No Road Leading Back Chris Heath, 2024-09-03 This by turns shattering and hope giving account of prisoners who dug their way to freedom from the Nazis is both a stunning escape narrative and an object lesson in the ways we remember and continually forget the particulars of the Holocaust No Road Leading Back is the remarkable story of a dozen prisoners who escaped from the site where more than 70 000 Jews were shot in the Lithuanian forest of Ponar after the Nazi invasion of Eastern Europe in 1941 Anxious to hide the incriminating evidence of the murders the S S later in the war enslaved a group of Jews to exhume every one of the bodies and incinerate them all in a months long labor an episode whose specifics are staggering and disturbing even within the context of the Holocaust From within that dire circumstance emerges the improbable escape made by some of the men who dug a tunnel with bare hands and spoons while they were trapped and guarded day and night an act not just of bravery and desperation but of awesome imagination Based on first person accounts of the escapees and on each scrap of evidence that has been documented repressed or amplified since this book resurrects their lives while also providing a complex urgent analysis of why their story has rarely been told and never accurately Heath explores the cultural use and misuse of Holocaust testimony and the need for us to face it and all uncomfortable historical truths with honesty and accuracy

Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an information company. One Dark Night Hannah Richell, 2025-08-19 When a body is found the day after Halloween, a small British community must reckon with its past and the dangers lurking in its present. In this spine-tingling novel, from not to be missed Hayley Scrivener, author of Dirt Creek, author Hannah Richell, on Halloween a group of teenage students meet in the woods near Sally in the Wood, a road steeped in local lore and rumored to be haunted by the ghost of a murdered girl. By the end of the night, one student will be dead. Rachel, the school guidance counselor, is trying to keep a handle on her increasingly distant teenaged daughter, Ellie, while students and parents panic and mourn. Her ex-husband and detective Ben, dealing with a personal crisis of his own, has concerns about his daughter's safety as he investigates the death of one of her classmates. Meanwhile, Ellie is keeping secrets from both her parents, including one about where she was that night. Told from multiple perspectives and with Hannah Richell's distinct atmospheric and ever-twisting Emylia Hall, author of the Shell House Detective Mysteries prose, One Dark Night is a white-knuckled and suspenseful thriller about urban legends, privilege, and how the past continues to haunt us. A Victim's Worst Nightmare Keith

Ethnic Subjectivity in Intergenerational Memory Narratives Mónica Fodor, 2019-11-05 In this interdisciplinary study M nika Fodor explores how intergenerational memory narratives embedded in the speaker s own stories impact ethnic subjectivity construction Working with thematically selected life experiences from interviews conducted with second and late generation European Americans Fodor demonstrates how the storytellers position themselves in a range of social cultural and political discourses to claim or disclaim ethnicity as part of their subjectivity Tying narrative content structural and performance analysis to the sociological and sociolinguistic concepts of symbolic capital and investment Fodor unpacks the changing levels of identifying with one's ancestral ethnic heritage and its potential to carry meaning for late generation descendants. In doing so she reveals the shared features of identification among individuals through narrative meaning making which may be the basis of real or imagined heterolocal discourse community formation and sustained ethnic subjectivity. The narrative analysis demonstrates how the cohesive force among members of the community is the shared knowledge of story frames and the personalized retelling of these. Ethnic Subjectivity in Intergenerational Memory Narratives draws on inherited often moving personal experiences that offers new insights into the so far largely unexplored terrain of the narrative structure of intergenerationally transferred memory retellings that will be of great interest to students and scholars of ethnic studies migration and identity studies.

Negotiating a Perilous Empowerment Erica Abrams Locklear, 2011-11-19 In many parts of Appalachia family ties run deep constituting an important part of an individual's sense of self. In some cases when Appalachian learners seek new forms of knowledge those family ties can be challenged by the accusation that they have gotten above their raisings a charge that can have a lasting impact on family and community acceptance. Those who advocate literacy sometimes ignore an important fact although empowering newly acquired literacies can create identity conflicts for learners especially Appalachian women. In Negotiating a Perilous Empowerment Erica Abrams Locklear explores these literacy initiated conflicts analyzing how authors from the region portray them in their fiction and creative nonfiction. Abrams Locklear blends literacy studies with literary criticism to analyze the central female characters in the works of Harriette Simpson Arnow, Linda Scott DeRosier, Denise Giardina, and Lee Smith. She shows how these authors deftly overturn stereotypes of an illiterate Appalachia by creating highly literate characters women who not only cherish the power of words but also push the boundaries of what literacy means. Negotiating a Perilous Empowerment includes in depth interviews with Linda Scott DeRosier and Lee Smith making this an insightful study of an important literary genre.
