apparent from the existing principles of revenue allocation in Nigeria In taking issues with them and other southern advocates of new revenue allocation criteria the dominant north s organic intellectuals have always relied on the obvious concentration of economic and commercial activities in southern Nigeria to refute the argument that the north is the greater beneficiary of Nigeria s wealth Scholarly contribution to the ethno regional debate on the equity of resource allocation has been anchored to the same popular platform namely the criteria for inter governmental revenue allocation It is as if they absolutely embody the revelation about equity or inequity of resource allocation in Nigeria where the federal government has retained between 48 5 per cent and 56 per cent of the federation account let alone revenues unpaid into this account This study marks a departure from the orthodox focus on Nigeria s ethnic problems including the contentious demand of the southern minorities for an increase in the weight assigned the principle of derivation by examining federal expenditures to determine the distribution of federal presence and thus winners and losers bearing in mind that the entire country is federal government s coverage

Law Reforms in the ASEAN Emerging Economies Terukazu Suruga,Phanhpakit Onphanhdala,Yuka Kaneko,2023-05-30

This book reviews the periodic changes in the legal policies of the late developing ASEAN countries often known as the CLMV countries Cambodia Laos Myanmar and Vietnam in their continuous path toward globalization after the collapse of the socialist bloc The book also identifies the characteristics of the legal reforms in their present stage guided by the common framework under the ASEAN Economic Community AEC moving toward 2025 The first stage is illustrated by the ASEAN style utilization of foreign investments as reflected in all investment laws and policies of CLMV countries in the 1990s which featured entry control as sticks and investment incentives as carrots Those controls and incentives were the means to induce investors to assume various performance requirements to contribute to industrial policies The second stage witnessed a shift toward enhanced liberalization as an endeavor toward the WTO accession during the 2000s as seen in the integrated investment laws that appealed for the national treatment of foreign investors At the same time those investment laws emphasized the substantive provisions e g fair and equitable treatment and indirect expropriation and procedural protections e g provision of Investor State Dispute Resolution mechanisms as an appeal for stabilization of the investment climate The third stage of legal policy as evidenced by the recent amendments to the investment laws is newly focused on environmental and social considerations which seems to be an indispensable response to the increasing social protests against the negative impacts of investment promotion Simultaneously the means of administrative controls over investors established in the first stage are uniquely utilized for the realization of new goals Governing Cities Through Regions Roger Keil,Pierre

Hamel,Julie-Anne Boudreau,Stefan Kipfer,2016-12-12 The region is back in town Galloping urbanization has pushed beyond historical notions of metropolitanism City regions have experienced in Edward Soja s terms an epochal shift in the nature of the city and the urbanization process marking the beginning of the end of the modern metropolis as we knew it Governing Cities Through Regions broadens and deepens our understanding of metropolitan governance through an innovative comparative project that engages with Anglo American French and German literatures on the subject of regional governance It expands the comparative angle from issues of economic competitiveness and social cohesion to topical and relevant fields such as housing and transportation and it expands comparative work on municipal governance to the regional scale With contributions from established and emerging international scholars of urban and regional governance the volume covers conceptual topics and case studies that contrast the experience of a range of Canadian metropolitan regions with a strong selection of European regions It starts from assumptions of limited conversion among regions across the Atlantic but is keenly aware of the remarkable differences in urban regions path dependencies in which the larger processes of globalization and neo liberalization are situated and materialized      Mass Media, People, and Politics in Nigeria Luke Uka Uche,1989 This Study Brings To The Fore The Precarious Predicament Of The Mass Media Of A Country Whose Political Culture Is Characterised By Divergent And Powerful Interest Groups With Insatiable Political And Economic Demands On The Larger Political Entity It Demonstrates How Nigeria S Development As A Nation State Has Similarly Influenced The Way And Manner Of The Organisation Administration And Contents Of Her Mass Media Systems
