Youth Cultures, Transitions, and Generations Dan Woodman, Andy Bennett, 2016-04-29 Within contemporary youth research there are two dominant streams a transitions and a cultures perspective This collection shows that it is no longer possible to understand the experience of young people through these prisms and proposes new conceptual foundations for youth studies capable of bridging the gap between these approaches

Youth Studies in Transition: Culture, Generation and New Learning Processes Thomas Johansson, Marcus Herz, 2019-01-29 This book provides an updated and fresh introduction to recent theoretical developments in youth studies It expands upon these developments and introduces new discussions and perspectives It presents three central theoretical traditions in youth studies and explores the possibilities of redefining some of the central concepts but also of combining different theoretical perspectives After depicting the theoretical landscape of youth studies the book explores generations and new subjectivities Next it examines subcultures and transitional spaces mediatization and learning processes One chapter is set aside for a discussion on the body the self and habitus and this is followed by a chapter on postcolonial spaces Before presenting its conclusions the book delves into the development of youth studies theory and everyday life All together the book taps into what is happening in the everyday lives of young people and employs a methodology that can be used to create bridges between young people's voices and experiences on the one hand and societal and cultural transformations on the other

The Oxford Handbook of the History of Youth Culture James Alan Marten, 2023 The Oxford Handbook of the History of Youth Culture features broadly contextualized historical case studies of youth cultures from around the world and over the past several centuries Chapters focus on a wide range of issues and themes including youth agency gender self expression and the tension between community control and youthful independence

Making Diaspora in a Global City Helen Kim, 2014-08-21 The exciting diasporic sounds of the London Asian urban music scene are a cross section of the various genres of urban music that include bhangra remix R B and hip hop styles as well as dubstep and other urban sample oriented electronic music This book brings together a unique analysis of urban underground music cultures in exploring just how members of this scene take up space in super diverse London It provides a fresh perspective on the creativity of British South Asian youth culture and makes a significant sociological intervention into this area by bringing the focus back onto urgent issues of race ethnicity alongside class and gender within youth cultural studies

Something for Everyone? Simone Boogaarts-de Bruin, 2011 The urban population is becoming increasingly diverse and growing ethnic diversity is having a singular effect on nightlife in Dutch cities By studying the motivation behind and nightlife choices of the young people who participate in ethno party scenes Boogaarts de Bruin investigates how the changing urban population affects the supply side of the nightlife market using an analytical model she has developed and which she calls the model of structured choice This approach is sensitive to the flexible use of the processes of agency and structure due to the systematic distinction that it makes between societal and personal factors Accordingly it is revealed that in order to analyze and adequately explain the nightlife experiences of and choices made by ethnic youngsters an integrated model is required which centralizes the interaction between the structural strategies of the producers on the one hand and the personal preferences and agency of the consumers on the other What is more this book demonstrates that nightlife has changed because of the increasing ethnic diversity of the Dutch population Finally in the epilogue the fieldwork results are discussed in light of the currently heated debate regarding the integration processes of ethnic minority young people in nightlife

Next Wave Cultures Anita Harris, 2012-09-10 Whereas once young women's feminist activism could be easily identified today this resistance seems obscure transitory and disorganized In Next Wave Cultures established and emerging scholars provide an interdisciplinary examination of young women's multilayered lives This collection demonstrates that young women have new ways of taking on politics and culture that may not be recognizable under more traditional paradigms but deserve to be identified as socially engaged and potentially transformative nonetheless Exploring the ways in which girls various cultural pursuits are tied to identity formation and relate to issues of class sexuality ethnicity religion ability and gender Next Wave Cultures highlights both the limitations and opportunities afforded by globalization of youth consumer culture This valuable collection is a necessary read across disciplines especially to those in the fields of education gender and cultural studies sociology and psychology

Rethinking Young People's Lives Through Space and Place

Anuppiya Sriskandarajah, 2020-06-10 Rethinking Young People's Lives Through Space and Place explores three main themes: how children navigate real and imaginary borders; how space constitutes belonging, meaning-making and representation; and how space informs learning and identities.

The Sociology of Central Asian Youth Mohd. Aslam Bhat, 2018-04-17 At the onset of the twenty-first century, youth studies emerged as a distinct field of inquiry. Discourses and debates in the field have since become more sophisticated, and the spectrum of analysis has likewise broadened. However, it is striking to note how little reference is made to young people of peripheral regions like Central Asia. The Sociology of Central Asian Youth seeks to critically broaden the discussion on youth transitions discourse by moving beyond the geographical terrain of North America, Britain, Australia and Western Europe. The work establishes an in-depth understanding of young Central Asians with a special focus on those in Uzbekistan. This is accomplished through the explanatory powers of the various forms of sociological theory and specifically by pursuing an ambitious aim to introduce the classic sociological debate about the relationship between structure and agency in social behaviour into the study of modern Central Asia. Presenting the experiences of youth against the backdrop of contemporary socio-economic and cultural changes in the post-Soviet space, this empirical monograph will appeal to postgraduate students and post-doctoral researchers interested in fields such as Youth Studies, Central Asian Studies, Social Anthropology, Cultural Studies and Sociology.

Children and Young People's Worlds Martin Robb, Heather Montgomery, 2018-07-11 This textbook for advanced and postgraduate students sets out the contexts of children's and young people's lives and encourages students to explore their complexities and contexts. This new edition has been substantially updated to discuss and analyse new topics and issues that have emerged over the last ten years, including developments in the way that children and young people's lives have been theorised and understood, their engagement in all aspects of contemporary cultures, including the spiritual as well as the digital, the impact of recent political, economic and social change. Drawing on insights from psychology, cultural studies, sociology, anthropology, geography and education, each chapter challenges students' assumptions and examines crucial issues in the field, such as participation, race, rights, law, transnational childhoods and sexuality. These different perspectives, drawing on different bodies of work, form a holistic picture of the multi-faceted lives of children and young people today.

Race, Gangs and Youth Violence Anthony Gunter, 2017-02-15 This book challenges current thinking about youth violence and gangs and their racialisation by the media and the police. It highlights how the street gang label is unfairly linked to Black and urban youth, street-based lifestyles, cultures and friendship groups.

New Geographies of Race and Racism Caroline Bressey, 2016-04-29 In recent years, geographers interested in ethnicity, race and racism have extended their focus from examining geographies of segregation and racism to exploring cultural politics, social practice and everyday geographies of identity and experience. This edited collection illustrates this new work and includes research on youth and new ethnicities, the contested politics of race and racism, intersections of ethnicity, religion and race, and the theorisation and interrogation of whiteness. Case studies from the UK and Ireland focus on the intersections of race and nation and the specificities of place in discourses of racialisation and identity. A key feature of the book is its engagement with a range of methodological approaches to examining the significance of race including ethnography, visual methodologies and historical analysis. Children and Young People's Worlds Montgomery, Heather, Kellett, Mary, 2009-07-08. This comprehensive reader combines post graduate level theory with contemporary case studies to illustrate and analyse the complications of children and young people's lived experiences in the UK and worldwide in the early 21st century. Authors in several fields of childhood and youth studies apply their expertise to areas such as young people and the law, children's rights, child protection, sexuality, participation, politics and family life. Using the voices of the children and young people themselves, key topics illustrate important contemporary issues in the study of childhood and youth and show how these impact on policy initiatives and practical interventions in children's lives.

Youths in Challenging Situations Charalambos Tsekeris, Lily Stylianoudi, 2018-08-30. This book investigates and explores the complex dynamics of youth in contemporary society especially in troubled and crisis-ridden contexts. On the one hand, teenagers and young adults experience social suffering, marginalisation, gender and ethnic bias and an increased risk to be radicalised and involved in extremism and related violence. On the other hand, it is shown that young people are resilient and they have a remarkable ability to adapt and cope with extremely difficult situations. This interesting ambivalence is vividly illustrated by a number of studies in countries as varied as Ethiopia, Zambia, South Africa, Botswana, Brazil, Hong Kong, Kuwait, India, Israel, Britain, Italy, Malta, Spain, Portugal and Cyprus. Each of the 16 chapters throws a different light on the impact of destabilising circumstances and how youths cope with them in order to gain positive self-esteem and sense of a meaningful life. Overall, the experiences of young people are a distillation of the particular traumas and challenges that their society faces. Understanding those experiences and how they are coped with helps to make sense of all societies. This book was originally published as a special issue of Contemporary Social Science. Belonging and Becoming in a Multicultural World Laura Moran, 2020. Based on extensive ethnographic fieldwork in Brisbane, Australia, Belonging and Becoming in a Multicultural World provides a critical analysis of the shortcomings and underpinning contradictions of modern multicultural inclusion. It demonstrates how creating a sense of identity among young Sudanese and Karen refugees is a continual process shaped by powerful social forces. The Subcultural Imagination Shane Blackman, Michelle Kempson, 2016-06-17. The Subcultural Imagination discusses young adults in subcultures and examines how sociologists use qualitative research methods to study them. Through the application of the ideas of C. Wright Mills to the development of theory, reflexive ethnography, this book analyses the experiences of young people in different subcultural settings as well as reflecting on how young people in subcultures interact in the wider context of society, biography and history. From Cuba to London and Bulgaria to Asia, this book delves into urban spaces and street corners, young people's parties, gigs, BDSM fetish clubs, school, the home and feminist zines to offer a picture of live sociology in practice. In three parts, the volume explores history, biography and subculture practising reflexivity in the field epistemologies pedagogies and the subcultural subject The book offers cutting edge theory and rich empirical research on social class gender and ethnicities from both established and new researchers across diverse disciplinary backgrounds It moves the subcultural debate beyond the impasse of the term s relevance to one where researchers are fully engaged with the lives of the subcultural subjects This innovative edited collection will appeal to scholars and students in the areas of sociology youth studies media and cultural studies communication research methods and ethnography popular music studies criminology politics social and cultural theory and gender studies
