draws on the latest research into creativity and explores such topics as the personality type of the genius whether genius is genetic or produced by environment and education the links between genius and mental illness Darwin himself was emotionally and mentally unwell the high incidence of childhood trauma especially loss of a parent amongst Nobel Prize winners the importance of unconscious incubation in creative problem solving and much more Simonton substantiates his theory by examining and quoting from the work of such eminent figures as Henri Poincare W H Auden Albert Einstein Marie Curie Charles Darwin Niels Bohr and many others For anyone intrigued by the spectacular feats of the human mind The Origins of Genius offers a revolutionary new way of understanding the very nature of creativity

Race and Intelligence Jefferson M. Fish, 2013-05-13 In recent years reported racial disparities in IQ scores have been the subject of raging debates in the behavioral and social sciences and education What can be made of these test results in the context of current scientific knowledge about human evolution and cognition Unfortunately discussion of these issues has tended to generate more heat than light Now the distinguished authors of this book offer powerful new illumination Representing a range of disciplines psychology anthropology biology economics history philosophy sociology and statistics the authors review the concept of race and then the concept of intelligence Presenting a wide range of findings they put the experience of the United States so frequently the only focus of attention in global perspective They also show that the human species has no races in the biological sense though cultures have a variety of folk concepts of race that there is no single form of intelligence and that formal education helps individuals to develop a variety of cognitive abilities Race and Intelligence offers the most comprehensive and definitive response thus far to claims of innate differences in intelligence among races

Evolution and Literary Theory Joseph Carroll, 1995 Over the past two decades poststructuralism in its myriad forms has come to dominate literary criticism to the exclusion of virtually any other point of view Few scholars have escaped the coercive authority of its programmatic radicalism In Evolution and Literary Theory Joseph Carroll vigorously attacks the foundational principles of poststructuralism and offers in their stead a bold new theory that situates literary criticism within the matrix of evolutionary theory

Neurorhetorics Jordynn Jack, 2013-09-13 In academia as well as in popular culture the prefix neuro now occurs with startling frequency Scholars now publish research in the fields of neuroeconomics neurophilosophy neuromarketing neuropolitics and neuroeducation Consumers are targeted with enhanced products and services such as brain based training exercises and babies are kept on a strict regimen of brain music brain videos and brain games The chapters in this book investigate the rhetorical appeal effects and implications of this prefix neuro and carefully consider the potential collaborative work between rhetoricians and neuroscientists Drawing on the increasingly interdisciplinary nature of rhetorical study Neurorhetorics questions how discourses about the brain construct neurological differences such as mental illness or intelligence measures Working at the nexus of rhetoric and neuroscience the authors explore how to operationalize rhetorical inquiry into neuroscience in meaningful ways They account for the production dissemination and appeal of neuroscience research findings revealing what rhetorics about the brain mean for contemporary public discourse This book was originally published as a special issue of Rhetoric Society Quarterly

Risky Transactions Frank K. Salter, 2002 Trust is a central feature of relationships within the Mafia oppressed minorities kin groups everywhere among dissidents nationalist freedom fighters ethnic tourists ethnic middlemen exchange networks of Kalahari Bushmen and families subjected to Stalinist social control Each of these types of trust is examined by a leading scholar and compared with the expectations of neo Darwinian theory in particular the theories of kin selection and ethnic nepotism The result is a fascinating theoretically focused yet empirically eclectic contribution to the overlapping fields of human ethnology evolutionary psychology and bio politics The common thread uniting these diverse phenomena is a trusting relationship predicated on altruism Chapters examine the strengths and limits of human trust under various stressors and temptations to defect By exploring the relationship between kin and ethnic altruism and showing its sensitivity to culture Risky Transactions recasts the evolutionary approach to ethnicity as a blend of primordial and instrumental factors

The Domesticated Penis Loretta A. Cormier, Sharyn R. Jones, 2015-11-30 The Domesticated Penis is the first anthropological history of the penis incorporating evidence from evolutionary theory primatology archaeology and cultural anthropology

Race Vincent Sarich, 2018-03-05 The conventional wisdom in contemporary social science claims that human races are not biologically valid categories Many argue the very words race and racial differences should be abolished because they support racism In Race Vincent Sarich and Frank Miele challenge both these tenets First they cite the historical record the art and literature of other civilizations and cultures morphological studies cognitive psychology and the latest research in medical genetics forensics and the human genome to demonstrate that racial differences are not trivial but very real They conclude with the paradox that while scientific honesty requires forthright recognition of racial differences public policy should not recognize racial group membership The evidence and issues raised in this book will be of critical interest to students of race in behavioral and political science medicine and law

The Human Condition Robert G.

Bednarik, 2011-06-28 This book summarizes the work of several decades culminating in a revolutionary model of recent human evolution It challenges current consensus views fundamentally presenting in its support a mass of evidence much of which has never been assembled before This evidence derives primarily from archaeology paleoanthropology genetics clinical psychology neurosciences linguistics and cognitive sciences No even remotely similar thesis of recent human origins has ever been published but some of the key elements of this book have been published by the author in major refereed journals in the last two years Its implications are far reaching and profoundly affect the way we perceive ourselves as a species This book about what it means to be human is heavily referenced with a bibliography of many hundreds of scientific entries

The Nurture Versus Biosocial Debate in Criminology Kevin M. Beaver, J.C. Barnes, Brian B. Boutwell, 2014-01-31 The Nurture Versus Biosocial Debate in Criminology On the Origins of Criminal Behavior and Criminality takes a contemporary approach to address the sociological and the biological positions of human behavior by allowing preeminent scholars in criminology to speak to the effects of each on a range of topics Kevin M Beaver J C Barnes and Brian B Boutwell

aim to facilitate an open and honest debate between the more traditional criminologists who focus primarily on environmental factors and contemporary biosocial criminologists who examine the interplay between biology genetics and environmental factors

The Osaro Theory Efosa Osaro,2019-07-11 The Osaro Theory suggests that there is a variation between those who evolved in tropical conditions and those who evolved in a colder climate It is the author s belief that these environmental differences have altered not only the physiology but are also responsible for the biological and the behavioral differences between blacks whites and Asians The Emotional Reservoir is a phrase he coined based on the study of the enormous effect of the sun on the earth and how it affects human biology physiology and behavior According to his theory these environmental differences have numerous effects on human beings also on how the environment can dictate human intelligence This theory also suggests that the people who evolved out of sub Saharan Africa tend to possess more Emotional Reservoir than the Europeans and Asians who evolved in a colder environment and who tend to have a lesser Emotional Reservoir Furthermore this higher Emotional Reservoir is also responsible for certain behaviors that are detrimental to the growth and the stability of these groups which in turn cause behavioral pathologies and poor decision making

Dismantling Contemporary Deficit Thinking Richard R. Valencia,2010-09-13 Deficit thinking is a pseudoscience founded on racial and class bias It blames the victim for school failure instead of examining how schools are structured to prevent poor students and students of color from learning Dismantling Contemporary Deficit Thinking provides comprehensive critiques and anti deficit thinking alternatives to this oppressive theory by framing the linkages between prevailing theoretical perspectives and contemporary practices within the complex historical development of deficit thinking Dismantling Contemporary Deficit Thinking examines the ongoing social construction of deficit thinking in three aspects of current discourse the genetic pathology model the culture of poverty model and the at risk model in which poor students students of color and their families are pathologized and marginalized Richard R Valencia challenges these three contemporary components of the deficit thinking theory by providing incisive critiques and discussing competing explanations for the pervasive school failure of many students in the nation s public schools Valencia also discusses a number of proactive anti deficit thinking suggestions from the fields of teacher education educational leadership and educational ethnography that are intended to provide a more equitable and democratic schooling for all students

The Critique of Psychology Thomas Teo,2006-07-18 Closely paralleling the history of psychology is the history of its critics their theories and their contributions The Critique of Psychology is the first book to trace this alternate history from a unique perspective that complements the many existing empirical theoretical and social histories of the field Thomas Teo cogently synthesizes major historical and theoretical narratives to describe two centuries of challenges to and the reactions of the mainstream Some of these critiques of content methodology relevance and philosophical worldview have actually influenced and become integrated into the canon others pose moral questions still under debate All are accessibly presented so that readers may judge their value for themselves Kant's critique of rational and empirical psychology at the end of the 18th century The natural scientific critique of philosophical psychology in the 19th century The human scientific critique of natural scientific psychology The Marxist traditions of critique Feminist and postmodern critiques and the contemporary mainstream Postcolonial critiques and the shift from cross cultural to multicultural psychology This is not a book of critique for critique's sake Teo defines the field as a work in progress with goals that are evolving yet constant In emphasizing ethical and political questions faced by psychology as a discipline this visionary book points students academics and practitioners toward new possibilities for their shared future Intelligence, Instruction, and Assessment Robert J. Sternberg, Wendy M. Williams, 1998-07 This volume shows how modern theories of intelligence can be applied directly in classrooms for the education of children Takes an international approach reflecting both American and European perspectives After Multiculturalism John F. Welsh, 2007-12-12 After Multiculturalism The Discourse on Race and the Dialectics of Liberty provides a unique critique of multiculturalist thought in social theory and public policy from an individualist perspective Contemporary academic and policy discourse on race and racism in the United States is dominated by collectivist social theories that are founded on the idea that the only meaningful challenges to racism are those that foster collective social identities and seek to influence and direct the use of state power in the interest of particular racial and ethnic groups Multiculturalism is the prevailing incarnation of anti racist thought that informs and mediates political process and organizational life in the United States The multicultural discourse on race has become tribalist anti western anti market and statist After Multiculturalism challenges the notion that collectivist and statist ideologies own racism as an educational and public policy issue Welsh demonstrates that individualist philosophies entail critiques of racism that follow directly from their anti collectivist and anti statist foundations He argues that multiculturalism is unlikely to promote the types of social action and changes essential to overcoming racism and that the individualist and libertarian ideas discussed in the book make important contributions toward the realization of a world free of racial domination To this end the ideas of Ayn Rand Murray Rothbard Benjamin Benjamin Tucker Lysander Spooner Max Stirner and contemporary libertarian scholars are discussed to the lay the foundation for a critique of multiculturalism The book explores the concepts of post ethnicity and transracialism as individualist and libertarian expressions of a society after multiculturalism Welsh's discussions of transracialism and post ethnicity constitute unique and important contributions to social thought This book will hold great interest for scholars and students concerned with race ethnicity political theory or individualist thought as well as scholars and students of the history of ideas
