Protection and Safety John Melvin, J Kirk Russell, 2013-10-14 For many years the evolution of safety improvements in motorsports was the result of a combination of science and perceived safe practices Most safety developments were not based on rigorous laboratory testing but rather on intuition and a let's try it and see what happens approach During the last few decades motorsports has benefited from the organized research efforts made possible by academia manufacturers and sanctioning bodies leading to present day motorsports safety methodologies based on solid data and testing This compendium edited by some of the foremost racing safety experts comprises selected technical papers that document the development and implementation of key motorsports safety technologies now in use It is intended to provide racing professionals and enthusiasts with a concise overview of the significant engineering developments in motorsports driver safety that has occurred during the past two decades The 13 papers chosen for this compendium published between 1990 and 2013 reflect landmark safety studies and developments of that time Eleven of the papers were published by SAE

CNN CNN <https://goo.gl/nvopn> The Race for Containment An Overview of the Coronavirus and the Measures Taken to Avoid an Epidemic ROBYN CURNOW CNN ANCHOR So scientists are trying to figure out just how quickly this virus is spreading Of course we've heard from Xi Jinping that it's accelerating but how dangerous is it as well Sanjay Gupta explains for us Sanjay DR SANJAY GUPTA CNN CORRESPONDENT One of the questions we get often is how similar is this to SARS And it's worth pointing out that this is the same family of viruses this new virus and the SARS virus You can take a look at it there

That's the coronavirus. It's named that because corona is crown and you can see that has a crown. What we know is that some time in December the virus started spreading from animals to humans. We knew that that was happening and then we also learned that it was spreading from human to human. That's what really got the public health's health communities attention on this. And what we now know is that this is spreading from human to human fourth generation which is exactly what it sounds like someone spreads it to someone else they spread it to several more people and so on and so on. And that's where the spread and the concern about this becoming more widespread really comes from. Now when you look at a pathogen like this take a quick look at this box there's there are two things that matter really how quickly it spreads what I was just talking about and then how deadly it is. If it's not that deadly and doesn't spread that much that would put you in the A box. The concern is the worst case scenario is that this goes into the D box there highly transmissible and highly lethal as well. As far as the containment efforts I mean it's chaos as you've probably seen now in at least in this area around Wuhan. Tens of millions of people who are on lockdown meaning they're not allowing vehicles in or vehicles to go out. This is a it's a very strong policy it's an aggressive policy it's typically a policy that is done later in stages of an outbreak as opposed to this early. And it's unclear whether China's just being very aggressive or whether they are dealing with data that we are not yet familiar with because it is an aggressive policy over there. They're also recommending everyone wear masks for example in Wuhan. And just a quick tidbit I'll tell you. The masks as you might imagine are not going to stop viral particles from getting into your nose and your mouth. They can get through the mask or around the mask. What they really do more than anything else as I've seen covering these stories is that they prevent you from touching your nose and your mouth which is also one of the most common ways this virus is transmitted.
