Regional Science Perspectives In Economic Analysis A Festschrift In Memory Of Benjamin H Stevens:

Regional Science Perspectives in Economic Analysis M. L. Lahr, R. E. Miller, 2001-03-08 It is the intention of the editors to make available with this book a selection of current work in regional economics and regional science Great Minds in Regional Science, Vol. 3 Peter Batey, David Plane, 2025-07-31 This book is the third volume in a series on Great Minds in Regional Science which seeks to present a contemporary view on the scientific relevance of the work done by great thinkers in regional science This volume presents among others Walter Christaller Benjamin H Stevens William Alonso and Francois Perroux Each chapter combines factual biographical information about the Great Mind a description of their major contributions and a discussion of the broader context of their work as well as an assessment of its current relevance scientific recognition and policy impact The book attempts to fill a gap in our knowledge and to respond to the growing interest in the formation and development of the field of regional science and its key influential figures Access to the Region's Core in Hudson County, New Jersey and New York County, New York, 2008 Economics of an Innovation System Tsutomu Harada, 2019-03-04 Existing literature looks at national innovation systems from the perspective of either inside the black box or outside the black box This is the first book that analyzes both the inside and outside of the black box using a general equilibrium framework The book looks at what is outside the black box and provides models of path dependent endogenous growth examines the dynamics of the black box from the intersectoral perspective of the economy and proposes an innovation flow matrix It also takes into account both business cycles and endogenous innovation in the unified New Keynesian dynamic stochastic general equilibrium DSGE model and examines how business cycles and other policy shocks affect endogenous innovation The unified treatment of the national innovation system from perspectives both inside and outside the black box using rigorous economic models and empirical analyses makes this an enlightening work shedding new light on innovation economics Spectral Theory of Value and Actual Economies Theodore Mariolis, Nikolaos Rodousakis, George Soklis, 2021-05-29 This book develops a unified treatment of the income distribution capital value problems with respect to actual economies and then gradually turns to the issues of effective demand and capitalist accumulation fluctuations from both political economy and economic policy perspectives That treatment on the one hand places produced means of production positive profits and capital accumulation at the centre of the analysis and on the other hand is analytically based on the modern control theory Hence the authors investigation is concerned with input output representations of actual single and joint production heterogeneous labour and open economies zeroes in on the characteristic value distributions of the system matrices and finally derives meaningful theoretical results consistent with the empirical evidence and vice versa The main topics addressed are the uncontrollable unobservable aspects of the real world economies the powerful low order spectral approximations and reconstructions of the inter industry structure of production value distributive variables relationships the critical constructive appraisal of both mainstream and radical theories of value the matrix demand multipliers and demand switching policies in heterogeneous capital worlds and the circular inter actions amongst income distribution effective demand accumulation and technical conditions of production Written on the occasion of the 60th anniversary of the publication of both Piero Sraffa's Production of Commodities by Means of Commodities and Rudolf E Kalman's paper On the general theory of control systems this book provides a consistent and comprehensive framework for theoretical empirical and economic policy research
