Racism And The Administration Of Justice:

Racism and the Administration of Justice Amnesty International, 2001 In 1994 up to a million men women and children were slaughtered in Rwanda in just 100 days The genocide showed how quickly racism in this case in the form of ethnic hatred can erupt into bloodshed and despair particularly when it is fuelled by those in power or those seeking power Racism to varying degrees and in various forms infects virtually every country of the world The law and its administration which should uphold the values of justice and equality is one of the primary forces in opposing the effects of racism Yet justice systems all too often fail in this purpose and instead mirror the prejudices of the society they serve Based on research conducted by Amnesty International in recent years this publication shows that members of ethnic minorities often suffer torture ill treatment and harassment at the hands of the police In many parts of the world they face unfair trials and discriminatory sentencing which puts them at increased risk of harsh punishments including the death penalty Action to combat racism is needed urgently This report concludes with recommendations on how governments can work to end racism in the administration of justice

Cataloging Policy and Support Office, 2009 The Trump Administration Toby S. James, 2022-04-27 The Trump presidency has been one of the most eventful and controversial in American history with consequences for the governance and policy of the US and beyond While Trump left office claiming a long list of Trump Administration Accomplishments his time in office was also marked by a hailstorm of criticism But beyond the sensationalist tweets and news stories what policy effects did he bring This volume provides an extensive and authoritative set of studies evaluating Donald Trump s impact on American society and beyond It provides a new layered framework for assessing the policy impact of leaders which can be used for understanding presidential and prime ministerial leadership more widely Chapters explore his impact on American democracy Congress the Supreme Court the economy the COVID 19 pandemic the environment American soft power the international system and more The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Policy Studies Social Inequality, Criminal Justice, and Race in Tennessee Gerald K. Fosten, 2017-12-21 This book examines the national criminal justice system s and the state of Tennessee criminal justice system s policies in terms of how they balance the citizens need for prisons with the private sector s desire for profits and the policies effects on the incarceration rate of African American males in the state of Tennessee There are important often neglected connections among prison sentencing felony disenfranchisement voting and the continuing problematic issues of race in America particularly in Tennessee This state serves as a representative case study from which to examine local state and national criminal justice systems disparate outcomes and social inequality The book therefore investigates ethically questionable public private business relationships and arrangements that contribute to socially constructed economic policy instruments used to fulfill conservatives and white supremacists objectives for white domination in Tennessee Through mass incarceration and felony disenfranchisement African Americans in particular African American males have been discriminated against and systematically excluded from political participation employment housing education and other social programs This book is grounded on the Racial Contract Theory and Racial Group Threat Theory Racial Threat Theory or Group Threat Theory The Racial Contract Theory is used to show how racism itself is an intentionally devised institutionalized political arrangement of official and unofficial rule of official and unofficial policy socioeconomic benefit and norms for the preferential distribution of material wealth and opportunities The Racial Group Threat Theory is employed to demonstrate how growth in the comparative size of a subordinate group increases that group s capacity to use democratic political and economic institutions for its benefit at the expense of the dominant group

Tax Law and Racial Economic Justice Andre L. Smith, 2015-06-03 No study of Black people in America can be complete without considering how openly discriminatory tax laws helped establish a racial caste system in the United States how they were designed to exclude blacks from lucrative markets and the voting franchise and how tax laws extracted and redistributed vast sums of black wealth Not only was slavery nearly a 100% tax on black labor so too was Jim Crow apartheid and tax laws specified the peculiar institution as negro slavery The first instances of affirmative action in the United States were tax laws designed to attract white men to the South The nineteenth century Federal Tariff indirectly redistributed perhaps a majority of the profits from slavery from the South to the North and is the principle reason the Confederate states seceded The only constitutional amendment obtained by the Civil Rights Movement is the Twenty Sixth Amendment abolishing poll taxes in federal elections Blending traditional legal theory neoclassical economics and a pan African view of history these six interrelated essays on race and taxes demonstrate that even in today s supposedly post racial society there is no area of human activity where racial dynamics are absent

Racism and Resistance Timothy Joseph Golden, 2022-11-01 African American legal theorist Derrick Bell argued that American anti Black racism is permanent but that we are nevertheless morally obligated to resist it Bell an extraordinary legal scholar activist and public intellectual whose academic and political work included his employment as a young attorney with the NAACP and his pivotal role in the founding of Critical Race Theory in the 1970s work he pursued until he died in 2011 termed this thesis racial realism Racism and Resistance is a collection of essays that present a multidisciplinary study of Bell s thesis Scholars in philosophy law theology and rhetoric employ various methods to present original interpretations of Bell s racial realism including critical reflections on racial realism s relationship to theories of adjudication in jurisprudence its use of fiction in relation to law literature and politics its under examined relationship to theology its application in interpersonal relationships and its place in the overall evolution of Bell s thought Racism and Resistance thus presents novel interpretations of Bell s racial realism and enhances the literature on Critical Race Theory accordingly

Writing Wrong is a powerful assemblage of voices that speak to the salience of race gender and their intersection Collectively the authors provide us with poignant reminders of the multiple forces that rail against Black males in our society Each chapter grabs our attention ignites our activism and encourages us to remain steadfast in the struggle toward a true democracy for all Americans a society where Black males lives are valued and they no longer face daily threats to their humanity Yolanda Sealey Ruiz Assistant Professor Teachers College Columbia University While motivated by Trayvon Martin s unfortunate and tragic death this impressive collection serves as a one of a kind tribute to Martin and will help to keep his legacy alive The contributions are evocative and accessible and while the focus is on Martin the contributions also call attention to mundane severe and systemic racial wrongdoings biases in existing research colorblindness and white privilege and erasures of history and failures of memory Tony E Adams Professor at Northeastern Illinois University and NCA book award winner The editors and contributors have taken a tragic topic and presented it in a way that is engaging effective and surprisingly optimistic There is a style for everyone here making it a great text for multiple audiences and classrooms A truly superb addition to any classroom and a great read for those interested in social justice in today s world U Melissa Anyiwo Professor and Coordinator of African American Studies Curry College Trayvon Martin Race and American Justice Writing Wrong is true to its title it focuses attention through critical writing on the pernicious pervasive and persistent violence waged against black men especially black male youth in American society Using the still unpunished pre meditated murder of Trayvon Martin as a highly emblematic example of this violence the editors and authors use carefully crafted and sequenced poetry and prose to write truth to power about the economic political social and cultural factors that produce and reproduce systemic aggression toward especially men and boys of African descent but also toward members of other societally minoritized groups The breadth and depth of the contributions included in Trayvon Martin Race and American Justice Writing Wrong makes it a particularly valuable resource for faculty and students engaged in teaching learning research service and activism related to issues of race racism blackness whiteness class caste classism language dialect literacy linguisticism geographic and national origin immigration status sex gender gender identity and expression masculinity sexual orientation size appearance and more broadly equity equality and social justice Chapters reflect the thoughtful insight and advanced expertise of their authors who bring increased levels of complexity to historical and contemporary dialogue discussion and debate about especially race and racism in the United States The editors selection of contributors and organization of contributions balances pain truth telling with hope and possibility for a more just future In sum Trayvon Martin Race and American Justice Writing Wrong reciprocally links theory and practice relating to issues of power privilege oppression discrimination and liberation Christine Clark Professor Senior Scholar in Multicultural Education and Founding Vice President for Diversity and Inclusion University of Nevada Las Vegas Chapters in this timely and probing book stare straight at a difficult incident refuse to ignore injustice but call on a higher purpose of great academic criticism in writing the wrong Here the wrong is the corrosive and sometimes lethal bias by many in power toward black males who are too often seen as dangerous and disposable in American society The killing of Trayvon Martin and the subsequent acquittal of his killer George Zimmerman are examined by minds informed by reflection on theory and history We hear of conversations that black parents particularly mothers who often felt on trial themselves had with their teenage sons Some of these endangered sons were outraged by the act and verdict while some others were indifferent Chapters are devoted to the incident the trial and aftermath and to the future of the struggle against racial injustice Through what T J Yosso calls resistant capital we are urged to continue to interrogate a judicial system that prosecutes not only black males but their parents and families There is much to learn here about the current state of social justice and the way we live with and among each other In both prose and poetry these impassioned authors strive to write the wrong of Trayvon Martin and many others like him I recommend this volume highly and will use it in my graduate classes AG Rud Distinguished Professor College of Education Washington State University Kenneth J Fasching Varner PhD is Shirley B Barton Endowed Assistant Professor of Foundations and Elementary Education and holds a Ph D in Language Literacy and Culture from The Ohio State University Rema E Reynolds PhD is Assistant Professor of Education Policy Organization and Leadership and holds a doctorate in Education from the University of California Los Angeles Katrice A Albert PhD is Vice President for Equity and Diversity and holds a doctorate in Counseling from Auburn University Lori L Martin PhD is Associate Professor of Sociology and African American Studies and holds a doctorate in Sociology from University of Albany State University of New York
