Racism And Society:

Racism and Society Les Back, John Solomos, 1996-07-03 Why is there a resurgence of racism in contemporary societies How do ideas about race and ethnicity serve to construct forms of social and political identity These are some of the key questions addressed in this important book Drawing on comparative sources this study analyses some of the most important aspects of racism within the context of contemporary social relations introducing both students and practitioners to questions of key importance in the study of racism

Institutional Racism Shirley Better, 2002 In the United States the economic exploitation of non white groups has included the reliance on African American slave labor by Southern plantation owners the systematic removal of Native Americans from their homelands to make room for white settlers and the relegation of non white workers to the most low paid dangerous and dirty jobs Through numerous examples Shirley Better demonstrates that racism is embedded within the fabric of American society restricting equal access to educational opportunities employment and housing She explores the influence of racism in the criminal justice system where it leads to harsher penalties for members of non white groups Having outlined the causes and effects of institutional racism the author presents numerous strategies for individuals and groups to combat this pervasive social problem

Persisting Challenges of Racism in Contemporary Society Hendricks, LaVelle, Smith, Dimitra, Stewart, Delarious, Barner, Faye, 2025-08-06

In contemporary society racism is not only an individual attitude but also embedded in systems such as education healthcare and criminal justice leading to disparities in access and outcomes The rise of social movements has highlighted these issues advocating for equity and justice while challenging ingrained prejudices Additionally the intersectionality of racism with other forms of discrimination such as sexism and classism complicates the experiences of individuals necessitating a nuanced understanding of identity and oppression Addressing racism requires collective efforts that include education policy reform and community engagement to dismantle oppressive structures and promote inclusivity As society grapples with these challenges ongoing dialogue and action are essential to foster a more equitable future

Persisting Challenges of Racism in Contemporary Society critically examines the nature of racism in contemporary society despite advancements in social justice and equity It illuminates the historical roots and systemic structures that sustain racial inequalities while amplifying the voices of those directly impacted by racism Covering topics such as economic inequality intersectionality and racial justice this book is an excellent resource for college and university administrators DEI officers faculty members graduate students policymakers researchers academicians and more
